Memorial Service

The Grand Master called on the Very Reverend Steven H. DeMuth, Grand Chaplain, to present a service of remembrance for our departed brethren. His remarks were as follows:

My brothers, at this time we justly pause, remembering before God and man, those worthy brothers who were called from their earthly toil during the preceding year. I propose, through words and prayers, that we erect a fitting tribute to our fellows who are now called from labor to their eternal rest.

Let us pray for them.

Into your hands, O merciful God, we commend your servants. Acknowledge, we humbly beseech you, the sheep of your own fold, lambs of your own flock, and receive them into the arms of your mercy, into the blessed rest of everlasting peace, and into the glorious company of your beloved children in light. Amen.

Dear Friends: Let us pray for our brothers, that they may rest from their labors, and enter into the light of God's eternal sabbath rest.

Receive, O Lord, your servants, for they return to you, dust to dust, and ashes to ashes.

Into your hands we commend our brothers.

May they be welcomed into your dwelling place in Paradise.

Into your hands we commend our brothers.

May they gaze upon you, Lord, face to face, and taste the blessedness of eternal rest. Into your hands we commend our brothers.

May angels surround them, and patriarchs and matriarchs welcome them in peace. Into your hands we commend our brothers.

Almighty God, our Father in heaven, before whom live all who die in your grace: Receive our brothers into the courts of your heavenly dwelling place. Let their hearts and souls now ring out in joy to you, O Lord, the living God, and the God of those who live. This we ask in your Holy Name. Amen.

In faith we entrust you to the earth from which you came. Our thoughts and brotherly love accompany you and erect living monuments in our hearts:

Yet not to thine eternal resting-place
Shalt thou retire alone, nor couldst thou wish
Couch more magnificent. Thou shalt lie down
With patriarchs of the infant world—with kings,
The powerful of the earth—the wise, the good,
Fair forms, and hoary seers of ages past,
All in one mighty sepulchre. The hills
Rock-ribbed and ancient as the sun,—the vales
Stretching in pensive quietness between;
The venerable woods—rivers that move
In majesty, and the complaining brooks
That make the meadows green; and, poured round all,
Old Ocean's gray and melancholy waste,—
Are but the solemn decorations all
Of the great tomb of man.

Let us also pray for all who mourn, that they may cast their care on God, and know the consolation of his love.

Almighty God, look with pity upon the sorrows of your servants for whom we pray. Remember them, Lord, in mercy; nourish them with patience; comfort them with a sense of your goodness; lift up your countenance upon them; and give them peace. Amen.

As our dear brothers have given us the gift of lives well lived, we now are set to task, to hallow their example, and live the remainder of our days in the pattern of God's love for all mankind.

So live, that when thy summons comes to join
The innumerable caravan, which moves
To that mysterious realm, where each shall take
His chamber in the silent halls of death,
Thou go not, like the quarry-slave at night,
Scourged to his dungeon, but, sustained and soothed
By an unfaltering trust, approach thy grave,
Like one who wraps the drapery of his couch
About him, and lies down to pleasant dreams.

Jack R. Levitt
Grand Master 1986-87
San Diego Lodge No. 35
October 2, 1995 - July 2, 2022

The Grand Master called on Most Worshipful Brother Melvyn B. Stein to deliver the eulogy for Most Worshipful Brother Jack R. Levitt. His remarks were as follows:

EULOGY
JACK R. LEVITT

Most Worshipful Jack R. Levitt first saw this world on October 2, 1925 in Los Angeles, California. after high school he enlisted in the navy in 1944 and served for two years on submarines. He then attended Pepperdine college, worked as a movie projectionist, and received a college degree in 1949. Brother Jack received his law degree from University of Southern California law school in 1952, passed the bar exam in 1953; and in the same year became a master mason in Silver Trowel Lodge No. 415 in Los Angeles. From 1954 to 1956 he was a deputy district attorney in San Diego. It was during this period he married his wife Kay. For 15 years from 1957 to 1972 he was in the private practice of civil and criminal law.

In 1968 he became president of the San Diego county bar association and thereafter, chairman of the state bar resolutions committee, president of Defenders, Inc., and president of the San Diego Lawyer Referral Service.

At the age of 46, in 1972, he was appointed as a superior court judge by then governor Ronald Regan. Most Worshipful Jack served on the national panel of arbitrators for the American Arbitration Association, chaired the California Judicial Council Advisory Committee, became vice president of the San Diego County Law Library and Justice Foundation, presiding judge of the San Diego Superior Court appellate Committee, chairman of the California Judges Association Civil Law Procedures Committee (teaching many judges advanced rules of evidence and procedure), and was a diplomate of the American Board of Trial Advocates.

As a judge, he soon established a reputation of requiring attorneys appearing in his courtroom to be timely, present and well prepared. For those who came late, he rescheduled them to appear the next morning at 7:00 a.m.; and for attorneys, that was just too darn early. Most counsel learned that Judge Levitt would enter the courtroom exactly at the time set on calendar. There were few who failed twice to be timely.

When an attorney presented a written brief on the law or facts and was ready to make his oral argument, Judge Levitt would tell them that he had read their briefs, and not to reintegrate what they had already submitted in writing. This approach stopped many verbose lawyers who then became short on words.

In one case in which I was counsel, Judge Levitt asked the other attorney to distinguish between two cases he had cited in his written brief. The attorney replied he could not do so as the document had been prepared by another attorney. Judge Levitt had read the cases and wanted to know why the attorney was referring to cases he had not read. Judge Levitt ordered the embarrassed attorney to read the two cases and be prepared to present them in two hours in court. No wonder, members of the San Diego Bar Association presented Jack with a prickly cactus which Jack proudly displayed on his desk. He had become known as "Cactus Jack."

Masonically, Most Worshipful Jack affiliated with San Diego Lodge No. 35 in 1960 and became its master in 1979. He was also a charter member of Joseph L. Shell Daylight Lodge No. 837.

In 1971 Brother Jack was coroneted a 33rd degree inspector general honorary in the Scottish Rite, served as venerable master of the Lodge of Perfection, and became, what we now refer to as the personal representative of the S.G.I.G. for the Scottish Rite Valley of San Diego. he was also vice president of the California Scottish Rite Foundation. He enjoyed being a Scottish Rite ritual cast member in five different degrees, and on the Al Bahr Shrine ritual divan performing as potentate. He served for 18 years on the Grand Lodge Committee of Jurisprudence, as sovereign of the Red Cross of Constantine, received the honorary DeMolay Legion of Honor, and was a member of many masonic organizations.

Most Worshipful Levitt was installed as the grand master of masons in California and Hawaii in October 1986.

The 1987 annual communication over which he presided involved many controversial issues. There were 47 new resolutions, six carry-over matters, four grand master's recommendations, and four grand master's decisions.

In June of his year as grand master he formed a committee of 15 members to investigate the feasibility of the creating a grand lodge of Hawaii. During the next annual communication in 1988, past grand master Levitt presented a resolution to form such a grand lodge. The resolution was adopted.

One of the resolutions in 1987 sought to authorize the prohibited use of a "cipher ritual" book. several committees recommended a "no" vote, but the majority of the delegates voted in favor and the issue was carried over to the next annual communication when the resolution passed.

The use of liquor in masonic buildings was presented in ten resolutions. Three were held over and seven were defeated. Grand master Levitt's Recommendation No. 4 was to allow meetings in buildings where liquor was served. It was carried-over to 1988 when the delegates approved that recommendation.

At the 1987 session of Grand Lodge, additional ideas were being discussed. Among the resolutions not adopted were: to permit lodge business to be conducted in the first degree; accept advertising in masonic publications; and to reduce the proficiency requirements in the three degrees to knowing and understanding the obligations and modes of recognition.

Also during the 1987 year, many references were made to the United States constitution, as it was the 200th anniversary of its signing. A masonic float in the 1987 Pasadena Rose Parade celebrated that historic event.

Most Worshipful Levitt certainly had a challenging year as grand master, and his theme for the year was to keep things moving and to "accentuate the positive."

After moving to Montana in 1989 he affiliated with two lodges in Bozeman, conducting degrees and acting as officers coach. he became chairman of the Montana Grand Lodge Education and Research Committee and chairman of its jurisprudence committee. He received the Montana meritorious service medal and the distinguished service award.

Brother Levitt wrote: "my time on the bench taught me to be cautious in making decisions and to be as accurate as possible when doing so. The fraternity of freemasonry provided me with an outlet for learning, for expression, rich friendships and a basis for inspiration. It provided me an anchor, in addition to my religious upbringing, for my unfailing faith in god."

Most Worshipful Levitt further wrote that his guidelines for life were: "one's word is his bond; to respect the person and property of others; to never fail to keep a commitment...; to do what is right irrespective of any temptation; to place honor above riches; to perform any duty, no matter how small, as well as possible; to be punctual; to not light my own candle by diminishing another's; to be clean in mind and body; and to forgo instant gratification for lasting treasurers."

Most Worshipful Jack R. Levitt laid down his working tools on July 2, 2022 at the age of 96 being survived by his two adult children, Steve, a master mason, daughter Kristy and grandchildren.

He truly lived a masonic life; a man and brother of high moral and ethical standards, a man to be respected and admired; a man who adhered to the dictates of our masonic charge — to be exemplary in the discharge of his civil duties, paying due obedience to the law, practicing the virtues of temperance, fortitude, prudence and justice.

Howard Delane Kirkpatrick
Reading-Trinity Lodge No. 27
July 14, 1935 - January 25, 2022

The Grand Master thanked Most Worshipful Brother Stein and called on Most Worshipful Brother Bruce R. Galloway to deliver the eulogy for Most Worshipful Brother Howard D. Kirkpatrick. His remarks were as follows:

EULOGY
HOWARD DELANE KIRKPATRICK

Most Worshipful Howard Delane Kirkpatrick was a longtime friend and mentor, and I am truly honored to have been asked to deliver his eulogy. In addition to being a friend to most who knew him, Most Worshipful Howard was also a businessman, community leader, a masonic brother and grand master.

Most Worshipful Howard was born in Colorado in 1935 and grew up in Oklahoma. He moved to Chico to attend California State University, Chico after his discharge as an artillery sergeant in the US Army serving in Germany.

It was in what is now Chico-Leland Stanford Lodge No. 111 that he was raised to Master Mason on November 21, 1967. On November 11, 1969 he affiliated with Reading Lodge No. 254 in Redding. He lived in Redding with his wife, Jackie, and their four daughters. Most Worshipful Howard owned an independent insurance agency which still exists and is now owned and operated by two of his daughters.

Most Worshipful Howard had many admirable characteristics, but if I were to pick one that truly highlighted his life, it would be his commitment to service: to his family, his community and to masonry. He served on far too many boards and commissions to mention, however, I will say that he was elected to the Redding City Council and served a term as Redding's mayor. He was president and secretary of the Redding East Rotary Club. He was also a candidate for congress. Somehow while doing all of this he found time to write a novel.

Most Worshipful Howard served as Master of Reading Lodge No. 254 in 1976. He liked to tell stories, and one that I heard most often was one he told on himself. While serving as the master of the lodge, he received a call from Grand Lodge. He was told that they had not received reports of the July and August Stated Meetings. He informed them that Reading Lodge did not meet in July and August. It was too hot. In fact they had never met in those months. A very quick decision to rethink that policy was made.

Most Worshipful Howard served our fraternity in many capacities. He was an Inspector for four years, a member of the Masonic Speakers Bureau and active with the Leadership Retreats.

He was installed as grand master on October 15, 2003. He focused on strategic planning and proposed the formation of the Grand Master's Lodge. A supporter of the youth orders, he and Jackie were particularly involved with Job's Daughters.

After his term as grand master, Most Worshipful Howard returned to what is now Reading-Trinity Lodge No. 27 as secretary for four years. It was my honor to present the Golden Veterans Award to him.

Most Worshipful Howard was a big man, but he stood tall because of his internal qualifications.

Soft and safe to thee, my brother, be thy resting place.

JOHN RICHARD HEISNER
Grand Master 2018-2019
Amity Lodge No. 442
May 11, 1947–June 21, 2022

The Grand Master thanked Most Worshipful Brother Galloway and called on Most Worshipful Brother Frank Loui to deliver the eulogy for Most Worshipful Brother John R. Heisner. His remarks were as follows:

EULOGY
JOHN RICHARD HEISNER

MOST WORSHIPFUL JOHN RICHARD HEISNER entered into the Celestial Lodge on June 21, 2022. A native Californian, he was born on May 11, 1947 in Dinuba California.

After receiving his Bachelor's degree from the University of Oregon in 1969, John obtained his law degree from the University of San Diego School of Law in 1972 and was admitted to the California Bar Association in 1973. He worked as a Deputy District Attorney in San Diego for over 13 years before entering private practice. Upon retirement he was president of his own firm.

John was raised a Master Mason in Eugene Lodge No. 11 under the jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge of Oregon on March 5, 1969. He affiliated with Amity Lodge No. 442 in San Diego in 1985 and served as its master in 2004. In 2013 the lodge presented him with the Hiram Award.

He served masonry and our Grand Lodge for over 53 years. He was an inspector, served on the Jurisprudence Committee, was a founding member of the Public Schools Committee for San Diego. He served on all Grand Lodge constitutional boards. He was appointed as Grand Orator in 2011 by Most Worshipful Frank Loui.

Most Worshipful Heisner served as the 151st Grand Master of California in 2016-2017. During his tenure, he led a contingent of over 170 brethren and friends to Ireland, Scotland, and England to celebrate the 300th Anniversary of the first Masonic Grand Lodge formed in London in 1717.

He was also a member of the San Diego York Rite Bodies, Al Bahr Shrine, Southern California Past Masters Association, Red Cross of Constantine, Rosicrucian College, a fellow of the Philalethes Society and a founding member of Lux Lodge No. 846. In 2014 he was invested with the DeMolay Honorary Legion of Honor.

Most Worshipful Heisner was also active in Scottish Rite. He served as Venerable Master in the Valley of San Diego and was honored with the rank and decoration of Honorary Inspector General of the 33º in 2011.

After his term as Grand Master, he served the California Scottish Rite Foundation as Vice President and General Counsel. He was the Personal Representative of the Sovereign Grand Inspector General for the Valley of Palm Springs until his passing. He also continued to serve as Chairman for both the California Masonic Foundation and Earl Warren Recognition Committee.

John married Margo Cook on April 17, 1982. They have four children and nine grandchildren.

He was active in his community serving as trustee for the San Diego

Maritime Museum, San Diego Chapter of Saint Jude's Hospital, and as an Adjunct Professor at the University of San Diego School of Law. He was also an author, publishing four books on the meaning of Masonic symbolism.

John will be remembered for his leadership, kindness, compassion, fairness and humility. He was always willing to share his vast knowledge with others and provided guidance when asked. His actions and thoughts were always for the benefit of the Craft and masonry. He will be greatly missed by all who knew him.

Until we meet again – farewell, my brother.

The Grand Organist provided a musical selection, following which the Grand Master thanked both the Grand Organist and Most Worshipful Brother Loui.

Presentation of the Joe Jackson Award

This year, the Masonic Homes of California and our Grand Lodge were pleased to present an award in memory of our late brother, Joe Jackson.

Joe Jackson, a Mason for 60 years and Hiram Award recipient, served Joseph L. Shell Daylight Lodge No. 837 and Heartland Lodge No. 576 for 17 years as secretary, assistant secretary, treasurer and chaplain.

Joe exemplified Masonic relief and brotherly love. He reached out to members and widows on a weekly basis; assisted with numerous applications to MOS and the Masonic Homes; frequently called Masonic Assistance to check the status of his member's applications; and helped expedite the paperwork process. He connected members and their families not only to Masonic services, but also to community resources and programs for veterans. If Joe Jackson was involved in providing relief, the outcome was guaranteed to be a positive one.

Through his tireless efforts and determination to improve and grow outreach, Joe was a catalyst for launching the successful Lodge Outreach Strategic Initiative in Division IX. Joe passed away in 2012, leaving a legacy that set the foundation for extending Masonic relief.

The Grand Master went on to explain that the Joe Jackson Lodge Outreach Award is given to a lodge that has demonstrated excellence in outreach to their members and widows. The Joe Jackson Lodge Outreach Award was Kern River Valley Lodge No. 827, for their extraordinary outreach efforts this year.

Remarks from the Youth Orders

The Grand Master called on the four youth leaders of the three Masonic youth orders in California. Miss Natalie Lira, Miss California Job's Daughter, represented Job's Daughters International and gave her remarks.

MISS NATALIE LIRA
Miss California Job's Daughters

Good morning Most Worshipful Wilkins, Grand Lodge Officers, Honored East, family, and friends. My name is Natalie Lira, your current Miss California Job's Daughter. Thank you for inviting me to speak today on behalf of the Job's Daughters of California.

I would first like to congratulate the Grand Lodge officers on an amazing and successful year. Your dedication to philanthropy through the funds raised for Ukraine Relief and celebrating 100 years of Public Schools Month really highlights that the Masons of California are dedicated to making our world a better place.

I would also like to extend my best wishes to the incoming Grand Lodge Officers. You gentlemen are pivotal leaders in our Masonic family and I thank you for continuing the great work of the Grand Lodge into this next year.

At this time, I'd like to introduce you to some of our Grand Bethel Officers. My spirited sisters are passionate about Job's Daughters and eager to share their love of the order with you as well.

As we are all looking toward the future, I invite you to remember our past. Job's Daughters was founded in 1920 by Ethel T. Wead Mick during the height of the women's suffrage movement! This was also the time when the 19th amendment was ratified, asserting a woman's right to vote. Mrs. Mick's vision of bringing together young women has developed into over 100 years of empowering young ladies to realize their potential as leaders- much like in your lodges, all over the world, where members are given a space to refine themselves within a brotherhood of like-minded men. We, in our respective organizations, share the same goals of building and crafting leaders by empowering individuals to be their best selves and encourage confidence.

"Crafting Leadership" is such an important theme. It is so fitting that your theme for this year and my theme "Bee the change you want to see in the world" go hand in hand. As Job's Daughters in California moves into its centennial year, we must be the change to ensure our orders continue to move forward. Please know, you have crafted leadership throughout Job's Daughters through your wisdom, guidance, and support. The positive impact you have all made while visiting our bethels, supporting our fundraisers, and providing words of encouragement has shaped us into the organization and the leaders we are today.

Leaders like myself...

Five years ago, I walked into the Bellflower Masonic Lodge and my life changed forever. When I was introduced to Job's Daughters, I was scared, shy, and nervous to talk to people I didn't know. Now, I have gained the confidence to speak in front of you all today. I, myself, was crafted into a leader. At the time I did not know my own potential. With the guidance and empowerment of the leaders that came before me, I found my voice. I found my place in which I can both be the change and continue to aid in crafting the leaders of our future.

In my role as Miss California Job's Daughter, I am your ambassador to our Order. My goal is to ensure all California Masons have knowledge about Job's Daughters, know where they can go to support their local bethels, and generate enthusiasm about your daughters, granddaughters, sisters, and nieces joining our Order. After the session, I would like to connect with each of you about the opportunity to speak at your lodge about Job's Daughters. By promoting the welfare of each other's organizations, our Masonic family strengthens and grows.

Thank you, once again, for the opportunity to speak with you this morning. I look forward to this next year and visiting with so many of you along the way.

Thank you.

Mr. Michael Cherry, Master Councilor

Northern California and Hawaii, DeMolay International

Most Worshipful, Honored East, and Masons of California,

Good morning.

I am Michael Cherry, Master Councilor of the Northern California DeMolay Association. I bring greetings on behalf of my Executive Officer, Dad Terry Peters, and my fellow jurisdictional officers. Will all who are here please rise for introduction.

I'd like to start off by reading a quote from Denzel Washington. "Show me a successful individual and I'll show you someone who had real positive influences in his or her life. I don't care what you do for a living—if you do it well I'm sure there was someone cheering you on or showing the way. A mentor." In a lot of ways I can see this quote relating to our Masonic family. More specifically, the relationship of the Masons and youth orders. You hear all the time in speeches by masonic or eastern star members to the youth expressing that, "The youth are the future. The future Masters in lodges, CEOs of businesses, or even presidents." While yes that may be true and many of us have a bright future ahead, I can personally say that is due to the role models and mentors that we have, from Masons and Advisors such as yourselves.

In my 6.5 years in DeMolay I consider myself to be pretty successful, and I can show you my mentors. I have had the privilege to meet amazing individuals from all over California and some of them have made an impact on me, not only in my DeMolay career, but my life as a whole. For instance Dad Dave Killmer, has been a role model to me ever since I first joined Roseville Chapter in 2016. Whether it be him saving lives as a firefighter, being an amazing father and husband to his family, or having hours long conversations with him about my future in the car, Dad Killmer has always been there for me and I am thankful to have him as a mentor. Perhaps the most influential person in my life would be my father, Daniel Cherry. He is a member of Roseville Lodge No. 222 and not only has he been there for me for all 18 years of my life but, he has had such an impact on me in my public speaking, ritual, and so much more in helping me in DeMolay. And outside he taught me how to find things that I love such as Sports, racing, serving the community, and help set my sights on becoming a California Highway Patrol Officer.

All of the members of Masonic youth orders and I are so lucky to be a part of this wonderful masonic family. As I look around this morning, I see hundreds, if not a thousand individuals who are ready to become mentors and I can think of thousands of kids who need them. So I challenge you all to make an impact. No matter how big or small. Go to a chapter, bethel, or assembly event and you will see the opportunity to help someone in some way that may stick with them for the rest of their lives.

Before I end my speech, I would like to invite you all to Northern California DeMolays annual Convention at the Hyatt Regency in Burlingame, California from November 25th-27th. Registration can be found on our social media and on our website of norcaldemolay.com. This year we are celebrating our theme of "Uniting our Kingdom" by holding a Convention in Camelot. So join in on the fun in bringing your best medieval costume for the Friday night banquet and costume contest.

It has been an absolute honor and pleasure to speak this morning.

Thank you.

Miss Sydney Warney, Grand Worthy Advisor

International Order of Rainbow for Girls in California

Most Worshipful Grand Master Wilkins, officers and members of Grand Lodge, distinguished and honored guests and friends of California Rainbow. Hello! I am very honored to be here with you all today in beautiful San Francisco and thank you for the opportunity to speak on behalf of California Rainbow. I would like to introduce some of my fellow grand officers who are here with me today and our state parents for Grand Assembly 2023.

Close your eyes and picture for a moment an early spring morning. As city employees, government workers, and families dropping off their children begin what they think is a normal day, then the ground begins to shake, buildings begin to crumble, and windows across the city shatter. And then, all of a sudden, silence. The day I just described was a reality for the people of Oklahoma City on April 19, 1995. An act of hate, an explosion so loud it could be heard by people nearly fifty miles away, took the lives of 168 people. That was the day the clock stopped at 9:02 am.

This summer members of California Rainbow had the opportunity to visit the memorial for the Oklahoma City bombing. The memorial stands as a place of quiet reflection as it honors those who were killed, those who survived, and those whose lives changed forever after the attack. While the memorial alone is striking, one of the most impactful things to me was a large almost 100-year-old American elm tree which stands in the Rescuers' Orchard.

This tree, known as the Survivor Tree, bore witness to the violence that took place that day and withstood the full force of the attack. The tree's survival was questioned by many, its trunk and branches were weakened by the explosion and littered with debris and evidence. The tree easily could have fallen victim to the attack, but despite everything it had faced, it survived. Its roots and its one hundred years of history held it in place. Not only did the tree survive, it grew and became a symbol of resilience and hope around the world because like the people of Oklahoma City, with the support of both the local and global community, it endured what most thought would break it.

Resilience is crucial in keeping organizations like ours standing for years to come. Our roots, and the values and memories associated with them, have held strong thus far because our members and the community that supports them believe in the worth they hold. In order to keep our Masonic Family strong, we need to go back to caring for our roots, and refocus on why we are here today. What is it that makes you love your organization so deeply? What is it that keeps you coming back year after year, event after event? For me, Rainbow has always been my second family. A place where I am constantly surrounded by people like me who have a passion for giving back and learning how to grow as leaders together so we can make a difference in the world. We are bonded in sisterhood and service, and it is this community and family that make us so special. These are the unique qualities that will help us continue to stay resilient through other trying events in our future. It is up to us to build the future we want for our organizations.

The Survivor Tree never would have remained standing if it weren't for the people who believed in its value and the importance and history it held within its branches. Like the tree, our organization isn't able to thrive without adequate support from people like you. If you believe in the importance and potential that Rainbow has in developing the futures of young women please stand up. Now stay standing if you have ever attended a Rainbow function. Continue to stay standing if you have ever brought your daughter, granddaughter, niece, other female family member or friend to a Rainbow event or if you have ever served on an advisory board. Look at the people around you. This is the community that has truly helped to keep us standing strong for the past 100 years. You can now all be seated.

In two short years, California will be celebrating the 100-year anniversary of the first Rainbow assembly in our state, San Francisco #1, which opened in 1924. Much like the Survivor Tree, San Francisco Assembly is a representation of California Rainbow's history and strength as it has provided the roots and inspiration for other assemblies to follow. It is a defining piece of California Rainbow, and it is in danger. Currently, San Francisco Assembly has one active member. If we don't do something now, this assembly will fall. Its roots are in danger and the impact of the potential loss of this assembly would be astronomical across all of California Rainbow. As we try to rebuild and retain our membership, closing the first assembly would cause all others to lose hope. The sisterhood our organization provides would be lost and there would be entire communities of girls who would never get to experience the impact that being a Rainbow Girl would have on their future lives. We need to work now to preserve Rainbow not just for ourselves, but for the generations of young women that will come after us. To those of you who stayed seated after the second question I asked, those who have never attended a Rainbow function, now is your time to stand with California Rainbow. There are over 330 Masonic lodges in California, 13 of those reside here in San Francisco. We are asking for your help. If each Masonic lodge introduced just one new member to Rainbow, reached out to a current member to encourage her to stay involved, or had one of your members serve on an Advisory Board, the impact could be the difference in our survival.

If you stopped by our Rainbow booth during the past couple of days, did you see the listing of all of the assemblies in California? I challenge you to reach out and volunteer in some way so you can make an impact on the assemblies in your area. Assemblies throughout the state are holding membership events, fundraisers, and canned food drives. Make a pledge to support us and help us grow, especially for those of you who live here in San Francisco.

San Francisco Assembly No.1 is our Survivor Tree, but it is only the beginning. With your help, its success can serve as an inspiration for growth and rebirth for assemblies across California. Be the difference for California Rainbow. Take a stand and you too will be a part of our history, our family, our survival.

Thank you again Most Worshipful Grand Master Wilkins for inviting me to speak today. We hope to see as many of you as possible at our Broadway Bound: A Glittering Marquee in 2023 Grand Assembly sessions which will be held in Visalia, California from April 1st - 4th. Thank you.

Mr. Chris Arnold, Master Councilor

Southern California, DeMolay International

Most Worshipful Wilkins, Distinguished Guests, Masons of California, Friends, and Family

Good morning.

I would like to extend our gratitude for being invited to speak on behalf of the Southern California Jurisdiction of DeMolay. Joining me in representing the Southern California Jurisdiction of DeMolay are Brother Jody Williams, the Jurisdiction Deputy Master Councilor, Miss Victoria Keister, the Jurisdiction Sweetheart, and Miss Pandora Hood the Jurisdiction Princess.

On behalf of our jurisdiction I would like to thank all of the Masons for their continued support to our organization.

For the past year your theme has been Crafting Leadership, to help prepare those today, to be the future leaders of tomorrow lead the future of tomorrow.

This very concept is what Masonry and our Founder, Dad Frank S. Land had in mind when he helped create our order over 100 years ago. He understood the importance and impact that the Masons have on youth, in guiding them and working with them. So he created the Order of DeMolay, in order to instill into young men the virtues that will help them achieve their dreams.

Our theme this year "Teamwork makes the DeMolay Dream work" is closely connected to your own theme, because without the support from which you give, us DeMolay would not be able to reach our true potential. It is from this beneficial relationship that we are able to achieve our dreams.

Our dreams to live lives in such a way that will be a credit to all the guidance and assistance that was afforded to us by our advisors and those who helped us while we were young. Just as it is a Masons duty to help their community, we ask for you to continue in your support of our order, to help shape the young men into a glorious example for which we can all be proud of.

Thank you.

Grand Master's Youth Support Award

The Grand Master announced that four brothers had been selected to receive the Grand Master's Youth Support Award to recognize their outstanding contribution to the Masonic youth orders. The Grand Master then called upon Most Worshipful Russell E. Charvonia, Past Grand Master, Chairman of the Grand Lodge Youth Orders Committee, to assist him in presenting the Grand Master's Youth Support Award to the following honorees:

Simon I. Dias

For more than two decades, Simon Dias has worked closely with, and faithfully served, the members of California Rainbow. His steady support and willingness to involve himself in the organization have benefitted its members and set an example for other adult leaders to follow.

Bro. Dias has worked at both the local and state level for California Rainbow. That began in his support of local assemblies in the Riverside area, which he continues today as an Advisory Board member of the Helen G. McCallum Assembly No. 207. In 2008, he was appointed to the Grand Executive Committee of the state organization, which he still serves on. In addition to that work, he's overseen the floor setup at the annual Grand Assembly, including leading the "white coats" team who transition the floor throughout the event. In 2018, he was selected to serve as State Rainbow Dad for the Revolutionary Rhinos. He has also served as General Chairman of the Grand Assembly, and in 2019 led efforts to hold the Grand Assembly in Ontario.

Bro. Dias has been a Master Mason since 1996, and in 2001 received the Hiram Award from Riverside No. 635 (now Redlands No. 300).

He is a proud advocate for Rainbow for Girls who's willing to work behind the scenes for the betterment of the organization. His support has helped create an environment of support and excellence in which its members can thrive.

Thomas A. Steig

As a mentor, leader, and volunteer, Tom Steig has left a positive mark on the greater Masonic community of the East Bay. Since 2006, he has been a member of Orinda No. 122, where he was lodge master in 2011 and today serves as treasurer. In 2021, his lodge recognized him with its Hiram Award.

During much of that time, Bro. Steig has also been closely involved with the Masonic youth orders, particularly Orinda Bethel No. 218 of Job's Daughters, which he currently serves as Associate Bethel Guardian. In 2019, he was Associate Grand Guardian of California. Additionally, he has worked for several years and in several positions with the Job's Daughters Foundation, helping handle often-complicated donations.

In addition to his work with Job's Daughters, Bro. Steig also helped launch the Lamorinda chapter of DeMolay. Through his skill, hard work, and dedication, Tom has left a proud legacy for future generations to follow.

Gary L. Ricafrente

Through good times and bad, Gary Ricafrente has been a champion for DeMolay in his community. As a member of Gen. Douglas MacArthur No. 853 and Valley No. 135, he has served in several lodge officers' positions. But it's his work with the local DeMolay chapter that has been transformational.

Bro. Ricafrente was among the charter members of the chapter's first Advisory Council and served as its first Chapter Advisor. For that, he was awarded the Zerubbabel Key by the organization. In 2015, he assumed the role of Chairman of the Advisory Council, a position he continues to hold.

In 2020, the pandemic forced the chapter he helped found into an existential crisis. Through his unwavering leadership, Gary helped steady the chapter and worked with new advisors to rebuild its membership. In 2022, the chapter has grown significantly, adding 13 new members, with several more prospects petitioning for membership. For that, DeMolay has recognized his devotion to the youth order by investing him with the Cross of Honor for service as an adult advisor.

Donald H. Peterson Jr.

Through his dedication, enthusiasm, and service to DeMolay, Donald Peterson has been an inspiration to generations of young people.

Brother Peterson, a longtime member of Orange Grove No. 293, is currently the Executive Officer for the Southern California jurisdiction of DeMolay, as well as an active member of the Supreme Council of DeMolay International. Over 25 years, he has served in several roles for the organization at the chapter, league, jurisdiction, and international level. He was first initiated into the Yorba Linda chapter of DeMolay in 1981. As an adult leader, he has served on the planning committee for the DeMolay International Convention, and for many years was responsible for the planning, management, and leadership of the jurisdiction's Grand Banquet. During that time, he helped transform the event from a five-hour marathon into a two-and-a-half-hour celebration.

For all his management skills, Brother Peterson is happiest when he's working directly with the youth members. Due in large part to his mentorship, three of his past jurisdiction master councilors have gone on to become international master councilors or congress secretaries. He was even asked to officiate the wedding of a past jurisdiction master councilor and past princess.

Among Don's many honors are the Founders' Membership Award and the Guild of the Leather Apron as advisor of the year. He has been awarded both the degree of Chevalier and the Legion of Honor, the organization's highest honors.

Grand Master's Mason of the Year Award

The Grand Master announced that two brothers had been selected to receive the Grand Master's Mason of the Year Award to recognize their outstanding dedication and service. The Grand Master then called upon the Grand Secretary, to assist him in presenting the Grand Master's Mason of the Year Award to the following honorees:

Arthur A. Pasquinelli

They call Art Pasquinelli the "maker of Masons," and for good reason. Since he was first initiated into Freemasonry in 1968, he has been a trusted advisor and mentor to generations of members. A past master of Golden Rule No. 479 in 1976, he has also served as officers' coach since 2009, and was twice a Grand Lodge inspector for his district.

In 1990, Worshipful Brother Pasquinelli was given the Hiram Award in recognition of his lifelong work on behalf of his lodge. And in the 32 years since then, he's only continued to be of service.

Brother Pasquinelli's importance to the lodge transcends titles or awards, however. Instead, it's embodied in his willingness to pitch in, no matter how small or large the need. He often helps other lodges in his area as a coach or in performing a degree, or even painting the walls. Just recently, he helped the San Jose Masonic Center rewire its lights.

That spirit extends to his work on the Santa Clara Masonic Officers' Association, which he has served through numerous committees, including fundraising for several events. He often assists the district inspectors of the South Bay at Officers' School of Instruction events. More than that, though, he is always available and ready to lend his hand—or his ear. He lends his counsel and advice freely, and is always there to serve as a sounding board.

In addition to his work with his blue lodge, Worshipful Brother Pasquinelli has also been a devoted member of the Scottish Rite bodies, serving in several leadership positions. In 2018, he was recognized by a large gathering of Masonic leaders for his 50 years in Masonry. However, his true legacy is seen in the countless Masons of the South Bay who have over the many years benefitted from his vast knowledge and close friendship.

Gerald S. Beller

All Masons take an obligation to care for and serve their brothers and their families in times of need. Few Masons put this promise more clearly into action than does Gerry Beller.

Brother Beller was initiated into Freemasonry in 1958 in Highland No. 748 and raised the following year. In 2004, he affiliated with Fox-Coates Daylight No. 842, which he served for many years as lodge chaplain. He is also a member of the Al Malaikah Shrine and the Scottish Rite. Since 2021, he has been a licensed Masonic funeral master, performing the sacred ritual with the required reverence at more than 100 such events. In 2007, Brother Beller was recognized with the Hiram Award; in 2009, he received his 50-year Anniversary Award. Now, at age 87, he has been in Freemasonry for more than 63 years.

However, it isn't just his longevity that marks him as a leader among Masons. Rather, it's his ongoing efforts to provide and care for others that stands as a testament to his belief in Masonic principles.

Brother Beller devotes much of his time to caring for elderly or distressed members of the lodge and their widows. He drives them to doctors' appointments. He takes them shopping. He brings them food. He maintains an extensive list of lodge members and widows who he calls regularly—sometimes several times a week—to check in on them. He keeps a stockpile of medical equipment, including wheelchairs, canes, and walkers, that he lends out to anyone in need.

Brother Beller does this work without any thought of recognition or reward. And yet his example speaks volumes and serves as an inspiration to all.

The Grand Master then gave his closing remarks and expressed his honor and privilege at having been given the opportunity to serve the craft as Grand Master.

The Grand Lodge Officers retired and prepared for the Installation of incoming Grand Lodge Officers.

GRAND MASTER'S ANNUAL MESSAGE

Brethren of the Grand Lodge,

Our California Masonic Code, Section 404.130 (F) requires the Grand Master to present at each Annual Communication a written message setting forth all his official acts during the year, the general condition of Masonry within this jurisdiction and his decisions and recommendations of legislation that he deems necessary or appropriate for the welfare of the craft. The proceedings for this Annual Communication will contain the detailed reporting of my stewardship of these responsibilities and powers with which you invested me. Later today, I will separately present for your consideration the decisions and recommendations which I have made or proposed. This afternoon, however, I will report on the highlights from the detailed report, on the general condition of our beloved craft.

A year ago, I started this Masonic year with the theme of crafting Leadership, in ourselves, in our lodges, and in our communities. Our emblem–the beehive–made the theme come alive. The lesson of the Beehive from our ritual reminded us of the core principle of showing up and working hard. The bees are arranged in teams of 3, 5, and 7, and reminded us that leadership is found throughout our craft and among our Entered Apprentices, Fellow Crafts, and Master Masons. Throughout the year, we all met on the level. We showed up in our lodges and in our communities and made a difference. We did this with the help and support of our spouses and partners. As the bee and butterfly are the pollinators in nature, we served as social pollinators this year. By showing up and working hard, by being ourselves, and by living our values, we were examples of leadership within our craft and in our communities.

By working full-time while serving as Grand Master, I hope I have been able to model for our craft the important use of the twenty-four inch gauge, and what it enables us to accomplish when supported by our Great Architect of the Universe and a loving family. Leadership at every level within our fraternity is accessible and possible with balance and a reliance on our higher power.

As I look back on the last year, I clearly see our growth as individual Masons, as lodges, and as recognized and appreciated members of our communities. I see this growth through the lens of our 2025 Plan. I'll highlight our impact through the plan pillars of True Friendship, Diversity and Harmony, and in Positive Awareness.

True Friendship

In visiting lodges throughout the state this year, I realized it was not the number of lodge events that really mattered to me. What meant the most to me was meeting my brothers on the level and establishing a connection – and a true friendship. This year, I have been able to make new friends and to strengthen the bonds of friendship with the ones that I've made before. Working in the Fairfield area, it was a pleasure to visit lodges in the Sacramento area, the Central Valley, Sonoma County, and throughout the Bay Area. These visits were for significant events like 100th, 125th, or 150th lodge anniversary, installation of officers, and the presentation of four Hiram Awards, four Golden Veteran Awards, and eight Diamond Jubilee Awards. These visits also included degree conferrals and, sometimes simply attending a stated meeting. With these visits, I was able to create new friendships and connections with Temple Lodge No. 14 in Sonoma and Santa Rosa Scottish Rite bodies. Here, we were crafting leadership within ourselves. We are finding that our lodges are where our best friends are made and where we can become our best selves.

Diversity and Harmony

One of our goals in the diversity and harmony pillar is to strengthen relationships with other grand lodges in California and across our border in Mexico. This year, we developed and strengthened our relationships with our brothers in the Most Worshipful Prince Hall Grand Lodge of California. It was a pleasure to attend their Annual Communication and to enjoy times of fellowship with their leadership over a meal. They have become a strong partner with our Masons4Mitts teams throughout the state. We work together on the scholarship programs of the California Masonic Foundation. Together we celebrated the 100th anniversary of the Stockton Masonic Center where our lodges from both grand lodges meet and we had a wide variety of civic leaders participate in that event.

For 43 years, we have joined with our brothers in Baja California and Baja California Sur to celebrate our special relationship and learn from the similarities and differences of our grand lodges in an event called The Conference of the Three Californias. This year, the Grand Lodge of California hosted the conference in San Diego. The conference included the conferral of the First Degree by Ignacio Zaragoza Lodge No. 3 and Cuauhtémoc Lodge No. 15, which provided us insight into the ritual used in Mexican states and the opportunities in could provide to us in California to experience it with them.

Additionally, we have made an extra effort over the last few years to establish mutual recognition with all of the state grand lodges in Mexico, extending our fraternal connections across the country. Later our grand secretary will report on the considerable progress we have made with that goal.

In addition to the Prince Hall Grand Lodge, I was able to personally visit the Grand Lodges of Iran in Exile, the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts, the Grand Lodge of Kansas, and the Grand Lodge of the Philippines. We also had representatives visit the brethren of Alaska, Baja California, Hawaii, Washington, Oregon, and Missouri. Attending the Grand Lodge of the Philippines was especially memorable for Liz and I, as we were able to take part in public ceremonies to honor national heroes and to connect with the former California lodges that initially formed the Grand Lodge of the Philippines.

Our relationships around the world are strong and we are especially united in California and the western states and provinces.

Masonic lodges are places where diversity and harmony are meant to prevail. Throughout history, Masonic lodges have been venues for people from different parts of the globe and different religious, political, social and world views to come together and work in harmony.

When diversity and harmony breaks down, a lodge begins to lose its Masonic identity. It starts to look and act more like an ordinary social club powered by cliques and personal ambitions. We must constantly strive to maintain harmony in our lodges and maintain a diverse and compatible membership.

This year significant progress was made in restoring harmony to Van Nuys Lodge No. 450. After four years of continuous suspension, I was pleased to personally return the charter to the worshipful master. This was the result of the hard work and dedication by the new lodge leadership, and of the support, patience, and perseverance of their Inspector. For too long the lodge relied on one brother to manage everything, which led to a lack of participation and disharmony. The lodge reached a point where it did not have enough brothers to open the lodge. Together with the inspector, the newly appointed lodge leadership dug deep into their roster and brought back experienced brothers and they recruited brothers from other lodges to affiliate and fill key positions. As a result, the lodge met every requirement to return the charter an operate as a regular and well-governed lodge. If the lodge continues on this path, avoiding any temptation to return to its former ways, it will have a bright future. This serves as a reminder to all of us as Lodge brethren. It is we, the brethren, whose suffrage puts individuals into positions of authority. Lack of governance and oversight on our part can lead to disharmony and the type of problems that result in the loss of a lodge charter. I want to congratulate the master, Wor. Vahe Hamalian, and the officers and members of Van Nuys Lodge who stepped up and provided important leadership. I also wish to thank the inspector, Wor. Leland Celestre, for his good work.

As we close this year, there is only one suspended lodge. Fraternidad de las Americas No. 867 in Union City has been unable to meet for more than a year. The lodge could not assemble five members in good standing in order to meet to surrender the charter. Tomorrow, we will consider the revocation of the charter.

Our diversity and harmony pillar also includes building stronger connections with Masonic organizations and youth orders. This year, I had the privilege of attending several events with the York Rite, Scottish Rite, Shrine, Eastern Star, Jobs Daughters, DeMolay, and the Rainbow Girls. I was especially proud to be at the Grand Assembly to celebrate 100 years of the International Order of Rainbow for Girls.

Positive Awareness

Positive awareness is the third pillar of our plan. Through this pillar, we seek to increase the number of Masons who share their membership with their families and friends and increase awareness of our good work among the general public.

Like many of you, I took part in the "I'm a Mason" social media campaign this summer, sharing with my friends the reasons I became a Mason. Because of our combined work, tens of thousands of people read our stories.

We have also been active in our communities earning media attention. We had media coverage of the Stockton 100th anniversary event with Prince Hall, where the city historian, city council, mayor, assemblyman, and congressional representative were present. At several other events, from Palm Springs to Downey San Luis Obispo, Chico, and up to Redding and Eureka, we had civic leaders present at our events and ceremonies. Our visit to the Philippines was instrumental in raising positive awareness of Masonry in Manila, as our public ceremonies were televised on local news.

Examples of our most public event, the laying of a ceremonial cornerstone, were conducted in Eureka at the Veterans Memorial, in Chico at the Veterans' Administration Clinic, in Redding at a Veterans' Administration Clinic, at the new Pavilion at our Masonic Homes in Union City, and at the Mayers Memorial Hospital in Fall River Mills. We also dedicated the Sedam Terrace and broke ground for the Veterans Memorial at the Masonic Homes in Union City.

Beyond our cornerstone ceremonies, we have had several opportunities to raise the awareness of Masonry within our communities. In Susanville in Lassen County, we rededicated the grave site of Brother Peter Lassen with the local lodge, the Rotary, and Boy Scouts. We were also participants in the Newhall Fourth of July parade and in the Nevada City Constitution Day Parade. Our Masons Night at the Ballpark events provided significant exposure for our craft, including on-field presentations, media interviews, and television and radio coverage.

Getting outside of our lodges, our brethren actively supported their local communities, like San Dimas No. 428, which raised tons of food and supplies for the local food pantry in Twenty-Nine Palms. Elk Grove No. 173 contributed thousands of pounds of beans and rice to the local community. Numerous lodges sponsored Red Cross blood donation drives in their buildings at a time of critical blood shortages. Old West No. 813 partnered with the Prince Hall Dandridge Lodge No. 55 and the Red Cross on a blood drive. The Masons of California came together in a time of need and contributed over $75,000 to the International Red Cross in support of relief to the Ukrainian people. This year, Masons4Mitts surpassed the $1 million mark in support for the San Francisco Giants Community Foundation's Junior Giants Program, as well as making record-breaking contributions to our other MLB partners. This partnership with the San Francisco Giants, the Los Angeles Angels, the Los Angeles Dodgers, and the San Diego Padres puts us in the public eye as an organization doing great deeds for youth in our community.

Our support of public education this year included the celebration of the Teachers of the Year in Sacramento and several public school events in Northern and Southern California. I greatly appreciate all of the Public Education Advisory Committees for their hard work in partnering with local schools to recognize teachers and students as part of our September Public Schools Month. We are proud to partner with national literacy leader Raising A Reader, which supports our youngest elementary students by engaging families in shared reading routines at home. This year we are expanding to 84 new classrooms, bringing our statewide total to 823 classrooms, well on our way to reaching our goal of 1,000 elementary classrooms in the state.

Lastly, our support of Masonic youth groups is a key element in creating a positive awareness of Masonry within our communities. Our youth are the leaders of the future for our craft and definitely are leaders today. I am proud to have met and built relationships with these dynamic youth leaders. I can learn as much about leadership from them as they can from me. I have found that listening to their input and feedback is critical to providing the experience that they desire and deserve. We are celebrating 100 years of Rainbow and have just celebrated the same anniversary for both Job's Daughters and DeMolay. I am concerned that without changes, the next hundred years are in doubt for these groups, and there is significant concern about even the next 10 years.

I would like to take the time to publicly thank all of those that made this year possible. First is to my wife, Liz. Without her support over the past year, I don't see how I could have fulfilled my duties as grand master while working full-time. Like all of the other spouses and partners, we are unable to be active Masons without their support. I'd also like to thank Grand Marshal Chris Trueblood and his partner, Brian, for their support throughout the year. To the deputy grand master and grand wardens, this has been an amazing year with excellent communication and coordination to ensure that there is solid continuity in our leadership direction over the next several years. Our craft will be well served by your leadership in the coming years. To the grand treasurer, grand secretary, and the Grand Lodge staff, I am ever proud to have been able to serve our beloved craft with you. Your professionalism is known throughout the world and we are the benchmark for how a grand lodge should be operated. You have been ever present with wise counsel and advice and I am extremely grateful. To our grand lecturer, you have been able to ensure that we have come back from the time of Covid shutdown with a spark for our ritual that will be needed as we confer degrees upon so many men that have been waiting so patiently to join our fraternity.

Lastly, to all the brethren of the Grand Lodge of California, thank you for entrusting this important duty to me. I am eternally grateful for this time to have been able to meet as many brothers as I have in so many different lodges.

Meeting you on the level as brothers has broadened my experience as a Mason and made me so proud to be part of our gentle craft.

Masonry is a solitary journey that we take together. That journey requires leaders to guide the way, provide vision, set goals, and make a difference. That difference is found when we were "crafting leadership" within ourselves, our lodges, and our communities. By building ourselves as living stones, we create lodges that have the ability to be cornerstones of our communities.

Changing our communities for good through our works of service, building up our lodges, promoting positive experiences for our brethren, and living our Masonic tenants daily clearly demonstrated that we were indeed "crafting leadership."

May the Great Architect of the Universe preserve and protect our lodges and our ancient craft and keep you and your families in good health.

Fraternally submitted,

Jeffery M. Wilkins, Grand Master of Masons in California

Appendix B

REPORT OF THE DEPUTY GRAND MASTER

2022-2023 GRAND LODGE BUDGET

Dear Brethren,

FIRST, I WANT TO THANK THE MASTERS AND WARDENS and other members of the Grand Lodge for the support and confidence they have offered as I have discharged the important duty of preparing the budget for the next fiscal year of the Grand Lodge. At the last Annual Communication, the brethren approved the per capita proposal, and this budget reflects our best effort to use that per capita and other revenue sources to promote and advance our fraternity. Therefore, I am pleased to submit this budget proposal for the period of November 1, 2022, through October 31, 2023. This proposal will allow us to continue our important programs and services and address our 2025 Fraternity Plan priorities.

We now know to a fuller extent the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic on our fraternity. Some of the impacts were temporary, and we are all working to overcome those. We lost just over 4,000 members due to our inability to accept applications and confer degrees for 18 months. Our lodges are now working to catch up and bring those who have waited into full membership in the fraternity. We have also accomplished a good deal this year in creating more positive awareness of our fraternity and connecting more interested prospects to our lodges.

The loss of members presents a challenge on several fronts, including lodge and Grand Lodge finances. Fortunately, the Grand Lodge has built reserves over the past several years so that we can continue to provide programs and services to members, lodges, and halls without an extraordinary burden on per capita. This budget utilizes $398,134 of funds from the operating reserve. We estimate lesser amounts will be needed in FY24 ($275,512) and FY25 ($195,146), with remaining reserves to provide benefits for future years.

The important programs and services that will continue include:

- Professional public relations and communications efforts to create positive awareness of Masonry; encourage Masons to discuss Masonry with their family and friends; and to continue advertising the fraternity and earning media for our good work.
- Financial services to lodges and halls including accounting, dues collection, tax return services, and tax-exempt status restoration. The cost of Intacct is included in the budget, so lodges will only pay an additional amount for payroll services, if they use them.
- Real estate and insurance services and support for lodges and halls.
- Leadership training events including the Master and Wardens Retreats, Secretary and Treasurer Retreats, Inspectors' Retreats, the Inspectors' Leadership Retreat, Lodge Management Certification Program, and the Speakers Series.
- Membership development efforts connecting thousands of prospects to our lodges.
- New lodge development efforts, which so far have created 30 new lodges in the state.
- Masonic education including support for programs like the International Conference on Freemasonry, the annual Symposium, and the Candidate Learning Center.
- Membership management through iMember, a GrandView product now used by two-thirds of U.S. grand lodges.
- Ritual education and training including ritual conferences for inspectors, officers' coaches, and lodge officers; and the annual ritual competition.
- Communications to Masons, widows, and the public through lodge website templates, the California Freemason magazine, the monthly e-newsletter The Leader, all-member emails, social media, and new video content, as well as the maintenance of over 125 lodge websites. California Freemason magazine includes four quarterly issues and the annual report.

These are all important programs and services that we will continue with the adoption of this budget.

I appreciate the great work that has been done by our grand treasurer, grand secretary, the finance staff, and our finance committee in assisting me in the development of this budget. I also want to thank the masters and wardens and other attendees at our spring leadership retreats, who provided good feedback to me about this budget.

Brethren, I appreciate the support you gave in the adoption of the per capita proposal last year. Our 2025 Fraternity Plan lays forth the prospect of a great future for our fraternity. I ask you to join me now in adopting this budget as we fulfill our obligations and enjoy the benefit of being Masons.

Sincerely and fraternally,

Randall L. Brill, Deputy Grand Master

GRAND LODGE OF FREE AND ACCEPTED MASONS OF CALIFORNIA

Fiscal Year 2022/2023
Randall L. Brill, Deputy Grand Master
Revenue Analysis

The Grand Lodge has several sources of income. Historically, the primary revenue sources have been Per Capita and degree fees. The Grand Lodge Endowment Fund was created in 1992 and generates income from the investment returns. To better manage the income from the Endowment, a 4.5% spending policy has been instituted, calculated on a rolling five-year market value average to protect the fund principle. The Grand Lodge has other finance income, such as investment and interest income. The Grand Lodge receives dues from the Grand Master's Lodge. In 2004, the California Masonic Foundation included in its mission the funding of Masonic education and leadership training programs and now provides a grant for such purposes. In 2005, the delegates of the 156th Annual Communication adopted a $30 application fee to be paid to Grand Lodge by all applicants for the degrees of Masonry and out-of-state affiliations. The Grand Lodge provides services throughout the state and receives reimbursement for certain expenses incurred from the Masonic Services Bureaus funds. The Grand Lodge manages the investments of its related entities and receives reimbursement equal to the cost of providing those services. The Grand Lodge is the sole shareholder of the Nob Hill Masonic Center Inc. and receives dividends on the profits of this Corporation. The Grand Lodge also receives support from reserves generated from prior fiscal years' surplus/operating reserves to balance its budget.

INSTALLATION SPEECH

Randall L. Brill, Grand Master 2022-23

THE THEME THAT APPEARS ON MY LOGO is "Fulfilling Our Obligations." Those words seem simple enough but, in truth, for a Mason they are complex. We Masons present this morning each knelt at an altar with our hands upon a volume of the sacred law and, in the presence of our brethren and the Supreme Being, committed ourselves to the high standards of brotherly love, relief, and truth. Master Masons do that three times, which, in effect, creates a list of standards for which we each are held responsible. So it is impossible for my motto to be taken literally. Instead, I am calling upon my brothers to focus on just three commitments for the coming year. First is supporting our philanthropic efforts, which is represented in my logo by the two dolphins forming a square. I have a special place in my heart for those animals, which are great examples of social beings that never hesitate to support each other and lend assistance in times of need. Second is our commitment to supporting public education, represented by the pencil and ruler, compass, and the volume of sacred law doubling as a textbook—all representing the tools of nurturing a growing intellect. California Masons have historically supported public education, and that support is more critical today than ever. The final commitment, indicated by the remaining symbolism in the logo, is support for the pillars of harmony and diversity in our Grand Lodge's long-range plan.

Philanthropy—the giving and sharing of our resources for the purpose of helping others—is a part of every Mason's DNA. To protect and provide charity for our families, widows, orphans, and others in need or more broadly the family of man, is a clarion call that none of us can ignore. At the local level, our brethren and their lodges have been creative and generous in establishing programs through which they provide support—not only monetary but also through their time and talent. Our lodges provide assistance in their communities and stand ready to respond to unexpected needs, whether driven by social pressures or natural disasters. I, my fellow officers, and the Grand Lodge staff know that those efforts are ongoing and will continue well into the future.

But I am asking you, my brethren, and your lodges to do even more by considering the wider community of those in need, and to support the efforts of the California Masonic Foundation and our Masonic Homes. The latter is a self-evident effort that directly benefits the members of our fraternity and provides the best care possible for those who require assistance as they age. The former, the California Masonic Foundation, is the umbrella under which we support our local and statewide communities through charitable programs. Throughout the coming year, you will hear me asking you to give what you can to support the Homes and the Foundation. More and more frequently, our lodges are making gifts in support of these programs, which is highly encouraging. But I also want to encourage individual members to do what they can. Please keep in mind that at the individual level, every penny counts. Whether you donate $5, $50, or $500, every little bit helps. Between the Foundation and the Homes, I hope that each one of us is fully aware of the positive impact that we have on the lives of so many people through these efforts. Visit their websites and learn about their impact.

Through the California Masonic Code, we are called upon to support public education. Again, it is our obligation to answer that call. The quality of public education in California has declined over the decades for several reasons, not the least of which is frequent budget cuts and a sense of apathy among our older citizens. In just about every community, the number of children that have lost access to hands-on learning is growing. The pandemic has only exacerbated those problems. Unless they're assisted at an early age, these children will struggle throughout their education. Our partnership with Raising A Reader has made a significant impact on correcting that problem up and down our state. At the other end of the age scale, our scholarship programs continue to help students with limited resources achieve their dreams of a college education. Most recently, we've added the Working Tools scholarship program, designed to assist students who choose to follow a career in the trades. Given our country's aging infrastructures and the declining number of skilled craftsmen, this program will help fill the call for a much-needed resource. California Masons are helping our children at both ends of the public education spectrum beat the odds every day. All of this is in addition to the ongoing support that our lodges provide local schools in their own communities. This continued support is vital.

The Grand Lodge of California has a successful history of creating and executing long-range plans. With the valuable input of our brethren, we recently created a vision that provides a path to our goal for the year 2050, "The World in Harmony." This year, I find myself at the helm in the middle of the current five-year segment of that plan. During this current phase, we are supporting and promoting three pillars which were formulated with the input of our California Masons. They are True Friendship, Diversity and Harmony, and Public Awareness. While all three are worthy of your awareness, I have for the last couple of years specifically championed the pillar of Diversity and Harmony. It is my intention to continue to support those goals, though not at the expense of the other two, because I have a true passion for it.

First, I will encourage and, as best I can, reinforce the traditions of our craft because of the values they inculcate in our lives. I will not entertain efforts to create shortcuts to membership and attaining our degrees or an easing of the need to live up to our obligations. Let me point out that I see no current efforts in that regard but be aware of where I stand.

Second, I will encourage quality and not quantity in our membership. We went through a post-war era during which our lodges swelled in numbers but eventually began to shrink in terms of actual participation. Hopefully we will never take that path again. Ideally, lodge meetings and functions should attract the participation of most of their members. Lodges are beginning to focus on quality and not quantity in membership. A lodge of 50 or 60 active and engaged members is much healthier than a lodge of a few hundred members, of which only a small percentage are active. And a lodge that takes the time to engage and get to know its applicants well before they are initiated creates a greater level of participation among its members. Smaller lodges that are geographically close to each other can create a network of support that are more effective than what might be called a "mega-lodge." You will be hearing more about efforts to concentrate the impact of Masonry in our communities, partially through the establishment of more, but smaller, lodges and through affinity lodges that will cater to specific interests and activities among California Masons.

It was my father, Frederic A. Brill, whose example led me to knock on the door of Freemasonry. The only surviving son of deaf parents, a WWII survivor who literally served on the tip of the spear as the allies broke into Germany, he experienced a plethora of life's lessons which included an appreciation of everyone he encountered, regardless of ethnicity or creed—not easy to maintain given the social attitudes of his time. His example influenced both my brother and I, and created in us a special kind of conscience. My father had close friends who represented a diversity of cultures, and he cooperated with all of them on several levels. Those lessons he taught through example have served me well.

I will be asking our lodges to look at their communities and ask one important question: Does the composition of your membership truly represent the creeds and ethnicities found in your community? I understand that there are areas that do not have a diverse population. But if your community reflects diversity, does the membership of your lodge reflect it? If not, why not? Do not misunderstand me. I will not be asking lodges to go out and recruit men of different creeds or ethnicities or to achieve imposed quotas. However, I am and will be asking that you work to make your lodge a beacon that shines for all good men, regardless of their background. There are many good men out there who hesitate to knock on our doors because of uncertainties about who we are and how they might fit in. They need to know that you are there and are sincerely willing to welcome them. Do not think in terms of casting a net to pull them in—a situation which will inevitably end in sorting out the unwanted portion of the haul. Rather, endeavor to make your lodge a lighthouse whose beam attracts the curiosity of good men and makes them aware of who we are. Don't be a net; be a lighthouse.

Finally, I wish to point out something which you may not have considered before. To all my brothers present, look around this auditorium and consider how many of those present you have met before today. Is it none or just a few? Neither. Each of us has met and knows all of the Masons in this room, as well as others we may encounter anywhere in the world. How? Where? In a lodge room kneeling at an altar like the one in front of us this morning. The altar may have looked different and may have been located far away, but when we knelt there, we were immediately connected with all our brethren around the globe. We all committed to the same obligations which define our values and our attitude toward each other, regardless of what race, creed, or social status we belong to. Because of that, we know each other. We know that in times of need, we can seek relief from a man we have never physically met before, because we know he is a brother. I ask you this morning to never forget that we are a worldwide network of brothers who share the same values and heed the same call.

With that in mind, you have my promise that my goal is to serve all of you and enhance our mutual experience as Masons. I hope that I will earn your support in accomplishing that.

REPORT OF THE SENIOR GRAND WARDEN

2023–24 PER CAPITA PROPOSAL

G. Sean Metroka, Senior Grand Warden

As senior grand warden, it is my duty to present to you the per capita proposal which will fund the Grand Lodge of California budget during the fiscal year of November 1, 2023 through October 31, 2024. This per capita will be collected next summer based on the number of Masons on the rolls of each lodge on June 30, 2023.

As you know, the entire fraternity is recovering from the impacts of Covid-19. The pandemic affected our lodges, halls, and the Grand Lodge in several ways, including our finances. As the deputy grand master has explained in his report, the Grand Lodge created reserves to help offset these losses without an extraordinary impact on per capita. We will use these reserves over the next few years to maintain programs and services that are important to our current and future success.

I am optimistic that our membership will stabilize and even grow over the next few years. This will help offset what could be the effects of continued inflation facing all organizations. This proposal projects a slight increase in membership in 2024. We have worked to keep expense increases to a minimum, even during these times of continuing inflation. Total expenses are up only 1.34 percent from the FY23 budget. Increased revenue from new members and the Nob Hill dividend will make up most of this increase. However, there is a decrease in the operating reserve revenue by approximately $122,622, which requires a $3.00 increase in per capita.

Therefore, the per capita I propose for the Fiscal Year 2024 is $60.50.

With your support of this proposal, we will continue our important programs and services, including leadership training and education, communications, technology, financial and administrative services, and the initiatives to increase positive public awareness and membership growth.

The future of our fraternity is in your hands, brethren. Working together, I am confident that we can create more positive awareness of our fraternity, continue to improve the organization, and grow and prosper. I look forward to being on this journey with you.

Thank you for your support.

Sincerely and fraternally,

G. Sean Metroka, Senior Grand Warden

REPORT OF THE GRAND TREASURER

Most Worshipful Grand Master and Brethren all:

As your grand treasurer, I am pleased to report to you on the financial health of our Grand Lodge and its related entities. We continue to benefit from the efforts and expertise of our brethren who continue to volunteer their time as board members and committee members, to include the expertise of our entire Grand Lodge financial team led by: Carol Hunter, our new CFO, Maribel Pasamic, our Controller, Khalil Sweidy, our Director of Financial Planning and Real Estate, and of course, Very Worshipful Allan Casalou, our Grand Secretary.

The Audit Committee, led by Worshipful Tony Garcia, continue to work closely with Moss Adams, as our outside auditor, and ensure that our financial statement audits for all of our Grand Lodge entities continue to go smoothly. As of our last fiscal year ending October 31, 2021 each of our entities once again received a clean audit opinion and were informed that our internal controls remain effective and that our model for shared service costs is not only appropriate but consistent with best practices and within industry standards.

The Finance Committee, led by Worshipful Levon Keshishian, continues to bring their broad corporate experience to our budgeting process in working with our Deputy Grand Master and Senior Grand Warden to provide wise and timely counsel in the preparation of their annual budgets and per capita calculations.

The Insurance Committee, led by Worshipful David Forsyth, continues their untiring work in their detailed review of our vast and complex insurance needs not only for our Grand Lodge entities but also for our Lodges and Hall Associations. This includes an ongoing review of claims to ensure an optimal result for the benefit of the craft, and finding ways to deliver its services in the most cost-efficient method possible.

The Investments Committee, led by Wor. Wil Smith, is deeply immersed in its ongoing efforts to monitor the economic factors which impact our portfolio. In their ongoing evaluation of our investment policies, they continue to recommend that 4.5 percent of our investment portfolio be distributed to fund the Grand Lodge operating budget aligned at maintaining to preserve and grow our overall portfolio for future use. Five years ago, we began our relationship with NEPC, our investment advisory firm. They continue to engage us in important discussions with our fund managers and to provide in-depth analysis of our asset allocations.

The following financial highlights are based on the unaudited results for the nine-month period through July 31, 2022, compared against the audited results from October 31, 2021. The audited financial statements for the current fiscal year ending October 31, 2021 will be made available with these annual proceedings upon publication.

California Masonic Memorial Temple

- Assets decreased by $244,085 to $12,494,859 from $12,738,944.
- Investments decreased in the amount of $3,617 net of distributions to $4,872,584 from $4,876,201 for the prior fiscal year.

- Net assets decreased to $11,376,370 compared to $11,807,723 for the prior fiscal year.

Nob Hill Masonic Center

- Investments increased in the amount of $219,444 to $865,911 from $646,467 for the prior fiscal year.
- Property and equipment increased by $77,699 to $810,076 from $732,407 for the prior fiscal year.
- Net income after taxes is $484,844 through July 31, 2022 compared to $132,236 from the prior fiscal year.
- The dividend being paid to Grand Lodge was $350,000 for the current fiscal year compared to $390,000 in the prior fiscal year.

Grand Lodge of California

- Total investments decreased by $855,695 net of distributions to $14,995,076 from $15,850,771 for the prior fiscal year. This excludes the investments held in the Lodges Life Membership Program and Lodges General Investment Program.
- Total net assets increased by $180,926 to $15,072,129 compared to $14,891,203 for the prior fiscal year driven primarily by the increase to our New Lodge Development Fund from the sale of Masonic buildings.

- The surplus for the budget presented by Most Wor. Weiss and approved by you at our last Annual Communication was $382,394. The budget surplus currently forecasted for this fiscal year is now $344,108 due to the cancellation of many in-person events. This surplus will be accrued as a deferred asset to be used over the next several years as an operating reserve to normalize the impacts that Covid-19 is having on revenues to Nob Hill Masonic Center, which provides an annual dividend to the Grand Lodge and to the California Masonic Memorial Temple, and which provides an annual grant for our education programs to the Grand Lodge.

I have reported the various changes to the investments of each of our entities, but it should also be noted that in the aggregate, our master trust has decreased by $143,667,688, or 12.0 percent, net of distributions for the operations of all of our entities, including the costs of construction at both Masonic Homes campuses. The master trust now stands at $1,049,925,084 as of July 31, 2022.

The breakdown of the master trust per entity is as follows:

- Masonic Homes in the amount of $918,186,058 or 87.45 percent.
- California Masonic Foundation in the amount of $41,919,517 or 3.99 percent.
- Acacia Creek in the amount of $15,942,783 or 1.52 percent.
- California Masonic Memorial Temple in the amount of $4,872,584 or 0.47 percent.
- Grand Lodge in the amount of $34,902,284 or 3.32 percent.
- Lodge Investment Program in the amount of $30,620,202 or 2.92 percent.
- Lodge Life Membership Program in the amount of $2,615,744 or 0.25 percent.
- Nob Hill Masonic Center in the amount of $865,912 or 0.08 percent.

The return on investment for the year to date is 2.2 percent, and since inception of our master trust in 1995, it remains at a healthy 7.5 percent.

While our master trust has gained a respectable size, we all must remember that these funds are not available to simply withdraw to cover all of the expense needs of our several entities. For best practices, we are limited to drawing 4.5 percent of the five-year average of the investments for each entity to support their operations. What this means is that in the example for our Masonic Homes, with a current operating budget of approximately $64 million, and an investment distribution of approximately $41 million, that we have a delta of approximately $23 million dollars that needs to be made up from other sources, such as fees for certain services and each of our annual contributions in fulfillment of our ongoing obligations to each other.

In 1992, our Grand Lodge created an endowment fund to be funded each year by the budget surpluses of each grand master. Since that time, the fund has grown to $2,778,916 as of July 31, 2022. To normalize the budgets and the per capita assessments over the next several years due to the economic impact of Covid-19 on our operations at Nob Hill Masonic Center and the California Masonic Memorial Temple, we have accrued actual surpluses as a deferred asset for operating reserves. This same endowment fund will now provide $209,700 for the budget of Right Wor. Metroka in the fiscal year ending October 31, 2024, compared to the amount of $315,075 for the current fiscal year.

Participation in the Grand Lodge Life Membership Funds and the Grand Lodge General Investments Fund has increased over the past year, providing lodges a muchneeded investment strategy. As of July 31, 2022, we now have 59 lodges participating in the Life Membership Master Fund with a value of $2,615,744, and we have 31 lodges participating in the Lodge Investments Master Fund with a value of $19,952,567.

Our grand lodge finance team is positioned to assist our lodge officers and hall association directors in planning their budgets, payroll matters, tax filings, real estate matters, investments, and general accounting matters. I encourage you to take advantage of their expertise and services, which allow you to focus your attention on practicing Masonry and on your relationships with your communities.

I am encouraging you all to commence your budget discussions as early as possible with key brethren in your lodge and to provide an open and transparent budget to its members, so that none may remain ignorant of the revenues, expenses, and programs contained within it..

This year, I would like to thank Most Worshipful Wilkins and all of you for the opportunity to serve as your grand treasurer. I am honored to be working with so many devoted and caring individuals. I would especially like to thank my friend, brother, and colleague, Very Worshipful Allan Casalou. His vast business knowledge and passion for our craft continually pushes us to implement best practices and achieve a level of professionalism that places our Grand Lodge among the best jurisdictions in all of Freemasonry.

Respectfully submitted,

Charles P. Cross, Grand Treasurer

REPORT OF THE GRAND SECRETARY

Most Worshipful Grand Master and members of the Grand Lodge:

I am pleased to make this, my 15th report as your grand secretary. It has been an exciting and productive year, as we began to rebuild and rebound from the significant impacts of the pandemic.

Membership Information

Current Membership Statistics

As of June 30, 2022, we had 40,025 active Masons, including 2,663 Entered Apprentices and 919 Fellow Crafts. Our Masonic family also includes 12,621 widows. Please refer to my written report for detailed membership activity, by-law amendments, life memberships, and veterans' awards.

We now have a clear idea of the membership impact of the COVID-19 pandemic. In fiscal year 2020, we were on track for our first year of growth in more than six decades. Because we had to shut down lodge operations in March of 2020, we were not able to process applications or confer degrees during the months of March through June, which are usually the months with the most degree activity. As a result, we had a small loss of 229 members, or 0.5 percent, in Fiscal Year 2020. Because we could not act on applications during most of Fiscal Year 2021 and because suspensions for non-payment of dues soared, we lost just over 4,100 members that year, or 9.2 percent of our overall membership. It was a rough year. However, we did come roaring back in 2022. Had we gotten an earlier start, we might have achieved net growth, but many lodges struggled to field degree teams early in the year. Nevertheless, we managed to record more gains than in any year since 1995. With suspensions for non-payment of dues still high, we recorded a small net loss of 457 members, or just about 1 percent overall. With what we now know, it's accurate to say that we lost about 10 percent of our members due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

Moving forward, retaining existing members is vital to our growth potential. A current concern is the number of members who are suspended for non-payment of dues. This year, just over 1,400 members were suspended, which represents 3.5 percent of our membership. The average age of a suspended member was 53, and their average tenure was 32 years. Yes, on average we suspended Masons who had been dues-paying members for 32 years. It's important to remember our duty, especially during challenging economic times like the one we face now, to personally interview brothers who have not paid their dues to determine the cause and to provide relief to those who need it. A lodge may remit a brother's dues, in full or in part, if he cannot afford them. In surveying members who were suspended this year, we found that nearly 60 percent said they could not afford their dues. On top of that, 90 percent said they were not aware they could ask for dues remission, and 77 percent said they would have paid a portion of their dues and requested a partial remission if they had known this option was available to them. Overall, 75 percent said they would like to restore their membership.

Now more than ever, we must redouble our commitment to member retention. Let's reach out personally to every member who has not paid his dues. Let's remind him of our ability to remit or partially remit his dues if he cannot afford them. And let's be sure he's aware of the process for restoration if he is suspended.

The restoration program we promoted over the summer produced good results. In total, we restored 435 members. The coordinated dues-invoicing program has also helped, allowing brothers to pay their dues quickly and conveniently. Statewide, 70 percent of our lodges have opted into the coordinated dues invoicing program. These lodges collected dues from 12 percent more members than did the lodges who did not participate in the program. If your lodge has not yet opted into the dues-invoicing program, I recommend you consider it.

The cornerstone of our 2025 Fraternity Plan, and the focus of much of our work this year, has been around increasing positive awareness of Freemasonry in California. This work has been integral to our membership growth strategies.

We've learned from market research that most people seek information about Freemasonry because someone they know is or was a Mason—mainly a family member, friend, or mentor. Yet we also find that most Masons do not talk about the fraternity to their family and friends. Many believe they are not allowed to, while others are not yet comfortable talking about it. In order to improve these outcomes, we executed three important initiatives this year.

First, we launched the #ImAMason campaign and asked our members to change their Facebook profile picture to an "I'm A Mason" logo and post comments about their Masonic journey online. The campaign ran for just two weeks. Hundreds of brothers participated. All together, we reached 2.8 million family and friends with our stories. It's amazing how a little effort goes a long way!

To help our members talk more confidently about Masonry, we designed and published "A Simple Guide to Masonry," providing every brother with information and answers to some of the most challenging topics in Masonry—namely gender, religion, and secrecy. We've distributed thousands of printed copies of the guide and a digital version is available online. The booklet is used as the basis for our new training program on talking about Freemasonry, which we rolled out at the Inspectors retreats this year and will continue in 2023 at the various leadership retreats.

Talking about Masonry is fun and interesting, and data shows that it creates greater awareness and interest in our fraternity, which leads to our third initiative, paid positive awareness campaign. For 10 weeks from July 15 to September 30, we ran a paid social media ad campaign promoting Freemasonry in California. The campaign served up nearly one million ads, drove 19,500 clicks to our website, and led to 3,775 requests for information about membership. These requests were processed through our all-new membership advising process, which resulted in over 1,800 prospects being connected to our lodges. A number of individuals were connected with other grand lodges as well. The results exceeded our expectations. But there is important work that remains.

As lodge leaders, we must now follow up with these prospects. Officers of the lodge have access to this information. Simply go to your dashboard on the member center and you will see the list of prospects. Reach out to them right away. Set up a time to talk to them and help them on their journey to learn more about our fraternity. Let's make this a high priority. Using a paid campaign to generate prospects is ultimately only as effective as our follow-through. We plan to run a similar campaign each year, so together, we'll get better and better and reach more and more people.

PROGRAMS AND SERVICES

Led by the 2025 Fraternity Plan, the focus of the Grand Lodge office is to provide quality services and programs, which reduce administrative burdens and prioritize the member experience.

iMember 2.0

It has been two years since we partnered with GrandView Systems to roll out iMember 2.0 and advance a national movement to provide a uniform system for grand lodges and Masonic organizations throughout North America and around the world. Today, more than two-thirds of the grand lodges in the United States are using the system. The Grand Chapter of California, Order of the Eastern Star, the Prince Hall Grand Lodge of California, and Job's Daughters in California are also using GrandView. Grand Lodges in Africa and Australia, and Masonic organizations like the Red Cross of Constantine also use GrandView. We are now part of an international collaboration never known before in Freemasonry. At a recent users' conference, we saw a demonstration of a new tool called Keystone, which will enable us to automate information requests between grand lodges and Masonic bodies. For example, a grand lodge or grand chapter will be able to use Keystone to quickly verify the membership of a California Mason who seeks to affiliate with their lodge or chapter. This is just the beginning of the benefits that come from working side-by-side with other grand lodges and Masonic organizations.

It's amazing how many of our members use the system. Today, nearly half of California Masons are registered on iMember 2.0, gaining access to their member record, virtual dues card, lodge rosters, Masonic education, and other resources. The system will continue to evolve and improve. Training is an ongoing priority. In the next year, we will launch a new iMember training program designed to get new users up to speed in a short time and allow members to become superusers, mentors, and trainers themselves.

Member Services

Our Member Services team provides core support to lodges and members. Over the past year, they processed more than 14,000 information and service requests, a 20 percent increase from last year, completing more than 90 percent on the first day with an average completion time of 150 minutes.

New Lodge Development

Our efforts in new lodge development continue to grow. Since the beginning of this initiative, 32 new lodges have been instituted. Two were instituted this year, making a total of six lodges under dispensation. I will give a full report on charters tomorrow.

Financial Services

The Financial Services team provides accounting, budgeting, reporting, and audit support for Grand Lodge and our related entities. Additionally, they provide a variety of supportive programs and resources for lodges and halls.

Today, nearly 82 percent of lodges and 60 percent of halls are using Intacct as their accounting solution and are receiving high quality service from the Grand Lodge finance team. This year, Financial Services prepared and filed 580 tax returns for lodges, hall associations, and residents of the Masonic Homes.

Real Estate Services

Our real estate services team provided a full complement of property related services to our lodges and halls and maintained the several Grand Lodge-owned properties. The team finalized renovations at the Benicia Masonic Hall, the first Masonic building in California; and completed refurbishment of the Quitman Masonic Building in the Malakoff Diggins State Park.

The Grand Lodge maintains two cemeteries related to the Columbia Masonic Hall in the Columbia State Park, the Columbia Masonic Cemetery, and the Jamestown Masonic Cemetery. Plans are underway for the maintenance and restoration of these historic cemeteries.

Communications

Our communications team executes a comprehensive strategy for our fraternity through several websites, social media accounts, email campaigns, a monthly leadership e-newsletter, and the California Freemason magazine, which once again received national awards in the publishing industry. Our communications team is also now producing very high-quality video content for use on social media, websites, and in other communications channels. Of particular note are videos produced this year on Napa Valley Lodge No. 93, Panamericana Lodge No. 513, and Kern River Valley Lodge No. 827, plus several other videos promoting our programs and services. I'll share a short clip of the Panamericana video to give you a flavor of our new work.

Henry Wilson Coil Library and Museum

Interesting progress was made with the Henry Wilson Coil Library and Museum this year. Please visit our newly designed website at www.masonicheritage.org, where you can browse the library and artifact collection online. New this year is our first digital exhibit, which you can view on the website. "From the Hands of Brothers" is a collection of Masonic folk-art objects created by the hands of self-taught artists who were inspired to share their skills and interest in Masonic symbology with hand-made aprons, quilts, wood carvings, and mysterious boxes. Our museum team also constructed a new live exhibit on display this weekend on the mezzanine. Titled "Badges of Brotherhood," this exhibit focuses on our collection of Masonic jewels: officer jewels, Past Master jewels, Lewis jewels, charity jewels, and others. A special feature is a collection of officer jewels from our Gold Rush lodges.

RECOGNITION OF FOREIGN GRAND LODGES

It is my responsibility to inform the Grand Master of matters pertaining to foreign grand lodge recognition and to present to you, in the form of a motion, the recognition of certain grand lodges that meet our criteria. The Grand Lodge has received the following requests for recognition by foreign grand lodges:

Brazil. In Brazil, there is a national Grand Orient, a separate confederation of 27 state grand lodges, and a number of independent state grand orients, which are separate and sovereign from the national grand orient. Our Grand Lodge currently recognizes the Grand Orient of Brazil, all 27 state grand lodges, and several of the independent state grand orients. We have received a request for mutual recognition from the Independent Grand Orient of Pernambuco, founded on December 2, 1926. This grand lodge is a member of the Interamerican Masonic Confederation and enjoys mutual recognition with the two other grand lodges in the same territory whom we recognize.

The Grand Lodge of California approved the petition and granted mutual recognition with the Independent Grand Orient of Pernambuco.

The Confederation of Regular Grand Lodges of the United States of Mexico.

Freemasonry in Mexico is structured similarly to the United States in that there is a grand lodge in each state. In Mexico, there are two additional national or regional grand lodges. For years now, the Grand Lodge of California has sought to strengthen our fraternal bonds with the Mexican state grand lodges. Today, we enjoy mutual recognition with roughly half of them. Working closely with the Confederation of State Grand Lodges to obtain requests and agreements, I am pleased to be able to present to you today a motion to recognize all the remaining state grand lodges in the confederation. Petitions for mutual recognition have been received from:

1. Grand Lodge of the State of Aguascalientes "Edmundo Games Orozco," founded on September 5, 1998.
2. Grand Lodge of the State of Chiapas, founded on June 16, 1932.
3. Grand Lodge of the State of Guanajuato, founded on February 16, 1994.
4. Grand Lodge of the State of Guerrero, founded on February 27, 1998.
5. Grand Lodge of the State of Hidalgo, founded on March 12, 1940.
6. Grand Lodge of the State of Mexico, founded on January 29, 1997.
7. Grand Lodge Michoacana "Lazaro Cardenas," founded on July 29, 1979.
8. Grand Lodge of the State of Morelos, founded on April 17, 1997.
9. Grand Lodge of the State of Nayarit, founded on October 7, 1955.
10. Grand Lodge "Benito Juarez Garcia" of the State of Oaxaca, founded on February 27, 1883.
11. Grand Lodge "Benemerito Ejercito de Oriente" of the State of Puebla, founded on August 10, 1996.
12. Grand Lodge of the State of Queretaro, founded on November 10, 1934.
13. Grand Lodge "Restauracion" of the State of Tabasco, founded on March 23, 1923.
14. United Grand Lodge "La Oriental Peninsular" of the State of Yucatan, founded on September 14, 1928.
15. Grand Lodge of the State of Zacatecas "Jesus Gonzales Ortega," founded on November 18, 1989.

Each of these grand lodges is a member of the Confederation of Regular Grand Lodges of the United States of Mexico. The Committee on Information for Recognition of the Conference of Grand Masters of North America reports that these grand lodges meet the standards of recognition, and each meets the requirement for recognition by our grand lodge.

The Grand Lodge of California approved the petition and granted mutual recognition with the grand lodges listed above.

One of the regional grand lodges in Mexico is the Grand Lodge of the Valley of Mexico. We have enjoyed mutual recognition with this grand lodge for many years. From time to time, the Grand Lodge of California has withdrawn recognition with the Grand Lodge of the Valley of Mexico due to invasion of territory. Masonic recognition standards prohibit one grand lodge from forming lodges or another grand lodge in the territory where a regular grand lodge currently exists, except by treaty or other agreement between those grand lodges. Evidence has been provided to our grand lodge that the Grand Lodge of the Valley of Mexico has invaded the territory of the Grand Lodge of the State of Baja California, as well as the territory of other state grand lodges. The Commission on Information for Recognition under the Conference of Grand Masters of Masons in North America reported in February 2022 that the Grand Lodge of the Valley of Mexico does not meet the standards of recognition, and we find that the Valley of Mexico no longer meets the standards of recognition by California.

APPRECIATION

As I conclude my report, I extend my sincere gratitude to the lodge secretaries and assistant secretaries whose dedicated work is the backbone of our jurisdiction. I also thank our assistant grand lecturers and district inspectors who, in addition to their ritual duties, provide invaluable administrative support throughout the year.

I've been honored to work alongside our grand treasurer, Very Worshipful Brother Charles Cross, who is completing his first term in that position. Thank you, my brother, for your service and your friendship.

I greatly appreciate the team of true professionals in our Grand Lodge office, all of whom care deeply about our fraternity and support our mission with their dedicated service. I thank them all for their commitment and good work.

Lastly, I want to thank our grand master, Most Worshipful Brother Jeffery M. Wilkins, who made it a priority this year to remind us how much more we can achieve when we work together. He reminded us that, above all else, we are brothers, and that the special bond between us must be honored and preserved. Thank you, Most Worshipful, for your service, your leadership, and your friendship.

And thank you, my brothers, for the opportunity to serve and work with you.

Sincerely and fraternally,

Allan L. Casalou, Grand Secretary

REPORT OF THE GRAND LECTURER

Most Worshipful Grand Master, Grand Lodge Officers, members of the Grand Lodge, brethren all,

This is my fourth report to you, as your grand lecturer. My sincere thanks and appreciation go out to all those brothers who continued to practice their memory work during our Covid isolation period over the past two years. Because of your efforts, our lodges were able to ramp up their degree performances to accommodate all our candidates and brethren who had been patiently waiting to receive their degrees. Thank you, brethren, for quickly and effectively bringing our lodges back to life.

Many of our goals on the we had planned for our Ritual Committee were holdovers from prior years. Now, in our first full year out from the pandemic, we have been able to accomplish most of them. At our Ritual Committee meetings in November and December, we outlined our tasks for the year. I received copies of calendars from each of our district inspectors to ensure that lodge officers were receiving the proper information for their planning efforts. We scheduled our Master Mason seminars in Divisions II, IV, V, VI, and VIII. We restarted our inspector conferences in the north and south. And we addressed the need for further education for members who had been identified by their inspectors and assistant grand lecturers as candidates to serve as officer's coaches. Those efforts also included members who had completed the Lodge Management Certification Program to fulfill the requirement to qualify for their return to lodge leadership stations. For the first time, we scheduled and completed the first two Schools of Instruction devoted entirely to the promotion of music in our lodges. And lastly, we celebrated the return of our 2022 Ritual Competition.

Master Mason Seminars

This year, we accomplished our goal of restarting the division Master Mason seminars to ensure the consistency of ritual quality in our jurisdiction. My visitations this year included division Master Mason seminars at Oak Plains No. 789 in Sacramento on January 15 (Division IV), Bakersfield No. 224 (Division

V) on February 26, Arcadia No. 278 (Division VI) on April 16, and Redlands No. 300 on June 4 (Division VIII).

Calendars

Over the past year, I was able to observe several lodge events, including a first degree at Mariposa No. 24 on January 22, visits to Gardena–Moneta No. 372 on March 4 and Redondo No. 328 on March 5, and a third degree conferral by Valle De France No. 329 and Round Table No. 876 in Glendale on May 19 I also attended an outdoor degree hosted by Live Oak No. 61 on the Sacramento River and put on by the officers of the 222nd Masonic District, as well as third degree conferrals at Aquila No. 865 in Roseville on June 21 and Sacramento No. 40 on August 24. On October 15, I attended a special outdoor third degree put on by our brothers celebrating the return to work at Paradise No. 124 following the devastating Camp Fire.

With the information provided by our inspectors, several division and district School of Instruction visitations were part of my calendar this year as well.

Among those visits were to the divisional School of Instruction and ritual competition for Division VIII at Temecula-Catalina No. 524 on July 16 and the Division III multi-district School of Instruction events at San Leandro No. 113 on November 6 and the San Jose Masonic Center on January 29.

A big thank you goes out to the officers of the 935th Masonic District for their fellowship and hospitality on the occasion of their School of Instruction exemplification of the second section of the third degree at National City on February 24; to Wor. Matt Enright and the officers of the 234th Masonic District for their district school at Madison No. 23 in Grass Valley on May 10; and to Wors. Joe Campbell, Jonathan Wong, Hercules Valdez, and the members of the Santa Clara Valley Masonic Officers Association during their exemplification of the second section of the third degree on August 18.

I also want to thank Wor. Rick Geyer and the officers and members of the 806th Masonic District for allowing me to give my presentation at their festive board on September 3, and to the officers and members of Saddleback-Laguna No. 672 and their master, Wor. Michael May, for allowing me to present at their Masonic information night on September 22. Last but by no means least, a special thank you goes out to Wors. Jeffrey Yates, Narbeh Bagdasarian, and Jhairo Echevarria for arranging the beautiful, multilingual exemplification of the second degree during the brotherhood degree at Burbank No. 406 on July 15.

Inspectors' Conferences

In our first full year back, the Ritual Committee was able to conduct two Inspectors' Ritual Conferences. I'd like to thank the officers and brethren of Hesperian No. 262 in Santa Maria for hosting our Southern California Inspectors Ritual Conference on March 18 and the officers and members of Santa Cruz–San Lorenzo No. 38 for hosting the Northern California Inspectors Ritual Conference on March 25.

In addition to observing the inspectors exemplify their work at the ritual conferences in March, the Ritual Committee met to record our thoughts for what would become the agenda for new inspector training, based on the elements found in our California Masonic Code section 405.030, "duties" of an inspector. The Ritual Committee gave input and time to facilitate the first inspectors bootcamp for newly appointed district inspectors at the Inspectors' Leadership Conferences in San Ramon on August 19 and Irvine on September 23.

Several years ago, Very Wor. Jack Rose and the ritual committee received survey information that showed a need and a desire to develop training for our lodge officers' coaches. That need was answered by the development of the nine officers' coach training modules, now available to the assistant grand lecturers and district inspectors for their respective Schools of Instruction. At our November and December Ritual Committee meetings, I requested that Wor. Vic Ropac, assistant grand lecturer for Division VIII, oversee the development of virtual modules to facilitate a need we identified for continuation training of brothers who had gone through the leadership chairs of their lodge, and in the process had completed the Lodge Management Certification Program. One module has been completed so far, with the hope that two more will be completed by the end of October, for use in qualifying brethren prior to installations this year.

Music

Covid has certainly gotten in the way of fulfilling our goals of bringing music back into the performance of degrees over the past few years. Now, though, in our first full year back, we have been able to plan and execute our very first music School of Instruction event at Evergreen No. 259 in Riverside on July 23 and at Santa Cruz–San Lorenzo No. 38 in Santa Cruz on August 6. My sincere thanks goes out to our grand organist, Wor. Stephen Miller, and to all those brethren, families, and adult youth leaders who took the time to attend these first schools to bring music back to all of our Masonic family. Both Wor. Steve and I are looking forward to having more such events in the coming year.

My brethren, it is my duty to report to you and address the quality of the ritual in our jurisdiction. For the most part, I am pleased with the attitude and performances of the lodges I have attended, and with the performance of those lodges I have received reports about. However the overall quality of the ritual performed this year runs the full range from exemplary to very poor. It is easy for me to describe events I observed that were the most notable, and I will report on one such performance in a moment. But I have also observed performances in which most or all of the brethren are not prepared, have chosen not to rehearse before conducting the degree, or have brethren participating that feel the need to demean our ritual in front of our candidates. I have fully addressed each of these incidents of poor ritual with the relevant assistant grand lecturers and inspectors. Regardless of your rank or title, I am asking each of you taking part in the performance of our beautiful degrees to take responsibility for your participation in the degree—in your preparation, in your delivery, and in your respect for the candidate.

On the other hand, our Division VI assistant grand lecturer Wor. Alberto Casanova and I had the privilege to witness something very special. A couple of years ago, the officers and members of Round Table 876 made the decision to perform the second section of the third degree in costumes, which they would need to make. At that time, Wor. Al Moen and I ensured that their request was made in accordance with established guidelines. Finally, in May 19 of this year, Wor. Alberto and I were able to observe Round Table's degree work with their new costumes on the occasion of their assisting Valle de France No. 329 raise a candidate to the third degree. After the performance, I spoke to them about their meaningful and excellent work. They informed me that they wished to be an example of ritual excellence in their area. I told them it was a bold move and that every brother had to take on that responsibility for it to mean something. That evening, every member participating in the degree agreed that they were willing to take on that responsibility. My brothers, Wor. Alberto and I commend each of you on accepting the extraordinary responsibility of ensuring our ritual is being performed in a meaningful manner, and I wish you all the success in your outstanding endeavor.

Ritual Competition

The 2022 Ritual Competition consisted of the master's work at the altar, gavel to gavel, in the third degree. There were 1,216 total word and floor-work points.

Would those of you who participated in this year's competition please rise. My brethren, thank you for taking the time to rehearse and participate, and for sparking enthusiasm for our ritual. You are responsible for setting an example for your brothers when you chose to participate at your district- and division-level ritual competitions.

This year's competitors came from all nine divisions, and 54 of our 108 Masonic districts. Here are the brothers who are our nine division ritual competition winners:

- From San Francisco, a past master of Burlingame No. 400, our Division I ritual competition winner is Wor. Joshua Cusing.
- From Lincoln, a past master of Eureka No.16, our Division II ritual competition winner is Wor. Rick Hodkin.
- From Rodeo, a member of Bay Cities No. 337, our Division III ritual competition winner is Bro. Dan Laynes.
- From Sacramento, a member of Sacramento No. 40, our Division IV ritual competition winner is Bro. Paul Abeyesekera.
- From Atascadero, a past master of Cypress Mountain No. 196, our Division V ritual competition winner for the third time in a row is Wor. Conor Moorman.
- From Anaheim, a past master of Andres Bonifacio U.D., our Division VI ritual competition winner is Wor. Norman Tondares.
- From Porter Ranch, a member of Granada Hills No. 378, our Division VIIritual competition winner is Bro. Julio Cesar Ramirez.
- From Corona, a past master of Temescal Palms No. 314, our Division VIII ritual competition winner is Wor. Eddie Rivera.
- And from Chula Vista, a past master of Claude H. Morrison No. 747, our Division IX ritual competition winner is Wor. Bonifacio Jimenez.

After the district and division competitions were completed, a final competition was held at Fresno No. 247 on October 1. It is my pleasure to reveal the winner of the Grand Lodge of California Ritual Competition for 2022: From Division VI, it is Wor. Norman Tondares.

Brethren, thank you for your support and participation in our ritual competition this year, and congratulations to our division and state ritual competition winners.

To my friend, Very Wor. Allan Casalou, thank you for your friendship and support and for your vigilance in protecting our fraternity and this jurisdiction. And to Assistant Grand Secretary Jordan Yelinek, Wor. Chris Smith, Brother Andrew Uehling, and all those wonderful folks in Member Services for addressing the ritual and administrative needs in this large and diverse jurisdiction, and to all those who work behind the scenes being of assistance to myself and our assistant grand lecturers, freely giving of your kind smiles and words of encouragement, thank you.

Thank you also to my friend Very Wor. Charles Cross for ensuring we stay within our financial due bounds to bring ritual excellence to our jurisdiction. Thank you, my brother, for your friendship and your generous and kind support of our ritual and administrative needs.

To our assistant grand lecturers and our Ritual Committee: We began the year with two brand-new assistant grand lecturers. Over the course of this year, we have addressed a great deal of our jurisdiction's ritual and administrative needs, and the many issues our fraternity was facing. Thank you, my brethren, for your friendship and all your work and assistance in maintaining the greatness of this Grand Lodge.

To my fellow Grand Lodge officers, each of you have touched my heart. It has been a pleasure seeing each of you develop into the very finest this jurisdiction has to offer. It has been an honor and a privilege to serve with you all. Thank you.

Most Wor. Jeffrey Wilkins, I especially want to thank you and First Lady Liz for all of your love and energy on this fantastic journey guiding our jurisdiction back into the world again. Patty and I are extremely grateful to you both for the opportunity to travel together and join you these past four years. May God bless you and keep you.

And may our Great Creator continue to bless and watch over the Grand Lodge of California and our great fraternity. Thank you.

Sincerely and fraternally,

Rickey L. Lawler, Grand Lecturer

GRAND CHAPLAIN'S MESSAGE

May the words of my mouth, and the meditation of our hearts, be acceptable in thy sight, O Lord, our strength and our redeemer. Amen.

Before I begin any important endeavor, I pause and pray. Actually, Masons are encouraged to do this right from the start. Before I write my Sunday sermons, I always pray, "Lord, give me a word for your people." So when I began thinking about what I wanted to say to you today, I asked God to give me a good word to share.

Whether I feel immediately inspired or move forward by faith alone, I trust God will be God and work with me and help me be a blessing. So imagine my surprise when I uttered the words asking for a good word to share with you and the next thing I saw was a billboard that read, "The quickest way to rise is to lift up another."

I don't know why, but this quote stayed with me. As I sat ruminating, it rang true. While searching for the attribution, I came across a portion of "The Story of My Life and Work" by Booker T. Washington. "When I was a boy," said Washington, "I used to like to fight. I used to like to get a boy down in a ditch and hold him there. But as I got older I saw that I could not hold him down there without staying in the ditch myself. No nation can hold another down without staying down itself."

Washington went on to say, "I think I have learned that the best way to lift one's self up is to help someone else."

This, for me, sums up everything I love about Freemasonry. Our craft is open to men 18 and older who believe in a supreme being and are found to be of good moral character. The purpose of Freemasonry is to make "better men out of good men." Within each of the degrees of Masonry, our moral and ethical teachings are expressed and beautifully illustrated in words and deed. Strangers become brothers and the bonds that form between them are lasting. We are literally lifted up, raised up, and taught the importance of brotherly love, relief and truth.

Central to our existence are ritual, acts of welcome, inclusion, and character-building. We vouch for one another, only partly based upon reputation, but primarily based upon trust—even hope—that those who are drawn to become better men will realize the value of symbolic Masonry, the value of offering a helping hand in the darkness, and an experienced guide along unfamiliar pathways.

I am enamored by the word "Resurrection," in all its reverberations, with synonyms such as awakening, renewal, restoration, revitalization. It is in resting and rising, sleeping and waking, that we learn to believe and trust the Great Architect of the Universe who has filled creation with images that point us toward the mystery of life unending.

We experience a type of resurrection every morning, every springtime, and every time someone gives us a helping hand. Yet I would like to suggest that the secret of Masonry, the handmaid of religious life, is that "The quickest way to rise is to lift up another." This is similar to the axiom that it is better to give than to receive, because in giving we always receive. We receive the blessing of participating in the divine plan of caring for our brother, and of following the Golden Rule.

Likewise, it is in lifting up one who is down—weighed down with any myriad of weighty and wearying issues— a brother knows what to do. When I was raised, I did not fully comprehend the mystery at first. It took time and experience and learning to trust fraternal ties that convinced me of the value of what we do.

For example, a rabbi once said that "one who visits the sick takes away one-sixtieth of his sickness."

When we visit someone in need, we express sympathy and empathy. We let them know that people actually care. Because a person's physical state is often related to their internal emotional or mental state, a visit can often improve a person's feelings in a way which literally makes them feel better, lifting their spirit, lifting them up.

There is a song I've sung before that was made famous by Josh Groban, "You Raise Me Up." I've always assumed the lyrics were speaking about how God comes to us in our need and lifts us up, setting us upon mountains, helping us maneuver life's stormy seas. But now, I believe that it also speaks of us, those who have been raised up, who stand on the shoulders of those who have come before and are raised up to more than they can be.

As I sing this song, I invite you to think about those who have raised you up and helped form the person you are today. As you remember them with gratitude, remember this: The quickest way to rise is to lift up another.

When I am down and, oh my soul, so weary
When troubles come and my heart burdened be
Then, I am still and wait here in the silence
Until You come and sit awhile with me.
You raise me up, so I can stand on mountains
You raise me up, to walk on stormy seas
I am strong, when I am on your shoulders
You raise me up to more than I can be.

Respectfully submitted,

Stephen H. DeMuth, Grand Chaplain

GRAND ORATION

Bee the Example—Build Leadership

Most worshipful grand master, brethren, and friends:

This weekend, we gather in the twilight glow of this Masonic year to indulge ourselves in the enjoyable recollection of our recent accomplishments and in fond tales of our departed brethren. Soon, we shall witness the dawn of the next Masonic year, gleaming with the promise of better tomorrows. We express gratitude because our blessings flow as fruit from the cornucopia. Within this sacred space, peace and harmony prevail.

When we are done with our revelry and merrymaking, we will leave this temple to mix again with the outside world. Out there, we have work to do. Because out there, the world is not at peace and harmony does not prevail. We see war overseas, political unrest at home, and a continuing degradation of civil norms and discourse. Our neighbors may see all this and start to believe that conflict is man's nature. But we, as Free and Accepted Masons, know that cooperation—not conflict—is man's true nature. It is our better nature.

We know this because cooperation is a common thread connecting brotherly love, relief, and truth. We know this because we have surveyed nature and have learned great truths about cooperation within ourselves and in the divine plan. We know this because of the lessons of the beehive.

The beehive is an emblem of industry and cooperation that reminds us to be productive and to helpful to others in need. As bees are social creatures, dependent on one another, working hard to fulfill their roles and obligations, so too are people. We rely on each other to provide the love, protection, and friendship that we all crave.

But the lessons of the beehive transcend our ritual. In one Greek tradition, the creation of bees and honey are told as part of the wedding of Zeus and Hera. It was a potluck affair with a prize for the best dish. The winner was Melissa, a tiny bug with a body too big for her wings. Her small dish of pure honey won her the right to ask Zeus for anything.

She explained how hard it was to gather enough pollen to make even the smallest spoonful of honey and that she had no way to protect it. So she asked for a weapon that killed with one strike, so that she might thwart would-be honey thieves. Zeus scoffed at the idea of giving such a lowly creature the power of life and death. But he nonetheless granted the request in his usual twisted fashion.

First, he made Melissa queen of her own hive, so that she may have thousands of helpers to make more honey. This ensured his own, ample supply of honey. Second, he gave Melissa and her brood a lethal sting. But instead of killing its target, it kills the user. A reminder that there is always a cost to pay when resorting to violence, even if in self-defense.

Historically, it is believed that the origin of beekeeping occurred shortly after, or concurrently with, the invention of agriculture in the fertile crescent of the Middle East some 10,000 years ago. This is when prehistoric man became small-scale farmers and learned to manipulate the lives of plants and animals to make them more productive for human purposes. And even before that, ancient man undoubtedly collected honey from wild hives.

In the Neues Museum in Berlin, there is a stone bas-relief carving depicting a beekeeper and several beehives. The carving dates to 2400 BCE and was originally part of the pharaoh Nyuserre's temple to the sun god Re at Abū Jirāb. It shows that nearly 4,500 years ago, beekeepers in Egypt had learned to house bees in artificial hives, use smoke to pacify them, and commercialize honey production. The techniques shown on the carving are still used in some parts of the Middle East.

Beekeeping was so important to the Romans that, in the first century, Lucius Junius Moderatus Columella devoted book 9 of his 12-volume work on agriculture to beekeeping. From it, we know the Romans made some modest improvements on the Egyptian methods.

After the Roman period, beekeeping north of the Mediterranean developed two diverging techniques. In heavily wooded areas like eastern Germany, Poland, the Baltic region, and Russia, beekeepers kept their hives in trees. Often, natural cavities in trees would be enlarged and trap doors added to allow for the harvesting of honey. In less wooded areas—like western Germany, the Netherlands, Britain, Ireland, and France—beekeepers used an inverted basket for hives. This basket is called a skep and is the distinctive beehive shape so common in popular culture, which also lends its shape to Grand Master Wilkins's pin.

The skep's advantage over prior beehive designs is that it was easier to move from field to field, which increased pollen collection, and thus, honey production. But harvesting honey from a skep usually kills the bee colony.

The modern movable-comb beehive used today was pioneered in Philadelphia by Lorenzo Lorraine Langstroth. His designs are portable like skeps, but also allow beekeepers to inspect and harvest honeycombs without killing the bees. As a result, production grew exponentially, and honey is now commonly available.

And why do we care so much about bees and honey? Why devote so much of this oration to myth and history? The beehive is a Masonic symbol, but it is monitorial—left for later study.

Well, welcome to "later."

It is unlikely that Masonry invented the beehive as a symbol. Rather, it is more likely that we incorporated it from other, more ancient traditions. Thus, mythical and historical origins of bees and honey help us understand why ancient peoples valued them. This, in turn, may help us understand the Masonic beehive. Likewise, we can look to our faiths for even more insight.

In the Old Testament, God describes the Promised Land as "a land flowing with milk and honey." The Quran says honey is the cure for each disease. In Hinduism, honey is one of the five elixirs of life and several Hindu gods are said to be honey-born. The Buddha consumed honey immediately before and after his enlightenment. And honey was the prime ingredient in both ambrosia and nectar, which were the food and drink that gave immortality to the Greek gods. It is no wonder that man has always valued honey, and often associated it with enlightenment, good health, and immortality.

But honey was not the only valuable commodity harvested from beehives. For centuries, beeswax was also coveted for its use in candles, which allowed for worship and reading at night; thereby providing two forms of illumination.

And yet, when we study the beehive, we see that bees make honey and wax for themselves. They labor to ensure only their own survival—a seemingly selfish approach. But by acting in their own best interests, they inadvertently make the world a better place by pollinating the vegetation from which they harvest pollen.

So, how do we translate the beehive's lessons into our lives? How do we earn our own sweet honey of enlightenment? By showing up, working hard, and helping others.

Like the bee, we must focus first on ourselves. But unlike the bee, our labors are not limited to sustenance. We must improve ourselves, which is a much harder labor.

If we want others to practice brotherly love, relief, and truth, then we must first practice them in our own lives. If we want peace and harmony to prevail outside our lodges, we must first let them prevail in our own hearts. If we want the rest of the world to denounce conflict and embrace cooperation as mankind's better nature, then we must first be the example and show the way, like a bee showing others the way to flowered pastures.

When good men interact with society, they cannot help but spread goodness. Like a bee that goes from flower to flower, they go from person to person, interaction to interaction. They share kind words. They show compassion. They help people. And their goodness spreads. This is how Masons craft leadership. This is how we pollinate the world with Masonic values. We improve ourselves and then share our best selves with our communities.

But how can this possibly work? We are each just one person in a world of eight billion! Are we really to change the world one person at a time?

Yes.

Bees pollinate the world one flower at a time, yet who can count the thousands or tens of thousands of flowers a single bee touches in its relatively short life? So too shall we share our goodness, one interaction at a time. We may think our progress slow, but Masonry is a progressive science. It works by small and incremental improvement. We do not expect instant results when we work on ourselves. Why would we expect anything different when working on society?

We improve our ashlars, but we never perfect them. We build pyramids, but we never place capstones. We climb Jacob's Ladder, but the top is always just out of sight. We continue to hope that with time, patience, and perseverance, our labors—our journeys—will eventually produce honey, for us and for others.

Even though we labor all our lives, we may still leave behind a world where peace and harmony do not prevail. Because just as our individual work to improve ourselves is slow and unending, so too is the work to bring peace and harmony to all mankind.

We all serve at the will and pleasure of the Supreme Grand Master of the Universe. We take instruction from His trestleboard. We cannot predict the butterfly effect of any of our deeds. But we can have faith in His plan. For like the ashlar, the pyramid, and the ladder, we must accept that we may not see the work completed. And we may not even know the whole plan.

Yet, we shall not be discouraged. Our hard work yields progress. We see how we make the world better—one person, one interaction—at a time. We see how we help bring out the better nature in others. And our store of honey grows one drop at a time. It may not sound like much, but a little honey goes a long way.

So, as the sun rises on a new Masonic year, let us imitate the honeybees emerging from the hive in the early spring. Let us go forth into the world, mingle with the stranger, act with charity, and leave things a little better than we found them. And when we return home, let us return better men, looking forward to the fruits of our labor, the spiritual honey of enlightenment, and the promise of an everlasting morning in a pasture full of our favorite flowers.

Respectfully submitted,

Peter A. Ackeret, Grand Orator

GRAND MASTER WILKINS'S DECISIONS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

GRAND MASTER WILKINS'S DECISION NO. 1: CLARIFIES THE PROVISION OF THE TITLE OF PAST MASTER

The California Masonic Code contains detailed provisions as to who may receive the title of Past Master, including provisions for the resignation or death of the Master. It does not, however, provide explicit instruction in the event the Charter of a Master's Lodge is suspended during his term as Master. This Decision clarifies that, in this circumstance, the Master may not receive the title of Past Master if he does not complete his term or serve until the installation of his successor.

If you approve this decision, the following narrative will be added to the appendix of the California Masonic Code in which the Grand Master's interpretative decisions are recorded:

Interpretation of Section 805.020 of the California Masonic Code.

TITLE OF PAST MASTER
(2022 G.M. DECISION NO. 1)

If the Charter of a Lodge is suspended during a Master's term of office, and such Master is removed from office or does not serve until the installation of his successor, then the title of Past Master shall not apply to him and he shall not be entitled to membership in Grand Lodge, unless otherwise qualified.

Does not amend the Constitution, Ordinances or Ritual. Simple majority affirmative vote required for adoption.

GRAND MASTER WILKINS'S RECOMMENDATION NO. 1:

ALLOWS LODGES MEETING LESS FREQUENTLY THAN MONTHLY TO CONDUCT CERTAIN BUSINESS IN ALTERNATE MONTHS

AT THE OCTOBER 2021 ANNUAL COMMUNICATION, the fraternity amended the monthly Stated Meeting requirement allowing Lodges to choose the frequency of Stated Meetings so long as they meet at least quarterly.

Reporting and other provisions in the California Masonic Code limit this new flexibility by requiring Lodges to meet during specific months of the year. Lodges that meet less than monthly must still hold Stated Meetings during the months of February and August in order to receive annual and semi-annual Lodge reports, and during the month of November to elect officers.

I recommend that these provisions of the Code be revised so that Lodges can determine the meeting frequency that works best for it and still meet the requirements of the Code by allowing a Lodge to conduct the required business at the Stated Meeting immediately following the deadline. For instance, if a Lodge holds Stated Meetings in the months of March, June, September and December, it shall elect officers in December instead of November. The Treasurer and Secretary of such Lodge would make their annual and semi-annual reports in March and September instead of February and August.

The recommended changes to the Code allow Lodges to decide what months they meet. While they do not eliminate reporting or election requirements, they allow Lodges to meet deadlines without having to hold a Stated Meeting in a specific month.

If you adopt this recommendation, Section 807.000 of the Code will be amended as marked:

A Lodge shall hold a Stated Meeting for the transaction of business at least once quarterly, on the date (other than a Sunday) and at the time established in its Bylaws. The foregoing notwithstanding, Lodges whose Bylaws provide for monthly meetings fixed by the phase of the moon shall hold a Stated Meeting for the transaction of business once in each lunar month.

A Lodge may be opened for a Stated Meeting prior to the time fixed in its Bylaws. However, no business shall be transacted prior to such time

The Inspector or Grand Master may grant a dispensation to change the date of a Stated Meeting, as provided Section 405.060 of this Code.

In the event that the Master of a Lodge determines that inclement weather, including but not limited to ice, snow, and flood conditions, or non-weather related unsafe conditions, including but not limited to flood, fire, earthquake, civil disturbance and the like, existing on the day established in the Bylaws of the Lodge for its Stated Meeting, makes it hazardous for members of the Lodge to attend the meeting, he may, with the concurrence and consent of the Inspector of the district to which the Lodge is assigned, postpone the Stated Meeting to the same day of the week next following the week scheduled for the Stated Meeting. The Master shall notify, to the extent possible, all members of the Lodge residing within fifty miles of the meeting place of the Lodge of the date of the postponed Stated Meeting.

Should a Stated Meeting be postponed, the business transacted at the postponed Stated Meeting shall be limited to the reading of the minutes of the last Stated and subsequent Special Meetings, action thereon, payment of the invoices of the Lodge, and such other business of an important nature as determined by the Master to require immediate consideration. No other new business shall be considered.

If this Code requires certain business to be conducted in a particular month, and a Lodge that meets less frequently than monthly does not hold a Stated Meeting in such particular month, then such Lodge shall conduct such business at its Stated Meeting next succeeding such particular month.

Amendment to the Ordinances.
5/6 affirmative vote required for adoption.

CARRY-OVER LEGISLATION FROM 2021

GRAND MASTER WEISS'S RECOMMENDATION NO. 2:

ESTABLISHES THE LODGE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE AS A STANDING COMMITTEE

OUR MEMBERS TELL US they are looking for more meaningful lodge experiences, including more efficient and more engaging Stated Meetings. Many Lodges are now using an executive committee to plan lodge meetings and ensure that the Lodge is operating in an efficient and successful manner. The executive committee consists of the Master, Wardens, Treasurer and Secretary. Lodges with executive committees have shown good progress in providing well planned meetings and meaningful engagement for their members.

This recommendation provides a framework for all Lodges to benefit from this best practice. This resolution does not, however, change the authority of the Lodge to act and decide on matters before the Lodge as they do presently.

If you adopt this recommendation, Section 806.000 of the Code will be amended as marked:

A. The Master and Wardens shall be a Charity Committee, and shall have the power to draw upon the funds of the Lodge for any sum, not exceeding $100 at any one time (or such greater amount as the Lodge may from time to time provide by a standing resolution), for the relief of a distressed worthy Mason and the wife, widow or orphan of a Master Mason.

B. The Master, Wardens, Treasurer and Secretary shall be an Executive Committee, and shall meet at some time prior to each Stated Meeting, at a time and place and in a manner designated by the Master who shall chair the Committee. Its duties shall be to assist the Master concerning the operation and affairs of the Lodge and to perform such other duties as he may designate.

C~~B~~. The Master, at the Stated Meeting next succeeding his installation, shall appoint an Auditing Committee, whose duty it shall be to examine all accounts presented against the Lodge and the books and records of the Treasurer and Secretary. Neither the Treasurer nor Secretary may serve on the Audit Committee.

D~~C~~. The Master, at the Stated Meeting next succeeding his installation, shall appoint a Member Retention Committee to personally, or otherwise, interview each delinquent Mason, ascertain the cause, and work closely with the Master and officers in a continuing effort to effect the retention of all worthy brothers unable to pay.

E~~D~~. The Lodge may have such other committees as the Master or the Lodge may deem proper to appoint. All committees shall be appointed by the Master, unless the Lodge provides otherwise.

F~~E~~. All reports of committees shall be in writing.

G~~F~~. Only members of the Lodge in good standing may serve on a Lodge's committees.

GRAND MASTER WEISS'S RECOMMENDATION NO. 3:

PERMITS VIRTUAL PARTICIPATION IN STATED MEETINGS

AT THE 171ST ANNUAL COMMUNICATIONS OF THE GRAND LODGE, Sections 807.000 and 807.010 of the California Masonic Code were amended to allow for entirely virtual Stated Meetings when assembling the required number of persons for holding a Stated or Special Meeting is prohibited by government authority. These amendments allowed our Lodges to continue to transact important business during the COVID-19 Pandemic. With the withdrawal of government prohibitions on private meeting and events, Lodges may now meet in person. I hope we never again have cause to rely upon these amendments.

During the pandemic, however, we learned that virtual participation at Stated Meetings provided opportunities for certain Masons to participate in Lodge who in the past had been unable to do so or who could only do so infrequently or with difficulty.

This recommendation provides a path for Masons to continue to participate in their Lodge in-person Stated Meetings. This recommendation would permit, but not require, Lodges to provide opportunities for their members, Entered Apprentices and Fellow Crafts to attend virtually the business portion of in-person Stated Meetings.

This recommendation does not permit Lodges to hold entirely virtual Stated Meetings. A Lodge may do so only if the conditions and requirements of Section 807.000 for an entirely virtual Stated Meeting are met.

In preparing this recommendation, I have considered a number of factors from our brethren concerning modes of recognition and other ritualistic matters, balloting, and the participation of officers and other Masons.

Regarding modes of recognition, which is to say the due guards and signs a Mason displays when addressing the Master of the Lodge, a concern was that someone other than the Mason may inadvertently view the modes of recognition displayed during the business portion of a Stated Meeting. To address this, my recommendation directs that the Lodge room camera be focused exclusively on the Master, who does not return any modes of recognition when he is addressed. As such, no inadvertent communication of the secrets of Masonry could be revealed to a non-Mason in this manner. Other ritualistic participation, including the conferral of degrees or examination of candidates, which include recitation of oral sections of the ritual, as well as displays of the methods of recognition, are not included as permitted activities for virtual participation. Within this recommendation we have limited the participation to specific portions of the Order of Business, which begins with the reading of the minutes, which occurs after the ritual for opening the stated meeting, and ends with the completion of miscellaneous and unfinished business, which immediately precedes conferral of degrees and also the ritual for the closing of the Lodge. In the same vein of thinking, no participation in virtual special meetings are included in the recommendation, as those meetings are intended for brief business subjects and predominantly deal with the conferral of degrees and ceremonies.

Balloting is an important aspect of a lodge's business, as well as the election of an applicant to receive degrees or affiliate. As with previous virtual stated meetings, this recommendation extends the ability for members to participate in voice votes as a Lodge where the Master judges the outcome of the vote by listening to the members vocalize their intent. In other ballots, such as balloting upon applications using the ballot box, or other secret ballots, members participating virtually would be unable to participate in those votes. This is consistent with the directions I provided with my directive on virtual stated meetings in November of 2020. For these reasons, members participating virtually would not be counted in the quorum of a lodge.

The Officers of the Lodge are essential to the business of the Lodge, and therefore must be present when the Lodge is at labor. For that reason, all officers of the lodge must be present. They may not participate in their officer position remotely. That is to say, if the Mason who is the installed Senior Deacon of a Lodge is unable to be present in person, the person who is occupying the chair of the Senior Deacon in the Lodge room is the Senior Deacon of the Lodge at that moment. This does not bar the Mason who is an installed officer from participating in the stated meeting virtually.

I have left it to the discretion of the Lodge as how to best engage its Masons virtually. The only requirement written into my recommendation is that the Lodge room camera be placed on the Master, and not elsewhere in the Lodge. This could be accomplished by a laptop on the Master's podium or other means. It would be permissible for the Lodge to display its remote Masons to those in the Lodge room.

These are important matters to consider when continuing the virtual participation of Masons in our Stated Meetings.

If you adopt this recommendation, a new Section 807.005 would be added to the Code to read as follows:

§807.005. LIMITED VIRTUAL STATED MEETING PARTICIPATION.

The Master of a Lodge may authorize the Lodge to allow its Masons to participate in the business portion of a Stated Meeting virtually through the use of conference telephone, electronic video communication or electronic transmission, provided that all of the following conditions are met:

A. Virtual attendance by a Mason of the Lodge at a Stated Meeting is permitted only during the following portions of business as defined in Section 807.030 of this Code:

1. Reading of the minutes;
2. Reports of investigating committees;
3. Balloting;
4. Reception of applications; and
5. Miscellaneous and unfinished business.

B. During the portions of the Stated Meeting that a Mason of the Lodge may attend virtually:

1. Each Mason participating virtually in the meeting can communicate with all of the other Masons concurrently and is provided the means of participating in the meeting, when recognized by the Master.
2. Each member participating virtually is permitted to vote on matters before the Lodge arising during the portion of the meeting where virtual attendance is permitted, provided that the vote is taken by voice vote, by hand or by rising vote. Members participating virtually shall not participate in any vote taken by ballot and shall not be considered present for the purposes of any vote by ballot.
3. Video transmission, if any, to Masons participating virtually is limited to video of the Master. Video transmission of Masons of the Lodge participating virtually, if any, is at the discretion of the Master.

C. No Mason participating virtually may fill an officer place or station.

D. A member participating virtually is not counted in attendance for purposes of determining a quorum.

GRAND MASTER WEISS'S RECOMMENDATION NO. 4:

NEGOTIATED SETTLEMENT AT MEDIATION TO BE BINDING AND FINAL

MEDIATION HAS BECOME AN EFFECTIVE TOOL for this Grand Lodge to settle disputes among brothers and reduce the number of Masonic Trials for unmasonic conduct. This Grand Lodge formalized the process into the California Masonic Code with its adoption of Grand Master Wright's Recommendation No. 4 at the 170th Annual Communication.

However, an accused brother may be reluctant to enter into a negotiated settlement made during a mediation if he believes someone other than the known accusers will bring charges on the same subject at a later date. It is in this Grand Lodge's interest that disputes among brothers be settled with finality. A brother who has agreed to a mediated settlement should not be subject to charges on the same subject matter at a later date. In my view, this result would be unfair and a form of double jeopardy.

If you adopt this recommendation, the Code would be amended to permit the negotiated settlement at the mediation of a charge of unmasonic conduct to become the binding and final resolution of the matter. To protect against potential abuse, the negotiated settlement would be a binding and final resolution of the matter only if after review it is so ordered by the Grand Master with the concurrence of the Committee on Trial Review.

If you adopt this recommendation, the following changes will be made to the Code. Section 1404.570 of the Code which would be amended to read as marked:

If in the Trial Master's judgment all of the evidence introduced at trial, taken together, would not warrant a guilty verdict on a charge of unmasonic conduct, then he shall dismiss such charge. The trial record shall set forth the dismissal and the Trial Master's reasons for it. Subject to the provisions of Section 1404.950 of the Code, sSuch a dismissal shall not prevent any subsequent filing of the same or similar charge but with more evidence.

The Trial Master shall notify the Grand Secretary of such dismissal and the reasons for it. The Grand Secretary shall then notify the Accuser and the Accused of the action taken, as well as the Accused's Lodge and the Inspector assigned to such Lodge. If the Accused is a member of more than one Lodge, the notification shall be given to every Lodge of which the Accused is a member, as shown in Grand Lodge's records, and the Inspector assigned to each such Lodge.

Section 1404.950 of the Code would be amended to read as marked:

When Grand Lodge determines that the Accused ought not to have been convicted, and sets aside a verdict of conviction without ordering a new trial, its judgment is final, and the Accused may not be tried again on the same charge.

Upon Grand Lodge's review and approval, a conviction or acquittal on a charge of unmasonic conduct under this Code is a bar to a future prosecution on the same charge in this Jurisdiction.

If so ordered by the Grand Master with the concurrence of the Committee on Trial Review, a dismissal of a charge of unmasonic conduct under this Code is a bar to a future prosecution on the same charge in this Jurisdiction.

Amendment to the Ordinances.
2/3 affirmative vote required for adoption.

GRAND MASTER WEISS'S RECOMMENDATION NO. 5:

TRANSFER OF AN ACCUSED TO THE GRAND MASTER'S LODGE

THERE HAVE BEEN MANY INSTANCES where disharmony within a lodge has resulted from the actions of a single, disruptive member. This disharmony has on occasion escalated such that the lodge's charter has been suspended pending resolution of the matter. Rule 181 of the United Grand Lodge of England permits its lodges by resolution to exclude any member for sufficient cause with sufficient notice and a two-thirds vote. Sufficient cause can include an allegation of disharmony or potential disharmony within the lodge. While I am not prepared to recommend that California adopt a similar rule, I believe that this remedy should be available in resolving charges of unmasonic conduct filed against a disruptive brother. However, I also believe that the interests of our lodges and of individual brothers in these circumstances should be balanced. If the remedy at trial is exclusion instead of suspension or expulsion, the excluded brother should not be in jeopardy of losing his standing as a Mason. To that end, I believe that, when exclusion is found to be an appropriate resolution of a charge of unmasonic conduct, the excluded brother should simultaneously be transferred to the Grand Master's Lodge so that he can maintain his standing as a Mason with the right to petition another lodge for affiliation if he and such other lodge so choose.

If you adopt this recommendation, the Code would be amended to allow transfer of an accused to the Grand Master's Lodge as a permitted resolution of a charge of unmasonic conduct.

If you adopt this recommendation, the following changes will be made to the Code. Section 815.000 of the Code which would be amended to read as marked:

The Grand Master's Lodge is a special classification of Constituent Lodge which shall be subject to all provisions of this Code applicable to Constituent Lodges, except as follows:

A. There shall be only one Grand Master's Lodge in this Jurisdiction, and it shall be chartered with the name "Grand Master's Lodge" without a Lodge number;

B. The officers of the Grand Master's Lodge shall be the Grand Master as Master, theSenior Grand Warden as Senior Warden, the Junior Grand Warden as Junior Warden, the Grand Treasurer as Treasurer, and the Grand Secretary as Secretary, each of whom shall serve in this office ex officio;

C. Membership shall consist only of:

1. As ex-officio members, the Grand Master, the Deputy Grand Master, the Senior Grand Warden, the Junior Grand Warden, the Grand Treasurer and the Grand Secretary; and

2. Those Entered Apprentices, Fellow Crafts and Master Masons of a Constituent Lodge at the time that the Lodge's charter is surrendered or revoked who are not at the time a plural or dual member in another Lodge; and

3. Those Masons while holding a Demit issued under Section 1404.620 of the Code and not a plural or dual member in another Lodge.

D. Membership in the Grand Master's Lodge shall cease for any member upon taking a Demit therefrom or by a plural or dual membership in another Lodge;

E. The Grand Master's Lodge shall hold no meetings nor confer any degrees but may request courtesy work for its Entered Apprentices and Fellow Crafts in another Lodge;

F. The provisions of this Code requiring certain recommendations, notifications and certificates from an Inspector dealing with qualifications of officers and membership in a Lodge seeking a Dispensation or Charter shall not apply to the Grand Master's Lodge. Its Dispensation and Charter shall be issued without charge or vote of Grand Lodge;

G. The forms of Petition for Dispensation, Petition for Charter, Charter and Uniform Code of Bylaws shall be adopted insofar as the provisions may be applicable to the Grand Master's Lodge, except as required to comply with the provisions of this section;

H. The provisions of this Code dealing with the qualifications of the Master, Senior Warden and Junior Warden of a Constituent Lodge shall not apply to the officers of the Grand Master's Lodge;

I. The Grand Master's Lodge shall not be entitled to representation in Grand Lodge or any vote therein;

J. Dues for the operation of the Grand Master's Lodge shall be established by the Grand Master each year in an amount sufficient to offset any cost to Grand Lodge for the operation of the Grand Master's Lodge, imposing no burden on the per capita. These dues shall be sufficient not only to pay the costs of the operation of the Grand Master's Lodge, but also the per capita due Grand Lodge each year;

K. The life members of a Constituent Lodge at the time that the Lodge's charter is surrendered or revoked who become members of the Grand Master's Lodge shall be life members of the Grand Master's Lodge and shall be forever exempt from the payment of dues in the Grand Master's Lodge.

The Life Membership Fund of the dissolved Lodge shall be kept by Grand Lodge in a separate fund, and the interest or dividends paid in cash on such fund shall be used to offset any cost to Grand Lodge for the operation of the Grand Master's Lodge. If a life member's membership in the Grand Master's Lodge shall cease for any reason, his life membership in the Grand Master's Lodge shall cease also.

The foregoing notwithstanding, if a life member of the Grand Master's Lodge is elected to membership in a Constituent Lodge which then offers life memberships, his interest in Grand Master's Lodge Life Membership Fund shall be transferred to the Life Membership Fund of such Lodge. If such member's interest in the Grand Master's Lodge's Life Membership Fund is less than the current cost of a life membership in the Lodge to which he has applied, he must pay the difference within 60 days of the notice of his election to membership. Upon his payment, he shall become a life member of that Lodge. If he does not make such payment within 60 days of the notice of his election, he shall forfeit his interest in the Grand Master's Lodge's Life Membership Fund to the Lodge to which he has been elected. Should he later purchase a life membership in that or any other Lodge, he shall receive no credit for these forfeited amounts.

The life member's interest in the Grand Master's Lodge Life Membership Fund shall be equal to the lesser of the original sum of money paid to purchase his life membership or his share of the fair market value of the Grand Master's Lodge's Life Membership Fund at the time of his election to membership in the Constituent Lodge which then offers life memberships, as determined by the Grand Treasurer. In making this determination, the Grand Treasurer shall compute the interest of each living life member in the Grand Master's Lodge's Life Membership Fund and the interest of the Grand Master's Lodge in it, on a just and equitable basis.

The Life Membership Funds of every dissolved Lodge may be combined into one common Grand Master's Lodge Life Membership Fund at the option of the Grand Treasurer or Grand Secretary; and

L. All other actions requiring the consent or vote of the Lodge shall be effected by the Grand Master acting alone.

Section 1404.620 of the Code would be amended to read as marked:

The penalty upon a finding of guilt on one or more specifications shall be fixed at one of issuance of a Demit from one or more Constituent Lodges, reprimand in open Lodge, suspension for a definite period of no more than one year, suspension for an indefinite period or expulsion, subject to review by Grand Lodge as provided in Article 9 of this chapter. The penalty fixed shall also be subject to the following requirements:

A. Absent mitigating circumstances, the penalty shall be set at expulsion upon a finding of guilt on one or more specifications involving moral turpitude or the conviction of a crime involving a violation of the moral law;

B. Absent aggravating circumstances, the penalty shall not be set at expulsion unless there is a finding of guilt on one or more specifications involving moral turpitude or another violation of the moral law or a conviction under the criminal laws of the United States or of any other governmental entity;

C. Absent aggravating or mitigating circumstances, the penalty shall be set at suspension for a definite or an indefinite period upon a finding of guilt on one or more specifications involving a knowing refusal to obey the Grand Master's authority properly exercised but which do not involve moral turpitude nor another violation of the moral law;

D. Absent aggravating circumstances, the penalty shall be set at issuance of a Demit from one or more Constituent Lodges or reprimand in open Lodge upon a finding of guilt on specifications, all of which:

   1. Involve neither moral turpitude nor another violation of the moral law nor a conviction under the criminal laws of the United States or of any other governmental entity;

   2. Involve no breach of a fiduciary duty;

   3. Do not involve a knowing refusal to obey the Grand Master's authority properly exercised;

   4. Resulted in no material harm to Masonry or any individual; and

   5. Involved conduct not likely to be repeated; and

E. The penalty upon a finding of guilt on any other specification shall be set as determined during the proceeding, subject to review by Grand Lodge as provided in Article 9 of this chapter.

Amendment to the Ordinances.

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge, F. & A. M. of California:

WHEREAS, the allowance of alcohol consumption by California lodges at Lodge

RESOLUTION NO. 22-04:

MODIFIES THE THRESHOLD AMOUNT OF A CONTRACT REQUIRING THE APPROVAL OF THE GRAND LODGE COMMITTEE ON MASONIC PROPERTIES

The proponents of this Resolution seek to increase the threshold amount of a contract requiring the approval of the Grand Lodge Committee on Masonic Properties from $25,000 to $50,000.

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge, F. & A. M. of California:

WHEREAS, California Masonic Code Section 406.060.D requires prior consent of the Grand Lodge Committee on Masonic Properties if the expected cost of any construction, alteration, improvement, replacement, repair, or maintenance to a Masonic building is in excess of $25,000;

WHEREAS, this amount has not been increased since the year 2000;

WHEREAS, the California Construction Cost Index maintained by the California

Department of General Services has increased by more than 127 percent over the last 22 years;

WHEREAS, with the rise in construction costs, the present threshold of $25,000 is not appropriate for current conditions, being no longer adequate to cover many of the routine projects that Masonic Hall Associations are required to undertake;

WHEREAS, raising the threshold would reduce the burden of work unnecessarily incurred by Masonic Hall Associations, by the Grand Lodge Committee on Masonic Properties and by the Grand Lodge Office staff, together with the expenses associated therewith;

WHEREAS, removing barriers to the improvement, repair and maintenance of Masonic properties would assist in improving positive awareness of the fraternity and further the aims of the 2025 Strategic Plan;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that Section 406.060 of the California Masonic Code be amended as marked:

The Committee on Masonic Properties shall consist of not less than five nor more than twenty members. It shall examine and approve all details regarding any contract involving a Lodge, Masonic Hall Association, committee, partnership or corporation or other entity representing itself to be Masonic in character, or operating for the benefit of a Constituent Lodge or Constituent Lodges for:

A. Any option or contract for the purchase of real property;

B. The encumbrance of real property;

C. The lease of real property, as lessor or lessee, for more than three years;

D. A contract for or commencement of the construction, alteration, improvement, replacement, repair, or maintenance of real property if the expected cost is in excess of ~~$25,000~~ $50,000; and

E. Any option or contract regarding the sale or listing for sale of real property.

The committee shall, subject to the approval of the Grand Master, establish rules and regulations governing the processing of applications for committee approval.

The committee shall review the reports of transactions of Masonic Hall Associations submitted to the Grand Secretary as provided in Section 900.050 of this Code and may give counsel and advise concerning the operation of those Masonic Hall Associations.

The committee shall also advise Lodges and the Grand Lodge on matters of taxation with respect to income, property, sales and employment taxes.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES

MASONIC HOMES OF CALIFORNIA

The past year has largely seen a return to normalcy for the Masonic Homes of California. For nearly two years, the organization has adapted to the realities of life under the pandemic, from extended campus lockdowns to shifting to all-virtual service offerings through Masonic Outreach Services and the Masonic Center for Youth and Families. Still, the success of the Masonic Homes of California has been measured first and foremost by the health, well-being, and safety of its residents and staff.

By that measure, the past year has been a success, despite continually trying circumstances.

The challenges presented by the pandemic have continued to evolve and affected each area of the organization differently. Despite that, the Masonic Homes of California served more than 1,900 clients throughout California this past year. That includes 292 seniors living on its residential campuses in Union City and Covina; another 411 clients of the Masonic Outreach Services dispersed throughout the state; and about 1,200 clients through the Masonic Center for Youth and Families.

Transitioning out of the pandemic has come through fits and starts, as it has been everywhere. Our residential campuses continue to operate under local pandemic guidelines, but life has largely returned to normal. Many social activities and communal dining have resumed, and the campuses have re-opened visitation to the short-term rehabilitation facility.

That said, there have been several significant changes to the campuses—perhaps none bigger than the opening in fall 2021 of the Pavilion at the Masonic Homes. The Pavilion includes 28 apartments dedicated to those requiring memory-care and assisted-living services, and is open to Masons and their family members, as well as residents of Acacia Creek and, for the first time ever, members of the public who do not belong to the fraternity. Through the Pavilion, the Masonic Homes by bringing its high level of care to the wider community. The new residence is filling quickly with current residents who are now able to transition out of independent living, as well as clients coming in from the surrounding area.

In addition to the Pavilion, the Union City campus also saw the reopening of its newly renovated Adams Building, which has increased its capacity by nearly 25 percent to 48 apartments. Landscape upgrades and construction are ongoing on the Wollenberg Building, which when complete will increase occupancy by 15 residents to 39. In Covina, construction continues on the new skilled nursing building that will include 32 new apartments, divided evenly between memory care and long- and short-term skilled nursing. Once complete, overall capacity at the two campuses will have nearly doubled to 202 residents. The overall increase in capacity is particularly important for the Masonic Homes, as the waitlists for service at both campuses remain impacted. As of August 2022, 38 people were on the waitlist for services in Union City, including non-Masonic clients at the Pavilion; another 26 were on the waitlist in Covina.

Elsewhere in the organization, the Masonic Homes has adapted to a primarily virtual paradigm effectively. Thousands of people were served over the past year through the Masonic Assistance Line, which connects members with counselors and staff who can help them identify and access resources and emergency funds. Masonic Senior Outreach Services served more than 340 clients over the past year, helping elderly members access financial assistance as well as help navigating outside services such as Veterans' Affairs, AARP, or Medicare benefits. The Masonic Outreach Services staff also made more than 800 calls to members in response to fire relief. Our lodges were supported through Lodge Outreach meetings and skills-building workshops which trained 317 Masons throughout the year. The Masonic Value Network has also grown in both scope and popularity. This program helps members research and access healthcare options in their own communities and offers discounts by leveraging the Masonic Homes' relationships with vetted home healthcare providers, senior communities, placement services, and pharmacies. The prescription drug discount service has been especially popular.

The Masonic Center for Youth and Families has expanded to provide invaluable services as need exploded during the pandemic. Rapid expansion of telehealth services has enabled MCYAF to provide therapy and counseling programs to more than 1,200 adults, families, and young people throughout the state in the past year. MCYAF has increased its support to Masons across the lifespan, developing partnerships with the Masonic youth orders, presenting to spouses and partners, and providing direct services to residents of the Masonic Homes. In addition, the program—which once again received the prestigious Praesidium child safety certification in 2022—has seen a radical increase in interest in partnerships from outside community and Masonic organizations. One particularly encouraging such partnership began this year with the Pomona Unified School District, which contracted with MCYAF in a three-year, $250,000 agreement to provide services to students in their schools.

Partnerships like these represent an important way for the Masonic Homes of California to bring its world-class services to even more people in need. As such, the Masonic Homes continues to be an industry leader as a member of the Thrive Alliance, an influential, national group on the forefront of the promotion and research of innovative technologies for healthy aging. The Masonic Homes also continues to support and collaborate with the Alzheimer's Association, the Child Advocacy Center, and other local civic and healthcare organizations. Within the larger Masonic fraternity, the organization is committed to working closely with the Masonic Communities and Services Association and the RiteCare Language Centers of the Scottish Rite. These kinds of partnerships strengthen the reputation of Masons and the Masonic Homes in our communities and add to the awareness of the fraternity both close to home and on a national stage.

As the Masonic Homes approaches the 125th anniversary of its founding, it's with that kind of an eye on bringing the highest possible level of care to its community that the organization is plotting its future. Thanks to its foresight and advance planning—and the adaptiveness displayed over the past two years—the Masonic Homes of California is well-positioned to deliver on that promise.

The Board wishes to thank Grand Master Jeff Wilkins for his support; the board of trustees for their vision and guidance, and Board Chairman Larry Adamson for his leadership. As it has since 1898, the crown jewel of our fraternity continues to evolve and meet the needs of its community—as it will for the next 125 years.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES

ACACIA CREEK RETIREMENT COMMUNITY

AS THE ACACIA CREEK RETIREMENT COMMUNITY enters its 12th year of operation, its mission remains the same. To provide residents with an active and meaningful life. And despite the challenges posed by the pandemic, Acacia Creek is continuing to make good on that promise.

In 2022, the board of directors adopted a new strategic plan aimed at building on that foundation and propelling the organization into its next decade. The plan is supported by four pillars: quality of life, operational integrity, board engagement, and Masonic connections.

The first pillar, quality of life, represents the well-being, safety, and happiness of residents. This has always been, and will always be, Acacia Creek's guiding star, around which all decision-making and programming is focused. The second pillar is operational integrity, or the management of fiscal responsibilities. It ensures that the organization sets the right parameters in order to meets its financial goals. The third pillar is board engagement, aimed at developing a culture in which the board is participating actively in the Acacia Creek community. The final pillar, Masonic connections, aligns Acacia Creek's mission and strategic plan with those of the larger fraternity. With these pillars supporting its vision, Acacia Creek is primed to enter a new and successful phase of its growth.

Over the past two years, the COVID-19 pandemic has played a dramatic role in Acacia Creek's operations, severely limiting the ability to tour and fill vacant apartments. Nationally, occupancy rates across all senior housing models stood at just 81 percent as of the fourth quarter of 2021. Acacia Creek was not immune to this trend during the pandemic, and its overall occupancy rate has dropped from 96 percent capacity pre-pandemic to 77 percent as of August 15, 2022.

Increasing occupancy at Acacia Creek is the top priority moving forward. While in-person tours were restricted during the pandemic, they resumed in March 2022. Since then, tour activity has increased month over month. Bolstered by a fresh look on our sales materials and website, the sales and marketing programs have focused on stimulating interest through phone calls with contacts acquired through Acacia Creek's direct-mail program and website referrals. Retirement counselors are also updating members on the waitlist via phone, virtual tours, and over Acacia Creek's social media channels.

The most important news is the continued safety and health of all residents and team members. Thanks to a rigorous testing and safety regimen, to date, Acacia Creek has experienced only 13 cases of COVID-19 among residents and 17 among team members, with zero hospitalizations or deaths, out of 273 residents and team members. The board is confident that Acacia Creek will remain a safe and healthy environment for everyone, even as the pandemic continues to pose a serious threat. That's a sentiment that's been shared by many residents and team members, who time and time again have expressed their belief that Acacia Creek was the best possible place to be during such a chaotic and frightening time.

Acacia Creek's commitment to providing a safe and supportive atmosphere was once again reflected in its annual resident survey. In 2022, 93 percent of residents indicated their overall satisfaction with life on campus. Acacia Creek residents demonstrate, through the annual Successful Aging Personal Review, that they enjoy better health, nutrition, and physical activity than do those at comparable communities elsewhere in the country, or even in their own homes prior to moving to Acacia Creek.

Thanks to numbers like those, Acacia Creek remains certified as a Center for Successful Aging—one of just 15 communities nationwide to earn that designation, and the only one in Northern California. That certification is awarded to communities that have, over a five-year period, demonstrated a culture where residents can continue to grow and thrive. This has been achieved through the leadership's commitment to providing opportunities for advanced programming involving the physical, spiritual, social, and intellectual growth of residents—the anchor of the Successful Aging philosophy. Acacia Creek's partnership with Masterpiece LLC, a national organization which provides Acacia Creek with education and programs on physical and mental wellness, remains an important part of that success. Through Masterpiece LLC programs, Acacia Creek residents and staff members are empowered to pursue new skills, physical activities, and opportunities for personal fulfillment, and to contribute to the wider community. Since 2019, the Acacia Creek leadership team has focused on training all team members and their families on Successful Aging goals to encourage healthy living and promote job satisfaction. This includes opportunities for continuing education through a sponsored scholarship program.

Supporting team members in their own personal development is more important than ever, particularly against a backdrop of staffing shortages across the industry. (Nineteen percent of senior living communities reported severe staffing shortages as of spring 2022, while nearly 75 percent had at least "moderate" shortages.) That's why it's important that Acacia Creek continues to follow a team management concept and report a positive work environment. In the 2022 team member Satisfaction Survey, Acacia Creek team members rated their work experience at a 95 percent satisfaction level. Acacia Creek has historically enjoyed an industry-low 12 percent turnover ratio. Reliable team members play a vital role in making the community an ideal place to live.

Another important milestone in Acacia Creek's development came with the opening of the Masonic Homes of California's new Pavilion at the Masonic Homes in the fall of 2021. Access to this new facility is an important differentiator for Acacia Creek. Through the Pavilion and our partnership with Masonic Homes, residents at Acacia Creek can access highly skilled nursing and memory care services just steps away. These offerings bring peace of mind to those who may worry about aging in place, or about being separated from a loved one. With the Pavilion at the Masonic Homes now open and available to residents of Acacia Creek, those concerns can be put to rest.

The Board wishes to extend its sincere and continued appreciation to Bro. Chuck Major, president of Acacia Creek, and Bro. Martin Herter, vice president and administrator, who have maintained a high level of morale and accountability of the team during the pandemic. Together, they helped maintain the high-quality lifestyle for the residents that is the vision and goal of Acacia Creek.

The board would further like to thank the members of the Grand Lodge Executive Committee, the Grand Lodge staff, and the Masonic Homes Board of Trustees. We are excited about our future, and together we look forward to ensuring the continued success in support of the mission of Acacia Creek.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES

CALIFORNIA MASONIC FOUNDATION

AS MASONS RETURNED TO LODGE IN 2022, they sent a clear statement: Although much around them has changed, their commitment to the fraternity's charitable values has not.

In all, California Masons gave more than $8 million in 2022 toward the fraternity's charitable mission, including support of the Masonic Homes, public education initiatives, and other philanthropic causes. That includes record-high donations to Masons4Mitts, during which the program surpassed an important milestone, as well as an outpouring of generosity shown in the wake of the crisis in Ukraine. In all, it has been a highly successful year.

The California Masonic Foundation, led by its board of trustees and professional staff, has continued to fulfill its mission of ensuring that each California Mason has the opportunity to act on his charitable impulse, and to help direct that philanthropy to programs that enhance and support our fraternity. In 2022, that included a wide range of campaigns, including the ongoing Distressed Worthy Brother Relief Fund, which supports the Masonic Homes and brothers at every stage of life, and a series of college-access and college-readiness programs including the literacy nonprofit Raising A Reader.

Throughout this successful fundraising, the Foundation also made important progress in 2022 on other organizational priorities, particularly in identifying committed volunteer leaders. The impact that Masons make on the communities around them is only as strong as the individual leaders behind those efforts. That's why it's imperative that the Foundation identifies members who can be effective leaders of key programs, such as chairing a Public Education Advisory Committee or serving as a team captain for Masons4Mitts. Where we have strong leaders, we have success.

At the same time, the Foundation recognizes that leadership takes many forms. For some, leadership can be shown through personal charity; for another, it's volunteering their time and energy. Others can help encourage those around them to speak with pride about the Foundation's mission and programs. All of these leaders are critical to the success of not only the California Masonic Foundation, but to the fraternity at large. It's the Foundation's intention to continue to seek out these leaders and celebrate their contributions.

In 2022, California Masons demonstrated this kind of leadership through their generosity. Over the past year, members gave to the Foundation at a higher average gift level than in any year in the Foundation's history. The average member donation now stands at a record $311, reflecting a long-running trend toward more impactful gifts and bringing the Foundation in line with other top nonprofits and charities. The past year also saw an increase in overall member giving, lodge officer giving, and recurring online gifts. Both Grand Master Circle-level and Anniversary-level donors were both up in 2022. Simply put, Masons are becoming more generous than ever. And thanks to our charitable programs, that generosity is being put into action like never before.

While the Annual Fund underpins the Foundation's critical work with the Masonic Homes and in support of public schools, it's the planned giving program that generates the greatest single source of revenue for its charitable efforts. Members who include Masonic charities in their estate plans make the most significant contributions of all to the Foundation's ability to fulfill its obligation to provide relief for those in need.

In 2022, Masons have made planned gifts approaching $7 million in the form of gifts from wills and trusts. These planned gifts are the bedrock of the fraternity's charitable programs. To each and every member who has made this important decision, the Foundation thanks you. Your generosity is the key to our future success.

These Masons are members of the Foundation's Cornerstone Society, and serve as important examples of Masonic leadership, inspiring others to give and putting their hands up for others to see. It is the hope of the board that in 2023, even more Masons will join the nearly 200 living members of the Cornerstone Society who have made this powerful statement about their values and priorities.

Another important statement was sent this summer at Oracle Park in San Francisco. Thanks to years of guidance by members like Rich Modolo, Kendall Mills, Rod Moreland, and John Bermudez, the Northern California region of the Foundation's Masons4Mitts program surpassed $1 million in lifetime support of the Junior Giants program and the Giants Community Fund. As our first-ever Masons4Mitts foundation partner, the Giants Community Fund and the California Masonic Foundation have forged an important working relationship. Now, 14 years after first launching Masons4Mitts, our members were able to celebrate that important milestone with a special pregame ceremony and on-field check presentation.

The $1 million figure is particularly important. It represents more than 50,000 baseball gloves that have been distributed to Junior Giants players who might otherwise have not had access to the program, which teaches not only the skills of the game, but also important lessons about teamwork, character, and sportsmanship. In recent years, the program has grown to incorporate lessons on nutrition, fitness, and other important themes. For 50,000 young people, the square and compass embossed into their own leather baseball mitt is a reminder that someone they will likely never meet cared about their happiness and growth.

In addition to the Giants Community Fund, Masons4Mitts continues to partner with the charitable foundations of the Los Angeles Dodgers, Los Angeles Angels, and San Diego Padres. In all, the program is approaching $1.8 million in total gifts for the four programs. In each case, this support is about more than baseball—and more than mitts. It's about helping kids access important life lessons and have the enriching summer experience we all know they deserve.

The Foundation's other close charitable partnership continues to be a strong one, as well. Since 2011, the Foundation and Raising A Reader have worked together in support of family literacy by placing age-appropriate and expert-vetted reading material into more than 800 of the state's most under-resourced public school classrooms. By providing enriching and relevant books, Raising A Reader has a demonstrated ability to help raise the rates of household reading, and to foster in students a lifelong love of reading. Over the past 11 years, California Masons have donated more than $3.5 million to the program, which plans to expand to beyond 1,000 classrooms within the coming years. California Masons can take great pride in knowing that children and families throughout our state are taking steps to break generational cycles of illiteracy. We are truly making a difference.

The Foundation also remains committed to providing support to high school graduates and college students through its many scholarship programs. The C.E. Towne Masonic Awards support two primary groups of scholars. One is our partnership with Prince Hall Masons, through which dozens of children and grandchildren of Prince Hall Masons are able to receive an annual award based on academic and financial need. The other is through the Masonic Youth Leadership Award, which ensures that leaders of the Masonic youth orders receive support for their higher educational goals. In addition to those awards, the Foundation also supports the Investment in Success scholarship program. Through Investment in Success, the Foundation partners with college-access and college-success organizations to help create a pathway to success for first-generation college students. These are young people who may not have the academic credentials of other students, but who have overcome significant life obstacles and demonstrated great drive and character.

Lastly, the Working Tools scholarship is now in its second year, following a pilot year which involved a great deal of learning. Through the Working Tools program, students are able to access living-wage jobs through vocational education. COVID-19 presented difficulties for this program in particular, as training in the trades and technical fields depends on hands-on, in-person learning. Despite those challenges, the Foundation believes that California Masons can and will support a program that demonstrates that the path to success post-high-school includes more options than simply a four-year college degree.

The Foundation plans to make this one of its focal points over the next two years. Working Tools will help promote well-paying jobs in the trades and technical fields and encourage a new generation of students to investigate these career options.

Overall, 2022 was a year of success for the California Masonic Foundation. But it was also a time of sorrow and reflection, as Most Worshipful John R. Heisner passed away. Most Worshipful Heisner was grand master in 2016–17, as well as chairman of the California Masonic Foundation. Beyond that, he was a leader in the fraternity and a strong proponent of public education. Our hearts were heavy as we mourned our loss. Most Worshipful Heisner's contributions to our work are difficult to measure. California Freemasons everywhere will miss his passion for the craft, his steady guidance, and his friendship and leadership.

The trustees would like to formally thank the staff of the California Masonic Foundation, led by its president, Douglas Ismail. The Foundation's staff, including Denise Avila, Candler Gibson, Greg Cherry, Joshua Castro, and Rich Kellogg, have a combined experience with our fraternity exceeding 75 years. Their work on behalf of the Foundation has been critical to its success—and we would like to express our gratitude for their hard work.

We see 2023 as a time in which new leaders will step forward and carve their own paths. New Public Education Advisory Committee chairs and members, as well as new captains for Masons4Mitts, are already making their case to be the drivers of our future. The success of the Foundation flows from its leaders. Thank you for all your support of our efforts. Please consider joining our team by being a donor or volunteer. We promise you will feel better for it.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES

California Masonic Memorial Temple

After more than 18 months during which the California Masonic Memorial Temple had essentially gone dark, 2021–22 saw a welcome return to in-person gatherings. That was never more in evidence than at last fall's Annual Communication, one of the first large-scale events to return to the building—and a dramatic reminder of just how important it is to be back together again.

That return to something closer to business-as-usual defined the past year at the California Masonic Memorial Temple. With Live Nation resuming a full calendar of concerts and events, Freemasons' Hall hosting a full complement of lodge meetings, and much of the staff of the Grand Lodge returning to the office, the building had its typical buzz of activity.

Financially, the CMMT is nearly back to pre-pandemic revenue levels, and the Board is working to catch up on its 10-Year Capital Plan for improvements, some aspects of which were delayed over the past two years. As before, all improvements are paid for through the CMMT's operating cash flow. Through the consolidation of certain leases and renegotiation of new contracts, the Board anticipates revenue from the CMMT rooftop communications system to increase this year to approximately $100,000 annually. All told, the board anticipates a positive cashflow for CMMT of approximately $733,000 this year.

The CMMT also plays an important role to the wider fraternity. Net revenue generated through the building supports the efforts of the California Masonic Foundation. And as part of the 2025 Fraternity Plan, the Board has adopted a plan to activate the building and its various meeting spaces to support the fraternity's goal of improving positive awareness. To that end, visitors now encounter several QR codes placed around, within, and outside the building, which direct them toward information about the history of the building and California Freemasonry generally. (That effort coincides with a dedicated issue of California Freemason Magazine devoted to telling the story of the California Masonic Memorial Temple.) This, along with new online content about the CMMT and its importance to the fraternity, should help generate interest in Freemasonry among some of the 250,000-plus visitors to the building each year.

The board of the CMMT is proud to have built on its relationships with stakeholders and its immediate community. Live Nation, our largest corporate lessee, is back to a full slate of performances, and continues to be an excellent partner. Members of the board are also active members of the Nob Hill Association board, with Executive Vice President and Secretary Allan Casalou this year being named as chairman of the association. Together, Live Nation and CMMT continue to fund and support the maintenance of Huntington Park. Khalil Sweidy, our director of financial planning, serves as chairman of the Huntington Park Committee. As ever, the Board proactively engages with its residential neighbors to great success.

There have been some notable personnel changes this year with the retirement of PGM Bill Bray. Bray served on the Board since 2009 and had been chairman and president since 2015. The fraternity was well-served by his strong, good-natured leadership. This year also saw the retirements of Tom Boyer, who in addition to his work as CFO for the Grand Lodge worked on several projects for the CMMT; and Julia Gordan, whose assistance in preparing materials and logistics will be greatly missed.

A new addition to the Board was Jonathan Wong of Salinas No. 204, who has been immediately active and engaged in the work of the board. Carol Hunter, the newly hired Grand Lodge CFO, has also proved invaluable right away.

The board wishes to extend its appreciation to Executive Vice President and Grand Secretary Allan Casalou; outgoing Chief Financial Officer Thomas J. Boyer and now Carol Hunter; Director of Financial Planning and Real Estate Khalil Sweidy; General Counsel Andy Cameron; and Grand Treasurer Charles Cross. Thanks also go to Julia Gordon, as well as building manager Jacob Ware, and Joe Evans for his excellent curation and management of the Henry Wilson Coil Library and Museum of Freemasonry collections. Sincere thanks and appreciation also go out to the staff who work so diligently in representing the Board's interests and maintaining and managing the building. Finally, thanks to our grand master, Most Worshipful Jeff Wilkins, for the opportunity to serve, and for his active support of our efforts.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES

NOB HILL MASONIC CENTER

THE PAST YEAR HAS BEEN AN IMPORTANT ONE for the Nob Hill Masonic Center. After working hard to initially weather the storm brought on by the pandemic, the NHMC in fiscal year 2022 has pivoted its operations and brought in new revenue streams to remain profitable. As the Grand Lodge of California's only for-profit entity, it is responsible for ensuring the efficient and effective operation of the California Masonic Memorial Temple garage in order to generate an annual dividend for the Grand Lodge, which is its sole stockholder.

In 2020, the pandemic significantly disrupted the NHMC business model. Since March 2020, the fiscal impact of the pandemic to the garage is in excess of $761,000 in lost net profits. Almost overnight, daily and special-event parking receipts evaporated, and monthly parking suffered as neighborhood residents moved away or temporarily relocated. That spring, the NHMC board developed a three-part recovery plan to address the loss in revenue. Thanks to that plan, along with reserves generated in previous years, the NHMC was able to make its annual dividend payment of $350,000 in 2021 and expects to make its dividend payment for 2022.

Two significant changes have contributed to success in 2022: Revenue from monthly and event parking has rebounded strongly, and the operation of the Grace Cathedral Parking Lot, which began January 1, has contributed to increased profits. Midway through FY2022, overall net profits were $319,267—more than $200,000 better than originally planned for. The end result is that the garage is now posting slightly better than pre-pandemic revenues, despite the fact that some pandemic-era effects continue to be felt.

Event parking has seen a sharp increase in 2022, with Live Nation having resumed its typical schedule of concerts. Since its first concert, in August 2021, the promoter has returned to its full calendar of 79 yearly events and brought with it a dramatic increase in special-event parking receipts. Year-to-date, event parking is very nearly back to pre-pandemic levels.

Meanwhile, monthly parking has not only recovered, but set and broken records for quarterly revenue. With an average of 351 monthly parkers in 2022, the garage grossed more than $400,000 in the first quarter of the fiscal year, best in its history. Though daily parking continues to lag in its recovery (down 45 percent compared to pre-pandemic figures), the strength of monthly parking contracts and the return of special-event parking mean that the garage's core offerings are close to 2019 levels.

The NHMC has also activated a significant new revenue stream with the management of the Grace Cathedral Parking Garage. The board began leasing and operating the garage, located across California Street at 1051 Taylor Street, on January 1, 2022. By March of 2022, operations at the Grace Cathedral Garage were profitable. At the end of the second fiscal quarter, gross revenues from Grace Cathedral stood at $168,024—enough to push overall revenues above 2019 levels. The management of the Grace Cathedral garage is expected to contribute to a much-improved financial picture for NHMC by the end of fiscal year 2022.

Several improvements at the Nob Hill garage are ongoing. The new PARCS system, or Parking Access and Revenue Control System, was installed in early 2022, and now provides more detailed management of ticketing and receipts. In fact, in July, the PARCS replacement project was selected by the International Parking and Mobility Institute to be the subject of a presentation at its annual conference, which was dedicated to ways parking garage owners were able to take advantage of the pandemic to modernize technology. A new license plate recognition system is also being installed in September to provide further control over parking operations.

NHMC installed two DCFC supercharging stations and two additional Level 2 electric-car chargers this year. The move is being made to comply with a San Francisco city ordinance requiring garages to include a certain number of electric-vehicle charging stations. In June, the NHMC signed an agreement with the charging company Volta, under which Volta will lease the space for the four chargers and pay their electrical expenses. Volta installed the equipment at no charge to NHMC, as its business model is instead based on ad sales.

Another major improvement involves updating the signage at the entrance to the garage. This year, the board began working with an environmental design firm to review the garage's overall signage, wayfinding, and visual identity, with an aim to ultimately introduce clearer, more visually pleasing and useful signage. The first two phases of that five-part plan, which center on reviewing existing signage, are underway.

The Nob Hill Masonic Center Board's relationship with the wider community remains a priority. Relations have historically been strong, and continue to be so. As a member of the Nob Hill Liaison Group and the Nob Hill Association, the NHMC is a respected voice in the community. NHMC President and Chief Executive Allan Casalou was elected to serve as president and board chair of the Nob Hill Association, which is planning to continue its annual Holiday Lighting Ceremony in Huntington Park this year on November 28.

The Board wishes to extend its appreciation to its president and chief executive, Grand Secretary Allan Casalou, and to all the management and staff of the Grand Lodge who support its business. In addition, it thanks the grand master, Most Worshipful Jeffery M. Wilkins, and the executive committee for their confidence and support.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON FINANCE

Concerning the Cost Impact of Legislation for the 173rd Annual Communication

In accordance with California Masonic Code §406.035, the Grand Lodge Committee on Finance has reviewed the Resolutions to be considered at the 173rd Annual Communication and has prepared the following estimate of the cost impact of each to Grand Lodge, if adopted.

Grand Master's Decisions And Recommendations

The committee has reviewed Grand Master Wilkins's Decision No. 1 and Recommendation No. 1 and finds that none of this legislation will have a financial impact on the Grand Lodge budget.

Carry-Over Legislation

The committee has reviewed Carry-Over Legislation from 2021 and finds that none of this legislation will have a financial impact on the Grand Lodge budget.

New Resolutions

The committee has reviewed the new Resolution 22-01 through 22-04 and finds that this legislation will not have a financial impact on the Grand Lodge budget.

Additional Information

From time to time, legislation might propose changes to the ritual or the monitor. It has been a practice of the Grand Lodge to make the printed changes and produce new ciphers and monitors only after the current inventory has been depleted. Therefore, there is no additional expense caused by the adoption of such legislation.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON INSURANCE

THE MASONS OF CALIFORNIA'S CORPORATE INSURANCE PROGRAM provides coverage for lodges, hall associations, the Masonic Homes of California, Acacia Creek, and the California Masonic Memorial Temple (CMMT and Nob Hill Masonic Center. The program includes coverage for property, general liability, umbrella liability, earthquake, D-and-O, employment practices liability, and crime insurance policies, all of which were renewed on April 1, 2022.

We continue as we ended last year's insurance program, with a tough renewal. By now we are all aware of the pressures on the insurance industry with respect to insurers' appetite for fire exposures. The result is a reduced capacity to provide adequate limits and an overall increase in rates. Put simply, fire losses are driving rate increases. On a positive note, our fire insurer has held deductibles at the same level for the past three years. With the onset of COVID-19, insurers across the industry have added communicable disease exclusions. The specific exclusion of COVID-19-related losses is not unexpected. As was done the past three years, our insurance broker, Marsh, conducted a full insurance market review. Grand Lodge staff and the Insurance Committee worked diligently to look at cost-saving areas as well as ideas beyond traditional insurance transactions. These included self-insurance, insurance captives, and other risk-transfer methods. The committee will continue to review alternative risk-transfer methods.

Marsh reached out early to insurance markets and wholesale brokers. The result is a 9 percent increase, on top of a 9.3 percent increase last year. Marsh navigated a difficult marketplace, but we are confident that we have identified the most favorable coverages available to us. All premiums noted below are before taxes and fees, if applicable. All policy deductibles noted below are per claim.

PROPERTY INSURANCE PROGRAM RENEWAL

The renewed property insurance program for hall associations (for halls participating in the Grand Lodge-sponsored insurance program), Grand Lodge (including all constituent lodges), Masonic Homes of California, Masonic Center for Youth and Families, and Acacia Creek includes the following key terms and changes from last year:

- Insurer: AIG/Lexington (no change from prior year)

- Limits: $200 million
- Deductible: $25,000 (halls); $100,000 (all other entities)
- Premium: $2,271,095, a 12.18 percent increase. Property value increases accounted for 10 percent of the overall premium increase.
- Earthquake renewal premium for Acacia Creek: $224,074, an increase of 3.6 percent

CASUALTY PROGRAM RENEWAL FOR CMMT/NOB HILL, GRAND LODGE, AND HALLS

This program covers general liability, E-and-O liability, and auto liability for CMMT/Nob Hill, Grand Lodge, and halls. The renewed program includes the following key information:

- Insurer: Travelers Insurance
- Limits: $1 million occurrence, $2 million aggregate
- Deductible: $0
- Premium/cost: $342,953, a 4.5 percent premium increase

UMBRELLA LIABILITY

This program covers losses in excess of the general liability limit of $1 million. The renewed program includes the following key information:

- Insurers: Travelers and Liberty Mutual
- Limits: $5 million (Travelers); $5 million (Liberty Mutual)
- Deductible: $0
- Premium cost: Travelers—$86,359 (a 6 percent increase); Liberty Mutual/American Fire & Casualty—$44,076 (a 10.2 percent increase).

MANAGEMENT LIABILITY PROGRAM

This program includes directors and officers' liability, crime, and employment practices liability. The renewed program includes the following key information:

Director and Officers' and Employment Practices Liability (Lodges/Grand Lodge)

- Insurer: Chubb
- Limits: $3 million
- Deductible: $50,000 (director and officers); $250,000 (all other entities and EPLI geographic deductible for Orange, Ventura, and L.A. counties).

Director and Officers and Employment Practices (Halls)

- Insurer: Chubb
- Limits: $1 million
- Deductible: $75,000 (director and officers); $100,000 (EPLI); $250,000 (EPLI geographical deductible for Orange, Ventura, and L.A. counties)

Crime

- Insurer: Chubb
- Limits: $2 million (lodges), $1 million (halls)
- Deductible: $100,000
- Premium cost: $321,439, an increase of $2,556 (or 0.8 percent) over last year

CASUALTY PROGRAM RENEWAL, MASONIC HOMES OF CALIFORNIA/ACACIA CREEK/MCYAF

This program includes general liability and professional liability for all medical, Masonic Homes-related, and youth and family outreach exposures.

- Insurers: Chubb/Illinois Union, Lexington, and Lloyd's of London
- Limits: $5 million (Lloyd's primary); $5 million (Lloyd's excess)
- Limits: Acacia Creek—$1 million (Illinois Union primary); $4 million (Illinois Union excess)
- Deductible: $0; Acacia Creek—$25,000 (Illinois Union primary)
- Premium cost: $601,490, an increase of 7.5 percent over last year

CYBER LIABILITY

These policies are designed to address the ever-growing area of cyber-crime, including internet fraud, phishing scams, identity theft, and hacking. This is perhaps the fastest-growing insurance product and witnessing substantial premium increases as claims are starting to be paid out.

- Insurers: Coalition/Arch Specialty Insurance (primary) and Accredited Specialty Insurance

- Limits: $3 million (primary); $2 million (excess)
- Deductible: $25,000
- Premium cost: $57,052, an increase of 94 percent over last year

Workers' Compensation

The workers' compensation policies provide the statutory coverage required to protect employees during the course and scope of their employment. The workers' compensation program was marketed three years ago, with Travelers being the most competitive. Hall association employees are not covered under this program. Halls must contact the state fund or another insurer to obtain workers' compensation coverage for their employees.

- Insurer: Travelers
- Limits: Statutory
- Premium cost: $332,342, a 1.1 percent increase for the deductible program and 11.6 percent increase from last year for the first dollar policy. The first dollar policy increase is mainly attributable to a 10 percent increase in payroll.
- Deductibles: $0; $250,000 for the large deductible program, same as expiring

Conclusions

The property program premium continues to drive the overall program costs upward. We don't see an end to the trend as long as there is a 12-month fire season in California. Grand Lodge staff and the committee continue to push hall owners for reviews and increases in values where possible. The Insurance Committee cannot stress enough that this is not a one-year occurrence. Hall management should continue to focus on deferred maintenance issues and start preventative maintenance programs immediately.

Overall, the program was renewed in what continues to be a difficult market. Insurers are facing huge losses from climate change, fires, hurricanes, and flooding, and these are becoming more frequent and severe. We see no changes in this trend. In addition, cyber-related losses are now on insurers' radar. Overall, we pushed our broker to persuade underwriters to provide the best terms possible. In addition, as noted, work must continue with halls to help them better understand the need to provide realistic replacement cost values and understand that good housekeeping directly relates to ensuring broad coverage and reduced premiums. Terrorism coverage is purchased on all the major lines of insurance.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON INVESTMENT

Overview

THE INVESTMENT COMMITTEE HAS BEEN CHARGED with the prudent handling of Grand Lodge investment funds. These funds consist primarily of the General and Endowment funds for the Masonic Homes of California, but also include the investment portfolios of the California Masonic Foundation, California Masonic Memorial Temple and the Grand Lodge itself.

The financial objectives for these funds are laid out in our approved Investment Policy Statement:

> The primary objectives of the funds are to provide a regular and reliable source of financial support to the Masonic entity or its beneficiaries, while preserving the purchasing power of the funds after withdrawals are taken.

In plain English, we are tasked to make sure that the Homes, the Foundation and all entities that are entrusting their funds to our care can expect to receive a reasonable income, while their principle keeps pace with expected inflation over time.

As a simple example, if one of the entities wanted to be able to rely on a 4.5 percent distribution from its money, we know we'd have to earn at least that, by investing. If we also expected inflation to be 2 percent per year on average (eroding purchasing power of the principal), we'd know that we also want to grow the principle by 2 percent per year on average. We'd then know that we needed to build a portfolio that could reasonably be expected to return 6.5 percent over the long-term (4.5 percent spending + 2 percent inflation).

This example, while simple, is actually very close to the actual numbers used to form our return goals for the Grand Lodge investments.

The job of the Committee, then, is to build the portfolio with the best chance of accomplishing that return goal over the long-term, while exposing the portfolio to the least risk needed to attain that goal.

While the committee is comprised of diligent financial professionals who are astute in portfolio construction and global economics themselves; we also employ the use of a robust investment consultant team that help us quantify and evaluate the metrics of our portfolio and model the mix of investments that give us the greatest likelihood of achieving those goals.

Grand Lodge & Related Entity Investment Performance for the year ended June 30, 2022:

The Total Grand Lodge and Related Entities portfolio earned a rate of return of -10.7 percent for the year ending June 30, 2022. The relevant period consisted of both a tremendous growth period during calendar year 2021, as well as a sharp and sustained drop due to inflation and the interest rate increases designed to fight it, primarily, in 2022. The total fund policy benchmark during the same period was down 12.8 percent. The market value of the Total Grand Lodge and Related Entities portfolio as of June 30, 2022 was $972,985,730. For the three-year period ending June 30, 2022, the combined Grand Lodge and Related Entities portfolio returned an average return of 5.4 percent versus 4.6 percent for the benchmark. Since inception, our funds have returned 7.3 percent annually versus 7.3 percent return of the benchmark.

 Each asset class has its own benchmark, a description of these can be found in the supporting slides.*

* Benchmarks for these categories are not set by category, but are determined by the underlying investment relevance, and are provided in the Investment Performance Report.*

The Investment Committee has arrived at this investment policy through careful study of the returns and risk associated with alternative investment strategies in relation to the current and projected income needs of each fund. This policy has been chosen as the most appropriate policy for achieving the financial objectives of the funds.

Year in Review Activity

Allocation Changes:

This year we slightly reduced our exposure to real assets and private debt, and added to our US equity, non-US equity and fixed income.

Investment Managers Hired:

We believe that a disciplined manager selection process will result in a higher probability of hiring superior managers. We believe that past performance is an unreliable predictor of future success and is only one of many factors that should be used in the selection process.

During this period, the managers hired were:

- Emerging Markets Equity
- IShares MSCI Emerging Markets ETF
- Private Real Estate/ Real Assets
- Vision Ridge Sustainable Assets Fund
- Private Equity
- Spark Capital
- Thoma Bravo

Investment Managers Terminated:

Once managers have been thoroughly vetted and consistently monitored, as long as the manager's investment style is still part of our overall investment thesis, it is relatively rare that a manager get terminated, unless we have adjusted the positioning of the portfolio. In the last three years, we have, indeed, made several positioning changes. Much of the change comes from our positive effort to create a Private Markets portion of the portfolio.

As part of our fundamental philosophy, stated in our investment policy statement:

> "We believe that manager turnover is very expensive and extremely disruptive to the efficient and productive operation of an investment program. Managers should be hired with a long-run view... We also believe that constant and/or rapid turnover of managers, justified solely on the basis of relative underperformance is usually an indication of a lack of adherence to the selection and retention process. In particular, short-term (generally less than one year) underperformance should not be a reason for termination, unless it is accompanied by other adverse key retention characteristics."

During this period, the managers terminated were:

- Emerging Markets Equity
- Allianz Emerging Markets

Grand Lodge Investment Management

In order to fulfill our responsibilities in accordance with the Grand Lodge investment policy and philosophy, the investment committee meets quarterly with our investment consultant, NEPC, LLC. We also meet with our individual portfolio managers as needed and review due diligence reports quarterly from the consultants. We monitor the respective performance of the managers compared to various indices representing their objective. This process provides the Investment Committee with the necessary data to evaluate each investment manager on a timely basis, and to observe whether they continue to achieve the objectives of their mandate.

The committee also holds ad-hoc conference calls (as needed) to discuss any outstanding business or discuss the implementation of tactical changes within the portfolio.

Your Grand Lodge Investment Committee is also available to assist individual lodges in determining appropriate investment strategies. We are also here to help lodges establish a set of policies and procedures that are designed to ensure assets are invested according to the needs of the lodge and to safeguard against the misuse of funds. Investment Committee members continue to make themselves available to the lodges for assistance with this program and other questions regarding lodge investments.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON JURISPRUDENCE

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge, F. & A.M. of California:

THE COMMITTEE ON JURISPRUDENCE serves as the legal adviser to the grand master and the legal adviser to the Grand Lodge when in session. The committee reviews proposed resolutions and recommendations to be considered at the next Annual Communication and prepares any necessary legislation to carry out the intent of the proponents. At the Annual Communication, it comments on the legality of the grand master's decisions and dispensations, and on the legal effect of the proposed recommendations and resolutions. After the Annual Communication, it prepares the changes to the California Masonic Code to reflect the legislation which was adopted.

Grand Master Wilkins's Decisions and Dispensations

In the committee's view, those of Grand Master Wilkins's decisions and dispensations coming to its attention were legal and within his discretion.

On October 14, 2021, Grand Master Wilkins issued a decision entitled "Resumption of In-Person Meetings; No Further Virtual Stated Meetings." In that decision, Grand Master Wilkins noted that Past Grand Master Weiss's directive implementing the virtual meeting provisions of CMC §§807.000 and 807.010 expired at the close of the 2021 Annual Communication. The Grand Master also noted that the California Department of Public Health had lifted its Covid-related prohibitions on in-person meetings and that counties and cities throughout California had likewise lifted similar prohibitions on in-person meetings. Accordingly, the grand master found no cause or justification to renew Past Grand Master Weiss's directives related to virtual meetings. As Past Grand Master Weiss's directives had expired, and as the implementation of the virtual meeting provisions of CMC §807.010 is subject to the grand master's determination that assembling the required number of persons for holding a special meeting is prohibited by competent local, state, or national authority, it is the committee's view that Grand Master Wilkins's decision was legal and within his discretion.

Proposed Recommendations and Resolutions

In the committee's view, the legislation posted by the grand secretary to the Grand Lodge website on August 9 of this year is sufficient to carry out the intent of the proponents. We believe that each piece of this legislation has the legal effect set forth in it.

In presenting the legislation for your consideration, we make no recommendations as to the action to be taken with it. While the committee has written the title and introductory explanation for each resolution before you and assisted the proponents in drafting the code changes required to effect their intent, the proponents' arguments in their whereas clauses are their own. The committee does not assist in drafting the whereas clauses and makes no comments on them.

The legislation posted by the grand secretary to the Grand Lodge website on August 9 of this year requires no separate motion because they are automatically before this Annual Communication. The presiding officer will announce the vote required for the passage of each item before discussion begins. Any legislation which does not amend the California Masonic Code or the ritual requires a simple majority only for adoption. Any amendment to the California Masonic Code or the ritual must be adopted by a five-sixths affirmative vote. If the amendment receives a simple majority but less than a five-sixths affirmative vote, it carries over to the next Annual Communication, when only a two-thirds affirmative vote is required for adoption.

Committee Actions on Unmasonic Conduct

In addition to the foregoing responsibilities, the committee also reviews all charges of unmasonic conduct, strikes out those portions which are not supported by a clear and precise specification of unmasonic conduct, and revises those portions which are incorrect, ambiguous, or insufficient. As part of its review, the committee provides the parties with every essential factual element which must be proven at trial for the accused to be found guilty of each charge. The committee may dismiss charges if all the facts set forth in the specifications, even if true, would not warrant a verdict of unmasonic conduct. If in the committee's judgment a dispute warrants pre-trial mediation, the grand master may at his discretion appoint one or more Master Masons to mediate any such dispute. Since the last Annual Communication, the committee commented on the charges and specifications in 12 trials.

If a Mason under the disciplinary jurisdiction of this Grand Lodge has pleaded guilty or nolo contendere (or no contest) to, or has been convicted of, a crime of moral turpitude by a federal or state court, he shall be deemed automatically expelled from all the rights and privileges of Masonry without any further action of his lodge or grand lodge. The committee reviews a certified copy of the record of conviction to determine whether there has been an automatic expulsion. Since the last Annual Communication, the committee has reviewed one federal or state court record to evaluate whether there has been an automatic expulsion of the Mason involved in the proceeding. These matters are summarized in the attached Exhibit A.

No person shall hold or be eligible for membership in any constituent lodge who has pleaded guilty or nolo contendere to, or has been convicted of, a crime involving a violation of the moral law unless, for the reason that he did not commit the offense, he either has been pardoned or had his judgment of conviction vacated or reversed. All applicants are subject to background checks to determine compliance with this rule. Since the last Annual Communication, the grand secretary has asked the committee to review one federal or state court record to evaluate whether an applicant is eligible for the degrees.

We thank the grand master for the opportunity which he has given us to serve this year.

Respectfully submitted,

EXHIBIT A

AUTOMATIC EXPULSIONS

Trial No. 2994

In Trial No. 2994, the member pled guilty to a violation of California Penal Code Section 530.5(A) (the "Crime"). This section provides that any person who "willfully obtains personal identifying information...of another person and uses that information for any unlawful purpose...without consent of that person, is guilty of a public offense" and subject to a fine and/or imprisonment pursuant to subdivision (h) of Section 1170. Section 100.075 of the California Masonic Code and 2009 Grand Master's Decision No. 2 provide guidance as to the meaning of the term of moral turpitude. For conduct to involve moral turpitude, it normally must be accompanied by an inherently evil intent. An inherently evil intent is not required for a conviction under Section 530.5(A) of the California Penal Code. Automatic expulsion is not appropriate unless the only activity for which there could have been a conviction under the applicable statute involves moral turpitude. Therefore, based on the court record and the foregoing analysis, it is the judgment of a majority of the members of the committee on jurisprudence that the member had not pled guilty to, pled no contest to, nor been convicted of a crime of moral turpitude before a federal or state court.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON MASONIC PROPERTIES

Good afternoon, Most Worshipful Sir and brethren,

ON BEHALF OF YOUR MASONIC PROPERTIES COMMITTEE, we urge a "no" vote on this resolution.

Despite not increasing the threshold of $25,000 over the last 22 years, the committee on Masonic properties does not feel that in itself is justification to pass this resolution.

Adopting this resolution will not decrease the burden of hall associations, since they still need to gather the same information we require for review, regardless of the threshold amount.

Over the past 5 years, our committee reviewed a total of 45 applications under $100,000. Of which only 22 were under $50,000. That makes it less than five per year. Once our committee receives all the necessary documents, it submits its recommendations to the hall association, and forward its recommendations to the Executive Committee if the contract is above $100,000, within 10 days or less.

Any delays in approval is a result of a hall association not providing all the necessary documents for review up front. We require only the documents necessary to ensure existence of a valid contract and insurance, while avoiding unnecessary risk and further liabilities. If a hall association does not have these documents readily available, then they are already in danger of a negative outcome.

Our committee does not believe that an increase in the threshold will impact the amount of applications submitted to the committee on an annual basis. However, increasing the threshold will allow hall associations and lodges to circumvent the requirement for proper review.

The committee consists of well experienced Brethren from different professional backgrounds pertaining and applicable to the maintenance of buildings, construction, engineering, contracting, project management, real estate, and financial analysis. Together we are able to submit recommendations that protected applicants from the following:

- Erroneous contracts. We have reviewed contracts that were written and found to be incomplete after they were chosen by the respective hall boards, we were not sure if the contractors wrote them intentionally in a way, so that they would be able to charge the Hall Association for contingencies and change orders, intentionally raising the costs.

- Risk and insurance liabilities where contractors did not have proper insurance coverage which would protect the hall association in the event of an accident. Last year all but one submission had incomplete insurance coverage.
- Contracts that did not include proper permits, which could be detrimental to lodges with very minimal assets. For example, if damage is done to the building by a contractor who did not obtain a proper permit before commencing the work, the insurance company may not be willing to cover the cost of the damages. Leaving the liability on the lodge.
- Hall associations or lodges entering into a contract where they would likely be spending more money than they have available in their investments. Our committee reviews the financial standing of the lodge to ensure adequate funding to complete their projects, including potential unforeseen additional costs.

The brothers of your committee give the hall association board members "free advice" I repeat, "free advice".

These recommendations have saved hall association and lodges, including personal liability of the board directors, a lot of risk and money.

Brethren, please be reminded that the funds involved in these projects were generational and from the hard work of all our brethren from ages of contributions to our lodges, and we have to be the best stewards of these funds for the benefit of our future generations.

If for all intents and purposes; hall association should be encouraged to use the free services of the Masonic Properties Committee for their expertise and experience, and not consider it cumbersome, but a valuable asset.

Most Worshipful, on behalf of Worshipful Lawrence Hopper, Chairman and the rest of the members of the Masonic Properties Committee, I would like to thank you for your confidence and allowing us to be of service to our craft.

Brethren, I appeal to you to vote accordingly for this resolution.

This decision would clarify the use of the title of past master when a lodge's charter is suspended and the master is removed from office.

California Masonic Code section 805.020 states the title of past master applies only to a member who: (A) Has been regularly elected or named in a charter as master of a chartered lodge; (B) Has been installed as master of a chartered lodge; (C) Has served until the installation of his successor, except in the case of death or consolidation as specified, or has served until reinstalled as master for the subsequent year; and (D) Is at the time in good standing.

Recently, some confusion has arisen as to whether the title of past master applies to a member who was elected and installed as master of a chartered lodge, but who did not install a successor because the lodge's charter was suspended and he was removed as master. Had he remained in office when the charter was returned, and had he installed his successor, he would have earned the title of past master. This decision would resolve that confusion by more clearly stating that the title of past master does not apply in that situation.

Resolution 22-02 competes with this decision, as it would authorize the grand master to confer the title of past master in that situation. As this is a decision and not a recommendation, it is not binding on succeeding grand masters. Decisions are recorded simply to preserve for future reference what the Grand Lodge has on a prior occasion determined to be permissible application of our current law.

Clearly, when a lodge's charter is suspended, and the master is removed from office before the charter is returned or the charter is revoked, did not install his successor, and did not complete his term of office, he should not be afforded the title of past master.

This decision provides the clarification that he is not a past master.

If both Resolution 22-02 and this decision pass, then this decision would be moot, as the code will have been updated by 22-02.

RECOMMENDATION NO. 1

This recommendation would amend the California Masonic Code section 807.000 to create greater flexibility for lodges that desire to meet at least quarterly to satisfy their constitutional requirements, while allowing them to meet their administrative burdens at the meeting specified in their bylaws immediately following the currently mandated February and August meetings. The Annual Election of Officers will be required in one of the stated meetings in the fourth quarter. If a lodge chooses to meet more than once in the last quarter of the calendar year, and one of those meetings is in November, then the lodge shall hold elections in November. The duty to annually and semi-annually report, and hold annual elections does not cease.

A lodge that currently decides to meet fewer than 12 times per year is restricted in the months it may choose. A lodge that holds stated meetings only once per quarter must meet in February for the Treasurer's and Secretary's Annual Reports as required at sections 805.220(d) and 805.230(d). A lodge must also meet in August for the Treasurer's and Secretary's Semi-Annual as required by the same sections. A lodge must also meet in November for the Annual Election of Officers as required in section 805.410.

This recommendation expands upon resolution 19-07 that allowed lodges to set a minimum quarterly stated meeting schedule. That current requirement could require lodges to meet more than quarterly to factor in the required constitutional meetings of February, August, and November.

This recommendation does not apply to special meetings, and the lodge would still be enabled to hold as many special meetings and non-tiled events as its calendar and candidate flow would allow. It may be noted that in many jurisdictions, lodges go dark in summer months, or meet quarterly as well. Lodges in areas that experience extremely high temperatures might choose to move their require stated meetings to more comfortable and less-costly operating months, and lodges with extraordinarily cold weather might move meetings to months that are safer for their members' participation.

This recommendation does not create a blanket requirement for all lodges to amend their by-laws to alter their current meetings; lodges are already authorized to meet at a minimum of once a quarter. This resolution only creates an option for lodges to meet their burdens in a manner which best serves a lodge's local condition.

This recommendation would require each lodge to have an executive committee. That committee would be composed of the master, wardens, treasurer, and secretary of the lodge. And it would be required to meet some time prior to every stated meeting.

This recommendation would amend the California Masonic Code, section 806.000 to add the executive committee to the list of standing committees that each lodge is required to have. CMC section 806.000 governs lodge committees and it currently requires only three standing committees: the charity committee, the auditing committee, and the member retention committee. It also authorizes the lodge or master to form any other committee they deem proper.

Protecting lodge autonomy has been important to this Grand Lodge since its formation. Some practices are beneficial for some lodges, and not others. Mandating practices have typically arisen from legal requirements or a compelling reason. While there is no legal reason for requiring every lodge to have an executive committee, there may be a compelling one.

The benefits of executive committees are well-established. The Lodge Manual explains how the Grand Lodge executive committee works and then explains how a lodge could and should create its own executive committee to help build a consistent vision and sustained leadership over a multi-year period. The Lodge Health Check, a resource published by the Grand Lodge, mentions "executive committee" 32 times while touting the benefits and uses for such a committee. And a "cohesive executive committee" is the first characteristic of "strong lodges and halls" identified in the Long-Term Planning Guide.

By contrast, mandating executive committees should create a minimal burden for those lodges that do not already have them. CMC section 805.210 already requires wardens to "assist the master in the performance of his duties." And the duties of secretaries and treasurers—as specified in CMC sections 805.220 and 805.230—already require them to work with each other and the master.

The burdens of an executive committee are typically minimal. It is likely that most members already expect the elected officers of their lodge to meet regularly. And the meetings need not be in person; they can be done virtually or over the phone.

It is for this voting body to decide whether the benefits of requiring every lodge to have an executive committee outweigh the burdens and the resulting infringement on lodge autonomy.

CARRYOVER RECOMMENDATION NO. 3

This recommendation seeks to give a lodge the option to make the business portion of its stated meetings available for virtual participation.

Due to the Covid-19 pandemic, it became necessary to find ways for lodges throughout the state to stay connected to their members as well as conduct business. Virtual meetings through the use of Zoom and other similar technologies became the standard for business meetings throughout the nation. Lodges started using virtual meetings to assemble together for social events even before their use was authorized for stated meetings.

In 2020 and 2021, lodges held virtual stated meetings. The procedures and limited scope of those meetings protected the confidentiality of sensitive matters. As l odges have returned to in-person meetings, some have expressed interest in maintaining the newfound accessibility that virtual meetings provided.

This recommendation would authorize a hybrid of a traditional in-person stated meetings and a virtual meeting. In the lodge room, the brethren physically present would be giving the due guard and sign of the first degree throughout the meeting. Since it is impossible to effectively tile a virtual meeting, this recommendation would require the camera only be turned on during the reading of the minutes, reports of investigating committees, balloting, reception of applications, and miscellaneous and unfinished business. Further, the camera would be solely focused on the master, who never gives the due guard or sign during these portions of business. This minimizes the chance for someone to inadvertently see the due guard and sign on camera. However, a lodge would need to be careful to ensure that no other brother is shown on camera. Transmission of any other portions of the meeting, including the opening and closing ritual or election of officers, would not be permitted.

Only Masons of the lodge would be permitted to attend virtually. Members of the lodge would be permitted to vote virtually on items that require a voice vote or the raising of hands, but no virtual balloting would be permitted. Thus, balloting on membership and affiliations would be limited to the members attending in person. Quorum would still be determined by the number of members attending in person. And any Mason participating virtually would not be permitted to fill any lodge office, place, or station.

An issue inherent with virtual meetings is the potential for cowans and eavesdroppers. While most of the business that would be permitted under this recommendation is not confidential, the reading of an application for membership or affiliation includes personally identifiable information that is not normally shared outside a tiled meeting. If this recommendation is adopted, further guidance may be necessary to protect the privacy of applicants.

This recommendation would create an option, not a requirement, and would affect only stated meetings.

CARRYOVER RECOMMENDATION NO. 4

The intent of this recommendation is to ensure that a brother accused of unmasonic conduct is not subject to charges on the same facts at a later date or "double jeopardy" if he is party to a mediated settlement agreement that meets certain conditions. It does not change the mediation process under the CMC. Under the current provisions of the CMC, double jeopardy protection is not afforded to an accused that enters into a settlement agreement resulting from any form of mediation. If this recommendation is approved, double jeopardy protection would be afforded to an accused that enters into a settlement agreement at mediation subject to the following conditions:

1. The settlement agreement is in writing signed by the accused, the accuser(s) and the trial master,
2. The settlement agreement includes a summary of the facts and reasoning supporting the withdrawal of the charges,
3. The grand master has ordered that double jeopardy protection be afforded, and
4. The Committee on Trial Review has given its concurrence (which includes reporting to and obtaining the approval of Grand Lodge at the Annual Communication). This requirement to obtain your approval is the intent of Grand Master Weiss and the legal opinion of the Jurisprudence Committee.

Double jeopardy protection would not be afforded to any other mediated settlement agreements, including settlement agreements reached by way of a mediation prior to the appointment of a trial master. If double jeopardy protection is afforded to a mediated settlement agreement, such protection would make those agreements not only binding on the parties, but also a final resolution on the charges such that no Mason (whether or not party to the settlement agreement) would thereafter be able to pursue charges of unmasonic conduct on the same facts. The CMC already provides a means for an accused to receive this form of double jeopardy protection when the dispute is settled by way of a trial.

As previously noted by this committee regarding the use of mediations generally, implementation issues will need to be addressed if this recommendation is approved. In particular, policies, procedures, and a standardized form for settlement agreements that include sufficient information and other requirements needed for the grand master and the Committee on Trial Review to evaluate whether to afford double jeopardy protection to a mediated settlement agreement will need to be created. It should also be noted that the CMC permits charges of unmasonic conduct against an individual Mason to be preferred by any brother with knowledge of the facts. As a result, if this Grand Lodge believes that it is appropriate for these mediated settlement agreements to be final resolutions of the relevant charges as Grand Master Weiss recommends, this change to the CMC would be necessary to effectuate that intent.

My brothers, it should come as no surprise that attorneys cannot agree on this issue. It is up to you to listen to the arguments and decide what Masonic justice should be.

CARRYOVER RECOMMENDATION NO. 5

This recommendation would amend two sections of the California Masonic Code to create the penalty of transfer of membership from the accused brother's lodge(s) to the Grand Master's Lodge to those penalties that a trial master may choose from when an accused brother is found guilty of unmasonic conduct. Currently, voluntary demits are being used during mediations to resolve conflicts in lodges.

There has not been any previous legislation before Grand Lodge that proposed the creation of this penalty. The penalty of transfer of membership would be one of the lowest penalties available to the trial master, on a par with reprimand in open lodge. The trial master would have to make a finding that the brother's continued membership in one or more lodges was not in the best interest of the craft and set the penalty as transfer of membership. If the accused belongs to more than one lodge and the trial master does not transfer all of his memberships, then the accused would remain a member of those other lodges and not be placed in the Grand Master's Lodge. As with all trials, the finding of guilt and the suitability of the penalty would have to be approved by the Grand Lodge at an Annual Communication.

A brother who has his membership transferred to the Grand Master's Lodge would retain all of the rights and privileges of membership in California. The recommendation does not speak to the issue of the transferred brother who wants to visit the lodge from which he was removed. He would be a visitor and CMC section 808.040 authorizes the master to deny entry. He would pay dues to the Grand Master's Lodge as long as he remains a member. It would be up to him to find another regular lodge and apply for affiliation. He could even apply to his former lodge for affiliation, but it would be subject to a ballot by its members.

If this recommendation is adopted, the Committee on Trial Review will need to develop guidelines and procedures for use by trial masters in determining when to appropriately use the penalty of transferred membership.

It is for this voting body to decide whether this would add a useful tool to the penalties available to a trial master after a finding of guilt.

RESOLUTIONS FOR 2022

RESOLUTION 22-02

This resolution would authorize the grand master to confer the title of past master upon a brother who served as master of his lodge but did not complete his entire term because the lodge's charter was suspended or revoked.

It would not require that the title of past master be conferred upon the brother, but it would permit the grand master to investigate and contemplate all of the circumstances of the situation and to consider the circumstances of other similar situations in his consideration as to whether or not to confer the past master title upon the brother.

The proponents assert that the suspension or revocation of a lodge's charter might not be a reflection of the sitting master's performance, and that he may have served and performed admirably despite the lodge's problems. They contend that if the g rand master determines this is the case, then he should have the authority to acknowledge the brother's service by conferring the past master title upon him.

California Masonic Code section 805.020 states the title of past master applies only to a member who: (A) Has been regularly elected or named in a charter as master of a chartered lodge; (B) Has been installed as master of a chartered lodge; (C) Has served until the installation of his successor, except in the case of death or consolidation as specified, or has served until reinstalled as master for the subsequent year; and (D) Is at the time in good standing.

This resolution would amend CMC section 805.020 to give the grand master the discretion to confer the title upon a brother who did not serve until the installation of his successor because the lodge's charter was suspended and he was removed from office or the lodge's charter was revoked.

This resolution would not impose any time limitations on the conferral of the past master title by the grand master, nor would it limit the number of times a request to confer the past master title could be submitted to the grand master or succeeding grand masters. This would allow requests to be made to grand masters several years down the road who may not be familiar with the facts and circumstances at the time and after memories have somewhat faded. Furthermore, it could result in a scenario wherein successive grand masters, year after year, are lobbied to confer the past master title upon the brother until some grand master eventually says yes. Additionally, this resolution could disrupt the peace and harmony within a lodge For example, the grand master might confer the past master title on a brother when his lodge believes him undeserving, or vice versa. Additionally, as the resolution is written, the grand master's decision on whether or not to confer the past master title would not be subject to the review or approval of the Grand Lodge.

There are social and other benefits to being a past master. A past master is eligible to cast the collective vote of the past masters of his lodge at Annual Communication per CMC section 403.075. He continues to be addressed as "Worshipful" after he completes his term. He may receive gifts, such as an apron, a life membership, or some other honorarium from his lodge. It is entirely understandable that a brother who diligently executed his duties as a lodge master would want to be acknowledged as a past master for his service, even if his lodge's charter was revoked or suspended through no fault of his own. Traditionally, if a master has been removed from office or the lodge's charter has been revoked before he completes his first term, he has not been entitled to the title of past master. It is for this Grand Lodge to decide whether the benefits afforded by this resolution to a master who would otherwise not qualify as a past master should be adopted.

If both this resolution and Grand Master's Decision No. 1 pass, then the decision would be moot, as the CMC will have been updated by this resolution and this resolution would then govern.

Resolution 22-03

This resolution would amend California Masonic Code section 811.010 to prohibit the serving, consumption, and sale of alcoholic beverages immediately before or after a stated meeting or conferral of a degree, and immediately before, during, or after the course of a degree practice. CMC section 811.010 also governs the storage of alcohol, but this resolution does not amend that section.

The proponents of this resolution assert that:

a. The consumption of alcohol is overshadowing lodge business and degree importance.

b. Too many members are consuming alcohol before, during, or after their attendance at stated meetings and degrees.

c. That candidates are engaged in drinking prior to degrees.

d. Members are driving home impaired from alcohol consumption.

e. And that a return to the integrity of our degrees and meetings is in need.

The CMC requires the master of a lodge to see that his lodge is conducted in peace and harmony and with sobriety. CMC section 804.815 authorizes a master to refuse a member admission or exclude him for a breach of propriety. The master should refuse admission to any member who presents himself in a state of intoxication. The master is empowered at section 805.110 to remove an officer for neglecting his duties. Should a lodge master find that he needs to perform any of the aforementioned, he can look to section 805.130 that ensures that his order cannot be appealed.

The intent as stated in the resolution is to create a blanket rule for all California lodges, which include constituent, research, and historical lodges, to abstain from the use of alcohol in the before-mentioned settings, citing poor, reckless, and illegal behavior, alleging a corresponding lack of decorum as is befitting our solemn ceremonies, and a loss of real purpose in the conferring and conduct of such.

The adoption of this resolution would make the consumption of alcohol at the indicated functions a Masonic offense and could open the doors to an increase in Masonic trials, since our CMC permits charges of unmasonic conduct to be preferred by any brother with knowledge of the facts. Our Masonic Code currently permits lodge masters the ability to bar members from participation in meetings and lodge events if they are visibly intoxicated. This legislation may stem from lodge m asters failing to exercise their constitutional authority.

The adoption of the resolution would certainly mean that no alcohol could be consumed in a Masonic property at the times and events as described before. Consequences of adopting this legislation would mean that:

1. Masters and wardens of lodges that have a tradition of going out for dinner with drinks prior to or after meetings would be met with the requirement to see that appropriate Masonic charges are filed against any brother who consumed alcohol.

2. Consumption of alcohol at table lodges held in conjunction with a stated m eeting or degree would be prohibited.

3. Alcohol consumption at a stated meeting dinner would be prohibited.

4. The consumption of alcohol at an installation party following a stated meeting would be prohibited.

5. Wine or scotch tasting as part of spouses and partners programs held at the lodge on the day of the practice, stated meeting, or degree would be prohibited.

While it would conceivably create a condition that would remove a bar to good behavior, it appears to infringe upon the members' right to self-government and freedom of conscience. Some members may view this resolution as an intrusion into non-Masonic or personal affairs. Alternatively, Masonic rules in California do govern some aspects of personal affairs, such as in the treatment of memberships of those who have been convicted of felonies involving moral turpitude.

There is some ambiguity to the resolution. Questions that remain unanswered for this committee include: What is the length of time that defines "immediately before or after." What would happen if spouses or guests of the members present at one of the activities listed in sub-part D left for drinks, and, following the Masonic activity, the spouses or guests were joined by husbands who then joined them and engaged in the consumption of alcohol? Would a Mason leaving a stated meeting at one l odge and attending a separate lodge's activity where alcohol is served be required to abstain from consumption? Also, what constitutes a "Masonic activity?"

Protecting lodge autonomy has been important to this Grand Lodge since its formation. Some practices are beneficial for some lodges, and not others. The mandating of practices has typically arisen from legal requirements or a compelling reason. The voting members of this Grand Lodge must decide whether or not this resolution is a local condition or a statewide concern.

This resolution would increase the threshold amount of a contract requiring approval from the Grand Lodge Committee on Masonic Properties. Specifically, this resolution would amend the California Masonic Code section 406.060(D) to state $50,000 instead of $25,000.

The CMC currently requires the Committee on Masonic Properties to examine and approve all details regarding any contract involving a lodge, Masonic hall a ssociation, committee, partnership or corporation, or other entity representing itself to be Masonic in character, or operating for the benefit of a lodge or lodges in this jurisdiction for a contract for or commencement of the construction, alteration, improvement, replacement, repair or other maintenance of real property if the expected cost is in excess of $25,000.

Hall associations are not allowed to re-classify a project into a series of smaller projects for the purpose of keeping costs under the $25,000 threshold in the same budgetary year.

The Committee on Masonic Properties requires, at the time of application, minutes of the lodge or hall association containing the approval for the project, current lodge or hall association bank statements, three competitive bids, complete design and engineering report approved by relevant authorities, time required to complete the project, warranty terms, and contractors' certificate of insurance as well as other applicable insurance required to complete the project.

Proponents contend that monetary inflation has increased the costs for services that in the past would have been under the current threshold. The $25,000 threshold was adopted in the year 2000, which adjusted for inflation, approximates to $43,000 in today's dollars.

Proponents also assert that this resolution would likely reduce the amount of submissions to the committee, allowing for more expeditious approval of needed repairs, and avoiding further expenses from rising cost of labor and materials. The committee maintains a 10-day response time per submission. Further delay may result if a Masonic hall association does not submit required documentation for review in a timely manner. Of 256 Masonic hall associations in the last five years, Masonic Properties Committee received 45 applications for improvement. Of those applications, fewer than 22 were under $50,000. Over the last five years, that comes to an average of fewer than five applications per year for improvements under $50,000.

Many brothers elected to Masonic hall associations by constituent lodges do not have experience in hiring contractors for large-scale building improvements. The duty of the Committee on Masonic Properties is to provide such expertise via legal analysis to ensure contracts for improvements are written appropriately and cover important details, such as properly defining the involved parties, the scope of work, insurance requirements, and any appropriate legal remedies in the event of breach of contract. Failure to seek appropriate counsel from the committee has resulted in financial harm to lodges and hall associations without recourse. Additionally, the committee reviews the overall financial standing of the lodge or hall association to ensure adequate capital is available in the event of unforeseen additional costs. The committee has experienced many situations in which a lodge or hall association has over-extended its financial abilities when entering a contract for a given project.

It is up to this voting body to determine whether the convenience of not consulting the Committee on Masonic Properties on projects under $50,000 is worth the additional financial and legal risks.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON TRIAL REVIEW

2021–22 MASONIC YEAR

Brethren,

YOUR COMMITTEE ON TRIAL REVIEW has carefully examined the records of all cases completed during this Masonic year. In each of the matters, the committee finds that there was compliance with the procedural requirements of the California Masonic Code. All committee decisions were by a unanimous vote of the members of the committee.

In Case Nos. 2994 and 2996, the charges arose out of the same set of facts and circumstances and alleged the same unmasonic conduct.

The trial master found that the two accused brothers conspired to alter a prior year's stated meeting minutes to falsely reflect that one accused brother had passed his third degree proficiency. One accused brother made the modification, acting as the lodge secretary, so that the other accused brother could qualify for installation as junior warden of another lodge. The master inquired into the minutes' alteration, and the accused secretary falsely reported that he was simply making grammatical corrections. The accused secretary did not disclose that the minutes had been altered to also show that the other accused brother had passed his proficiency examination.

The trial master found that the two brothers caused the Grand Lodge to issue a fabricated proficiency card, thus defrauding the two lodges and the Grand Lodge to enable the brother to qualify for a lodge officer position to which he was not entitled.

The trial master concluded that this conduct was reprehensible, intentional, and meant to cause harm to the lodges, stating that said conduct "flies in the face of their obligations" taken in all three degrees.

Based upon the pleas of no contest of the accuseds and his investigation, the trial master found each of the accused guilty of unmasonic conduct involving moral turpitude and fixed the penalty at expulsion.

The Trial Review Committee has also taken into consideration five letters signed by various members of the lodge in which the offenses occurred, requesting that the committee either reverse the trial master's decision or reduce the penalty, citing the previous good works of the accused parties.

After consideration of all the facts, including the five letters in support of the accused, the Trial Review Committee notes that the accuseds' conduct demonstrates a total lack of integrity in attempting to defraud two lodges and the Grand Lodge in an effort to qualify an otherwise unqualified brother as an officer.

Accordingly, the Trial Review Committee concludes that the trial master's findings of fact, based on the pleas of no contest by the accuseds, justify the penalty of expulsion.

The Committee on Trial Review therefore submits and moves for the adoption of the following resolution: "resolved, that in case numbers 2994 and 2996 the trial master's procedures, finding, and penalty affixed be hereby affirmed."

In Case No. 2992, the accused pled not guilty to the charges of unmasonic conduct of contacting a minor with the intent to exhibit, send, or distribute harmful material in violation of the California Penal Code.

The Accused, a DeMolay youth leader, used Snapchat to contact a female on a DeMolay advisors group chat. The profile photograph of the person contacted appears to be that of a minor.

A non-nude photo of the accused was posted on a DeMolay advisor chatroom page along with a photo of the accused's genitalia. The accused admitted that he had sent a photo of his genitalia to another adult male and claimed that the other adult male had put it on the chatroom page. The accused alleged he was a victim of extortion by this other adult male but never produced any evidence of the extortion.

The accused was personally served with the specifications but did not respond.

The trial master conducted an investigation and found by a preponderance of evidence that the accused had sent photographs of his genitalia to an individual on Facebook whose profile appears to depict a female minor. The trial master fixed the penalty at expulsion.

The Trial Review Committee concludes that the findings of fact, guilt of the accused, and penalty of expulsion are supported by the evidence.

The Committee on Trial Review therefore submits and moves the adoption of the following resolution: "resolved, that in case number 2992 the trial master's procedures, findings, and penalty affixed be hereby affirmed."

The following cases involved previously expelled members who have reqested restoration of Masonic membership:

In case No. 2811, Mr. Mark Balisi was expelled by the Grand Lodge in 2019 as a result of his 2017 unmasonic conduct, to which he pled guilty. He entered the preparation room where a candidate was being prepared for his Fellow Craft degree. He was uninvited, but no one told him to leave. Once the candidate was blindfolded, the accused approached him and grabbed both of his nipples, squeezing until the candidate was in extreme pain and also squeezed the candidate around the waist causing the candidate to fall to his knees. He left visible welts, bruises, and open wounds.

Mr. Balisi has for the first time applied for restoration. In considering Grand Master Adamson's Decision No. 3, the committee believes that the application is deficient in various significant matters.

The applicant's conduct was very serious and resulted in great bodily and emotional harm to the brother. The candidate was hoodwinked and unable to defend himself. Despite being assured that each of us had passed through these ceremonies and that he would not be subjected to any such conduct, he was abused to the point of serious injuries to his body. The conduct was such that the victim's wife told him shortly after the degree that she did not want him to remain involved in Masonry.

While the applicant apologized and appears to acknowledge his wrongful conduct, it was made only after he was informally interviewed by a member of the Trial Review Committee who informed him that expressing an apology and true remorse for his misconduct would be an important factor in the committee's evaluation.

His lodge voted 15 to 7 to reinstate him. The divided vote indicates to the committee that a restoration could be divisive to the lodge.

While there were 17 letters from lodge members recommending that he be reinstated, 14 of them were form letters wherein certain brethren simply filled in and signed their name on a pre-printed form on the same date at what the committee could only characterize as a signing party.

The applicant needs to demonstrate that he truly has rehabilitated himself and will no longer engage in this kind of conduct. Additionally, the Masonic Code requires the lapse of an appropriate time before making a request for restoration. The committee believes that in light of the intentional, vicious, and predatory conduct intentionally directed toward a helpless brother, insufficient time has elapsed for this restoration.

The Committee on Trial Review therefore submits and moves the adoption of the following resolution: "resolved that in case number 2811, as to Mr. Balisi, his application for restoration be denied."

In Case No. 2853 (combined with four other cases of accused brethren), Mr. Timothy Perrotta pled "no contest" to four charges: misappropriation of funds; breach of fiduciary duty; failure to obtain Grand Lodge approval of construction exceeding $25,000 dollars; and disobedience of a grand master's edict. The trial master found him guilty and fixed the penalty at expulsion. The Grand Lodge in 2020 affirmed the trial master's decision.

The trial master found that Mr. Perrotta, as lodge secretary and a member of the hall association, conspired to wrongfully take over $705,000 from the sale of a building belonging to the lodge and improperly kept the funds in the hall association account, knowing these funds should have been transferred into the lodge account. Mr. Perrotta, in concert with two other accused brethren, were the only signers on the hall association account. The trial master reviewed over 5,000 pages of documents, three years of bank statements, lodge and hall association minutes, and interviewed witnesses. He found the three accused had signed a total of 21 checks, all written in round numbers, equaling $435,800 to Delgadillo Construction company allegedly for lodge improvements without a single document to support any expenditure, bids, requests for proposals, construction contracts, design plans, permits, or releases. Mr. Delgadillo was uncooperative and at a meeting could provide no back-up documents for any work performed at the lodge. Delgadillo claimed there were change orders, but said he had no such documents. Within one year, all but a nominal amount of approximately $3,800 in sale proceeds had been depleted.

The trial master found that the accused knew that some of these funds in the hall association account were used for personal expenditures and concluded that Mr. Perrotta knowingly and intentionally participated in the scheme; that he substantially aided and abetted others; that his acts constituted embezzlement; and there had been no semblance of protection for lodge funds in violation of his fiduciary duty.

Mr. Perrotta also admitted that he later falsified 10 months of the lodge's minutes to cover-up their actions by falsely representing that the construction work and costs had been discussed by the lodge. He also admitted to destroying the original minutes.

The Masonic Code permits a brother to apply for restoration either to the lodges of which he was a member, which lodges must vote in favor of his application, or by a majority vote of the Grand Lodge at the Annual Communication.

In February 2022 Mr. Perrotta submitted his application for restoration to the 2 lodges of which he was a member and to the Grand Lodge. The brethren of one lodge voted unanimously to deny said application. Thus reference to his lodges for restoration failed.

Mr. Perrotta's request directly to the Grand Lodge is governed by the 2009 Grand Masters Decision No. 3 requiring proof of present good conduct; character and reputation; consideration of the nature of the conduct which gave rise to the expulsion; the seriousness and a lapse of reasonable time since the expulsion; the impact of the acts giving rise to the expulsion on the lodge and its members and non-masons; and acceptance of responsibility and remorse for the conduct. These requirements were not met. Additionally, his application does not express his sincere apology, but the bulk of his application refers to his views on Masonic law and that he had succumbed to "peer-pressure."

The Committee on Trial Review therefore submits and moves the adoption of the following resolution: "resolved, that in case number 2853, as to mr. Perrotta, his application to grand lodge for restoration be denied."

In case Number 2657, Mr. Jolan Pascua was expelled in 2015 for conduct which occurred in 2012.

The Accused and another brother, who was senior warden of his lodge, met in the parking lot of a restaurant. The meeting was arranged by a third brother to settle differences between the two. The source of those differences arose from the senior warden's refusal to appoint the Accused to an office in the line for the next term.

The Trial Master found that as the Accused approached the senior warden, the senior warden extended his hand to the Accused and said he was sorry. The Accused, who may have been drinking, became angered and threw a punch at the senior warden, missing his jaw but hitting him on the chest with his closed fist. The next day the senior warden noted a red mark on his chest.

The senior warden ultimately refused to proceed in the line, and the Committee is unaware of whether the Senior Warden has returned to lodge.

The Accused failed to respond to the charges. The Trial Master conducted and investigation, found the Accused guilty of an offense involving moral turpitude and affixed the penalty at expulsion which was affirmed by Grand Lodge at its 2015 Annual Communication.

The Accused has requested to be restored to Masonry. In support of his application, he offers letters from himself to this two lodges, the minutes of the stated meetings of his two lodges voting to reinstate him, and a letter from a past master recommending his restoration.

The Committee believes that Mr. Pascua's letters to his two lodges fail to express sufficient remorse for his behavior. While he admits that he was guilty, he also claims that his failure to respond to the charges, not his conduct, resulted in his conviction. The Committee believes that this demonstrates a failure to recognize the seriousness of his misconduct.

In considering Grand Master Adamson's Decision No. 3, the Committee believes that the application is deficient in additional significant matters.

There is nothing in the record that would establish the background of Mr. Pascua with respect to his employment, community activities and philanthropic involvement. The only documents on the record are the two letters requesting reinstatement and the recommendation letter.

While Mr. Pascua claims in his letters that he is "...totally rehabilitated..." he presents no evidence to support that claim. It is not enough for him to merely state that he has been rehabilitated in conclusionary terms. Mr. Pascua was found guilty by the Trial Master of hitting a brother who was in the process of apologizing to him. Not only was that conduct by the Accused inexcusable, he had no legal justification for doing so. It was and is a serious offense in any organization and a violation of California law.

There is no evidence Mr. Pascua has apologized to his lodges nor to the brother he struck. It should be noted that, while there was no criminal prosecution, a police report was filed, thus bringing public disrepute to the lodge.

The Committee on Trial Review therefore submits and moves the adoption of the following resolution: "resolved, that in case number 2657, as to Mr. Pascua, his application to grand lodge for restoration be denied."

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON YOUTH ORDERS

Most Worshipful and brethren all,

THANK YOU FOR THIS OPPORTUNITY to very briefly update you on our Masonic youth orders.

I have been afforded the privilege of chairing our Youth Orders Committee for the past four years. As I work with their adult and youth leaders, my faith and confidence in our future has risen to the sky. Our Rainbow, Job's Daughters, and DeMolay members are true exemplars of a generation that will work to repair our world.

The young people who come through our Masonic youth orders develop important life skills—abilities they likely would not gain elsewhere. This is especially critical as we emerge from nearly three years of meeting behind computer screens. All of us—adults and children alike— are having to re-learn how to get along and communicate with one another.

So what do they learn in their assemblies, bethels, and chapters? These young people are able to plan and coordinate meetings and events, motivate volunteers, learn budgeting, build public speaking skills, and much, much more. In short, our youth orders help to produce productive, well-rounded members of society.

And how do we support them? Our roughly two dozen committee members have brought an array of abilities and interests, along with loads of passion. to create programs and resources to help our youth orders attain ever higher levels of success.

We have created a locator map so you can see which groups are meeting wherever you are in the state. We encourage you to visit whenever you can. Another effort of which I am particularly proud is what we call "Our Ritual Connection." Here we have taken the ritual of each of the youth orders and drawn parallels to our own. We will be introducing this soon, so look for opportunities to use it for education within your lodge as well as with our youth orders. We envision this bridging the generations in a unique and meaningful way.

Related to this, we have created a youth festive board ceremony, modeled after our own, minus the alcohol, of course. We are testing it now, and if it meets with general acceptance, we will soon roll it out.

We are looking to identify a representative in each lodge to serve as a liaison between us and the youth. This will be a rewarding position, so please let me know if you are interested in being considered for it.

For our favorite Masons—our district inspectors—we are creating a handbook that will serve as a resource for them and their lodges.

We have also initiated the Masonic Organization Recognition Award, or the MORA. This award is issued to a Masonic organization (lodge, chapter, court, or valley) for their exemplary support of our Masonic youth orders. The various organizations play a significant role in the success of one or more of our youth orders. Whether they provide support by sponsoring or partnering with a youth order, or assisting them in other ways, the organization demonstrates their dedication to our youth orders.

So please help me in congratulating our eight inaugural MORA recipients:

- Natoma
- Orange Grove Lodge No. 293
- Fresno
- Las Palmas-Ponderosa Lodge No. 366
- Friendship Lodge No. 210
- Consuelo Lodge No. 325
- Oceanside-San Dieguito Lodge No. 381
- Novus

We recognize that the communication between our brethren and the youth orders can be improved. To this end, we have launched what will be a regular e-newsletter. And we have created a library page on Masons4Youth.org, complete with trestleboard articles and loads of other information to help bolster your efforts to promote our youth orders.

All of this leads me to ask you for two things:

If you have an assembly, bethel, or chapter in or near your lodge, please look for ways to support it. While your financial support is certainly welcome, what these young folks really need is for you to be present in their lives, to provide examples on which they can grow and develop. Consider scheduling a shadow night where all you have to do is show up for their meeting and follow them around, learning about their teachings and finding the connections to ours.

Brethren, together we can repair our world. But we cannot do it without the young people in our life.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON CALIFORNIA FREEMASON MAGAZINE

Brethren,

THE CALIFORNIA FREEMASON MAGAZINE COMMITTEE was pleased to produce four issues of the magazine this year. The winter music issue, the spring issue on the after life, the summer issue on Freemasonry south of the border, and the most recent issue on the California Masonic Memorial Temple.

We are also pleased to report that issues from the previous year were recognized by the Association of Media and Publishing, a professional association of magazine publishers for membership organizations in the United States. Other members of the association include service clubs like Rotary, charities like Habitat for Humanity and the American Red Cross, professional associations like the American Bar Association, and university alumni organizations like Penn State. The Association of Media and Publishing hold the Excel Awards to recognize organizations for excellence in publishing in a manner like the Olympics, which awards one gold, one silver, and one bronze award in each category. Sometimes they do not present a gold or silver award if it is not warranted. This year, the California Freemason won four awards. We won a gold award for overall design excellence, a gold award for best cover art for the Refresh issue, silver award for the best feature design in the Refresh issue, and a bronze award for the best single topic issue for the Karangalang Filipino issue. While we do not design and publish a magazine to win awards, we are proud that the publishing world recognizes the strength and effectiveness of our work. In fact, our magazine has won national awards in this competition every year since 2004.

The California Freemason magazine was founded by Worshipful Brother Newcomb Condee in 1954. He served as editor-in-chief until his death in 1974. He was succeeded by Very Worshipful Brother Ralph H. Head, past grand treasurer, who was the editor for 28 years. Upon his retirement in May 2002, Most Worshipful Brother C. Ray Whitaker appointed me to this post, and it has been my pleasure to serve as editor for the last 20 years.

Over these two decades, we made several significant advancements with the magazine. We expanded the distribution to include entered apprentice and fellow craft masons and, with the support of the Masonic Homes of California, we began distributing the magazine to all Masonic widows. We created a digital version of the magazine now in its third and best iteration so that people can access our content all around the world. As editor, I led three major redesigns of the magazine, which were honed over several years. The last was a redesign of the inside of the magazine, retaining the cover style and expanding the writing portfolio with the addition of the Mosaic section to the front of the magazine which highlights interesting lodge and member stories.

In 2016, with succession planning in mind, I assembled a team of associate editors, recruiting brothers from different parts of the state with professional publishing and communications experience. They have each been a valuable part of the team and make important contributions to our success. While I would be very happy to continue as editor in chief into the future, I strongly believe that when the right successor is identified, it's important to make room for new leadership. So, with the confidence in the team and the foundation that we've built for the magazine, I informed the Deputy Grand Master earlier this year that I would retire as editor in chief at the close of this Annual Communication. I am pleased that he accepted my recommendation to appoint Worshipful Brother Russell Hennings, a Past Master of Saddleback Laguna Lodge No. 672, as the fourth editor-in-chief of the California Freemason magazine.

Brother Hennings has been on the committee since 2016 and this year he served as assistant editor-in-chief. He is a professional photographer with a vast portfolio of high-quality commercial work. He is an inspector and grand lodge officer. There is no doubt he has the talent and the leadership skills to take the magazine to new heights.

Because the grand secretary is a member of the magazine committee by virtue of his office, I hope to continue to be a part of the magazine team for years to come and I look forward to working with Russ and the rest of the team to build on a legacy started nearly 70 years ago.

I want to thank the incredible and talented editorial staff that publishes the magazine. Executive editor Emily Limón, editorial director Ian Stewart, creative director Pete Ivey, managing editor Anya Soltero, multimedia editor JR Sheetz, assistant editor Justin Japatana, and online editor John Dale are the backbone of the magazine who bring tremendous professionalism and passion to our work. We couldn't do it without them!

Brethren, I hope you're as proud of our magazine as I am. Thank you for allowing me the opportunity to lead it. It has been a dream assignment.

Report of Independent Auditors

The Audit Committee
The Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of the State of California

Report on the Audit of the Financial Statements

We have audited the consolidated financial statements of The Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of the State of California (the "Grand Lodge"), which comprise the consolidated statements of financial position as of October 31, 2022, and the related consolidated statements of activities and changes in net assets, and cash flows for the year then ended, and the related notes to the consolidated financial statements.

In our opinion, the accompanying consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of The Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of the State of California as of October 31, 2022, and the results of their operations and their cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAS"). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are required to be independent of the Grand Lodge and to meet our other ethical responsibilities, in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements relating to our audit. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Responsibilities of Management for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, and for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is required to evaluate whether there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about The Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of the State of California's ability to continue as a going concern within one year after the date that the financial statements are available to be issued.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and therefore is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with GAAS will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Misstatements are considered material if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in the aggregate, they would influence the judgment made by a reasonable user based on the consolidated financial statements.

In performing an audit in accordance with GAAS, we:

- Exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.
- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of The Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of the State of California's internal control. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluate the overall presentation of the consolidated financial statements.
- Conclude whether, in our judgment, there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about The Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of the State of California's ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit, significant audit findings, and certain internal control-related matters that we identified during the audit.

Report on Summarized Comparative Information

We have previously audited The Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of the State of California's 2021 consolidated financial statements and we expressed an unmodified opinion on those audited consolidated financial statements in our report dated April 14, 2022. In our opinion, the summarized comparative information presented herein as of and for the year ended October 31, 2021, is consistent, in all material respects, with the audited consolidated financial statements, from which it has been derived.

Supplementary Information

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the consolidated financial statements as a whole. The financial information as of and for the year ended October 31, 2022, included in the accompanying consolidating statement of financial position, consolidating statement of activities and changes in net assets, and consolidating schedule of changes in net assets are presented for purposes of additional analysis and are not a required part of the basic consolidated financial statements. Such information is the responsibility of management and was derived from and relates directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the consolidated financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the consolidated financial statements and certain additional procedures, including comparing and reconciling such information directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the consolidated financial statements or to the consolidated financial statements themselves, and other additional procedures in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. In our opinion, the information is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the consolidated financial statements as a whole.

Other Information

The financial information as of and for the year ended October 31, 2022, included in the accompanying schedule of fraternal expenses, schedule of program appropriations, and schedule of general and administrative expenses are presented for purposes of additional analysis and are not a required part of the basic consolidated financial statements. This information is the responsibility of the Grand Lodge's management. We did not audit or apply limited procedures to such information, and we do not express an opinion or any form of assurance on them.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

Note 1 – Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

History and organization – The Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of the State of California (the "Grand Lodge") is a nonprofit, unincorporated fraternal organization governed by a constitution and ordinances setting forth its jurisdiction and authority. The jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge includes all lodges and Masons within the state of California, and members of lodges of California, wherever residing.

The Grand Lodge provides general and administrative services to its related entities: The Masonic Homes of California (the "Masonic Homes") and its subsidiary Acacia Creek, a Senior Living Retirement Community in Union City ("Acacia Creek Union City"); the California Masonic Memorial Temple (the "Temple"); and the California Masonic Foundation (the "Foundation") (collectively, the "Masonic Entities"). These services are reimbursed by the related entities.

The California Masonic Code ("Code") sets forth the effects and process of a lodge dissolution upon the surrender of its charter. The members of the chartered lodges of the Sublime Benicia Lodge No. 5, Plumas Lodge No. 60, Foothill Lodge No. 305, Moreno Valley Lodge No. 804, Pomona Valley Lodge No. 246, and Riverside Lodge No. 635 voted to surrender their respective charters to the Grand Lodge. The Grand Lodge accepted the surrender of these lodges' charters and directed that these lodges be dissolved in accordance with the Code. At the 2022 Annual Communication, the charter of Sempervirens Lodge No. 860 was revoked, and all assets were transferred to Grand Lodge for future lodges. The amount transferred to the Grand Lodge net of expenses was $3,936 and $363,563, for the years ended October 31, 2022 and 2021, respectively.

Upon the surrender of a lodge charter, Grand Lodge assumes the position of the lodge and becomes the sole member of the lodge's Hall Association. As a result of the lodges' dissolution named above, the Grand Lodge became the sole member of the following Hall Associations:

- The Benicia Masonic Temple Association ("Benicia Hall") on October 11, 2014;
- Plumas Hall Association ("Plumas Hall") on October 10, 2015;
- Monrovia Masonic Building Association ("Monrovia Hall") on October 10, 2015; and
- Riverside Masonic Building Association ("Riverside Hall") on October 9, 2021.

The financial statements of these "Hall Associations" are included in the consolidated financial statements of the Grand Lodge.

Nob Hill – On February 15, 2007, the Temple transferred the auditorium and garage operation to a new entity, Nob Hill Masonic Center, Inc. ("Nob Hill"), an entity for this purpose. Nob Hill is a subsidiary of the Grand Lodge.

On October 30, 2008, the Temple transferred operation of the auditorium from Nob Hill to Live Nation, not an affiliate.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

Principles of consolidation – The consolidated financial statements include accounts of the Grand Lodge, Nob Hill, and the Hall Associations (collectively, the "Organization"). All significant intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated.

Comparative information – The consolidated financial statements include certain prior-year summarized comparative information in total but not by net asset class. Such information does not include sufficient detail to constitute a presentation in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Accordingly, such information should be read in conjunction with the Organization's consolidated financial statements for the year ended October 31, 2021, from which the summarized information was derived.

Net assets classifications – The accompanying consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the standards set forth in Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") Accounting Standards Codification ("ASC") 958-605 Revenue Recognition, ASC 958-205 Presentation of Financial Statements, and the guidelines set forth in the industry audit and accounting guide Not-for-Profit Entities issued by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. Under these guidelines, contributions of cash and other assets are classified as one of the following three categories:

Without donor restrictions – Net assets without donor restrictions represent resources that are not subject to donor-imposed stipulations and are available to support all activities of the Grand Lodge, including the Grand Lodge Endowment Fund (the "Endowment Fund").

The Endowment Fund was established at the Grand Lodge's October 1993, Annual Communication. If, in any fiscal year, there was an excess of support and revenues over expenses, as defined by the Grand Lodge Executive Committee, the excess shall be added to the Endowment Fund. For the years ended October 31, 2022 and 2021, there was no excess of support and revenues over expenses.

With donor restrictions – Net assets with donor restrictions represent contributions that are limited in use in accordance with donor-imposed stipulations. These stipulations may expire with time and/or may be satisfied by the actions of the Grand Lodge according to the intention of the donor. Upon satisfaction of such stipulations, the associated net assets are released from net assets with donor restrictions and reported as net assets without donor restrictions.

Use of estimates – The preparation of consolidated financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions. These estimates and assumptions affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the consolidated financial statements, and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Fair value of financial instruments – The carrying amounts reported in the accompanying consolidated statements of financial position for cash and cash equivalents, accounts receivable, accounts payable and accrued liabilities, and due from/due to related entities, approximate fair value due to their short-term nature. Discussion on the fair value of financial instruments is included in Note 2.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

Fair value process – The Organization determines fair value measurement policies and procedures for assets and liabilities under the supervision of the Investment Committee. These policies and procedures are reassessed annually to determine if the current valuation techniques are still appropriate. A variety of qualitative factors are used to subjectively determine the most appropriate valuation methodologies. Methodologies are consistent with market, income, and cost approaches. Unobservable inputs used in fair value measurements are evaluated and adjusted on an annual basis, or as necessary based on current market conditions and other third-party information. In determining the reasonableness of the methodology, Grand Lodge evaluates a variety of factors including a review of existing agreements, economic conditions, industry, and market developments. Certain unobservable inputs are assessed through review of contract terms while others are substantiated utilizing available market data including, but not limited to, market comparable, qualified opinions, and discount rates.

Cash and cash equivalents – Cash and cash equivalents consist of highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less at the time of purchase, with the exception of cash and cash equivalents held as investments.

Investments – Investments in fixed income and equity securities are stated at estimated fair values based on quoted market prices. Investments received through gifts are recorded at estimated fair values at the date of donation. The fair value of alternative investments is recorded at the investment manager's Net Asset Value ("NAV"), as the managers have the greatest insight into the investments of their funds and the related industry and have the appropriate expertise to determine the NAV. The Grand Lodge assesses the NAV and takes into consideration events such as suspended redemptions, restructuring, secondary sales, and investor defaults to determine if an adjustment is necessary. Additionally, asset holdings are reviewed within the investment manager's audited financial statements, as are interim financial statements and fund manager communications, for the purposes of assessing valuation. Unrealized gains or losses that result from market fluctuations are recorded in the period in which such fluctuations occur. Realized gains or losses resulting from sales or maturities of securities are calculated on a cost basis.

Property and equipment – Property and equipment, including leasehold improvements, greater than $1,000 are recorded at cost and are depreciated using the straight-line method over estimated useful lives of 3 to 25 years.

The Grand Lodge periodically evaluates the carrying value of its long-lived assets for impairment. The evaluations address the estimated recoverability of the assets' carrying value, which is principally determined based on projected undiscounted cash flows generated by the underlying tangible assets. When the carrying value of an asset exceeds its estimated recoverability, a write-down is recorded. No impairment was recorded during the years ended October 31, 2022 and 2021.

Other assets – Other assets consist primarily of a collection of jewelry used in lodge ceremonies.

Deferred per capita fees revenue – Deferred per capita fees revenue consists of dues received in the current year for the subsequent fiscal year. These amounts are recognized as revenue in the following fiscal year, which is the period to which they relate.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

Changes in deferred per capita fees are as follows for the years ended October 31:

	2022	2021
Balance, beginning of year	$ 2,104,238	$ 2,143,294
Received from Lodges	2,226,346	2,161,494
Amortized	(2,217,687)	(2,200,550)
Balance, end of year	$ 2,112,897	$ 2,104,238

Short term loan payable – Short term loan payable consists of loan funds obtained to finance expanded insurance policies for the Organization.

Assets held in trust for lodges life membership and general investment funds – Assets held in trust for lodges general master trust fund consists of lodges' participation in the Grand Lodge's investment pool. The assets held in trust for lodges life membership fund is held in Kaspick and invested in the Kaspick & Company Growth Income Fund. Lodge general investments are held and managed by the Grand Lodge Investment Committee.

Revenue recognition

- Contributions are recognized as revenue when received or unconditionally promised.
- Program service revenues are recognized when received and in the period to which they relate.
- Noncash donations are recognized at fair value at the time of the donation.

The Organization records certain revenue from contracts with customers in accordance with ASC Topic 606. Under ASC Topic 606, the Organization must identify the contract with a customer, identify the performance obligations in the contract, determine the transaction price, allocate the transaction price to the performance obligations in the contract, and recognize revenue when (or as) the Organization satisfies a performance obligation. Significant revenue has not been recognized in the current reporting period that results from performance obligations satisfied in previous periods.

Certain sources of revenue are derived from interest and dividends earned on investment securities and other financial instruments that are not within the scope of ASC Topic 606. Revenue from contracts with customers in the scope of ASC Topic 606 is recognized in noninterest income. Sources of revenue from contracts with customers that are in the scope of ASC Topic 606 include the following:

- Lodge per capita fees – Grand Lodge earns per capita fees revenue from member lodges for services rendered. Per capita fees are charged to member lodges annually and are recognized as revenue ratably as the performance obligation is satisfied. The performance obligation is met over the period to which the services relate.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

- Garage revenues – Nob Hill earns garage revenue from customers for services rendered as the contract transaction occurs. Garage revenue is charged to customers as they enter the location and is recognized as the performance obligation is satisfied. The performance obligation is met when services are provided.

Concentration of credit risk – Financial instruments potentially subjecting the Grand Lodge to concentrations of credit risk consist primarily of bank demand deposits in excess of Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation ("FDIC") insurance thresholds, cash held in money market accounts in excess of the amounts insured by the U.S. Treasury insurance for money market funds, and various debt and equity investments in excess of Securities Investor Protection Corporation ("SIPC") insurance. Demand deposits are placed with a local financial institution, and management has not experienced any loss related to these demand deposits in the past. If any of the financial institutions with whom the Grand Lodge does business were to be placed into receivership with the FDIC, the Grand Lodge may be unable to access the cash they have on deposit with such institutions. If the Grand Lodge was unable to access its cash and cash equivalents as needed, the Grand Lodge's financial position and ability to operate its business could be adversely affected. The Grand Lodge has not experienced any losses in such accounts, and management believes it is not exposed to any significant credit risk on cash and investments. Investment securities are exposed to various risks, such as interest rate, market, and credit risk. It is at least reasonably possible, given the level of risk associated with investment securities, that changes in the near term could materially affect the amount reported in the consolidated statements. The risk associated with the investments is mitigated through diversification.

Income tax status – The Grand Lodge has been granted tax-exempt status for both federal income and California franchise tax purposes; while Nob Hill, a subsidiary of the Grand Lodge, is subject to federal income and California franchise tax.

New accounting pronouncements – During 2022, the Organization adopted the FASB issued Accounting Standards Update ("ASU") No. 2020-07, Not-For-Profit Entities (Topic 958): Presentation and Disclosures by Not-For-Profit Entities for Contributed Nonfinancial Assets, which increases the transparency of contributed nonfinancial assets for not-for-profit organizations through enhancements to presentation and disclosure. The update addresses certain stakeholders' concerns about the lack of transparency about the measurement of contributed nonfinancial assets recognized by not-for-profit organizations, as well as the amount of those contributions used in a not-for-profit organization's programs and other activities. This update is effective for fiscal years beginning after June 15, 2021, with early adoption permitted. The adoption did not have a material impact on the Organization's consolidated financial statements.

In 2016, the FASB issued ASU No. 2016-02, Leases (Topic 842), which simplifies the presentation of leases by recognizing lease assets and lease liabilities on the statement of financial position and disclosing key information about leasing arrangements. This pronouncement is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2021. Management is currently evaluating the impact of adoption on the consolidated financial statements, which will be effective for the Organization for fiscal year 2023.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

In March 2020, the FASB issued ASU No. 2020-04, Reference Rate Reform (Topic 848): Facilitation of the Effects of Reference Rate Reform on Financial Reporting, to provide guidance and ease potential burden in accounting for (or recognizing the effects of) reference rate reform on financial report stemming from the cessation of the London Interbank Offered Rate ("LIBOR"). This update is as of March 12, 2020, through December 31, 2022. In December 2022, the FASB issued ASU No. 2022-06, Reference Rate Reform (Topic 848): Deferral of the Sunset Date of Topic 848, deferring ASU No. 2020-04 through December 2024. Management is currently evaluating the impact of the provisions of the pronouncement on the consolidated financial statements.

Contingencies and commitments – In March 2020, the World Health Organization declared the novel coronavirus ("COVID-19") a global pandemic and recommended containment and mitigation measures worldwide. The Organization's operations are located in California, which has restricted gatherings of people due to the COVID-19 outbreak. The Organization will continue to monitor the situation closely, but given the uncertainty about the ongoing situation, an estimate of the impact to the consolidated financial statements cannot be made at this time.

In March 2022, conflict between Russia and Ukraine began, which has led to global sanctions being placed against Russian entities. The Grand Lodge holds investments with holdings in Russian assets and may experience losses against those assets. Given the dynamic nature and uncertainty of the circumstances an estimate of the impact on the consolidated financial statements cannot be made at this time.

ASC 820, Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures, defines fair value as the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. ASC 820 also establishes a fair value hierarchy that requires an entity to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs when measuring fair value. The standard describes three levels of inputs that may be used to measure fair value:

Level 1 – Quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2 – Observable inputs other than Level 1 prices, such as quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities; quoted prices in markets that are not active; or other inputs that are observable or can be corroborated by observable market data for substantially the full term of the assets or liabilities; or net asset value (NAV) per share (or its equivalent) with the ability to redeem the investments in the near term.

Level 3 – Unobservable inputs that are supported by little or no market activity and that are significant to the fair value of the assets or liabilities.

Following is a description of the valuation methodology used for instruments measured at fair value on a recurring basis and recognized in the accompanying consolidated financial statements, as well as the general classification of such instruments pursuant to the valuation hierarchy:

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

Investments – Where quoted market prices are available in an active market, securities are classified within Level 1 of the valuation hierarchy. Level 1 securities include exchange traded equities. If quoted market prices are not available, then fair values are estimated by using pricing models, quoted prices of securities with identical characteristics, or discounted cash flows. In certain cases, where Level 1 or Level 2 inputs are not available, securities are classified within Level 3 of the hierarchy and include certain real estate investments, and other less liquid securities using investment appropriate models like the income approach for real estate investments.

The following tables present the fair value measurements of assets recognized in the accompanying consolidated statements of financial position measured at fair value on a recurring basis and the level within the ASC 820 fair value hierarchy in which the fair value measurements fall at October 31:

Foreign stocks – This represents an investment in Acadian Non-US All Cap Equity (“USD Hedged”) Fund. The fund’s objective is to seek long-term capital appreciation in investing primarily in common stocks of international issuers. This will include both large and small-cap issuers as well as opportunistic exposure to issuers in the emerging markets. Acadian uses a quantitative model to invest in all cap international value equity.

Domestic equity – These common trust funds are invested and reinvested primarily in a portfolio of equity securities with the objective of approximating as closely as practicable the capitalization weighted total rate of return of the entire United States market for publicly traded equity securities. The criterion for selection of investments is the Dow Jones U.S. Total Stock Market Index.

Foreign equity – This category represents investments in Global Equity Long-Only Fund LP, and the Lindsell Train Global Equity Fund.

The Global Equity Long-Only Fund LP’s investment objective is to invest primarily in a long-only portfolio of global equities. The Lindsell Train Global Equity Fund’s primary objective is to protect the real value of clients’ capital and income over time. The aim is to invest only in “exceptional” companies that have that rare ability to grow the real value of their profits and cash flows over long periods of time. The investments are spread across global markets, and the objective of the underlying funds is to provide investors with capital appreciation and dividend income, while charging a lower expense fee than traditional mutual funds.

Global Macro (“Caxton Global Investment”) – The Fund’s objective is capital appreciation. Its principal activity is trading in the international currency, financial, commodities and securities markets. The fund has a broad mandate to trade in all exchange and over-the-counter markets, and to trade in derivative products and other instruments. The fund pursues these activities through the investment of its capital in Caxton International Limited, a BVI business company, through Caxton Intermediate Fund L.P., a BVI international limited partnership, with the exception of certain short-term investments for cash management purposes, strategic investments, and currency hedging transactions with respect to T-Euro Shares, T-GBP Shares, T-AUD Shares, and T-JPY Shares, respectively.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

Credit Long/Short (“Caspian”) – The investment objective of the Fund, the Intermediate fund, and the Master fund is to achieve long-term capital appreciation, on a favorable risk-adjusted basis, by applying a flexible and opportunistic approach to investing that involves evaluating the current attractiveness of various asset classes, including bank loans, bonds, equities, speculative investments, and cash equivalents, and investing its assets accordingly.

Broad Reach Fund – The Fund will generally focus on seeking an enhanced risk adjusted return through capital appreciation within a macro investment framework, investing primarily in global macro-opportunities with a focus on emerging markets securities and related derivatives, across the complete universe of FX, rates, credit and equity, as well as commodities. The Fund expects to utilize discretionary macro processes, systematic macro processes, and special situation macro processes, and aims to deliver returns that are agnostic to the business cycle of emerging markets.

400 Capital Credit Opportunities Fund – The Fund seeks to achieve high absolute returns with low volatility and low correlation to traditional fixed income and equity markets by investing in credit investments across credit sectors and throughout an issuer’s capital structure with a primary focus on structured credit, which includes secured and structured commercial, consumer, and corporate assets. The Fund may also pursue direct lending opportunities, including joint ventures with third parties and debt and/or equity investments in newly formed lending companies. Further, the Fund may use a variety of instruments to manage credit spread duration, interest rate duration, and market volatility. The execution of the Investment Manager’s strategy revolves around three core functions: (1) research and quantitative modeling, (2) portfolio and risk management, and (3) surveillance and loss mitigation.

Real Estate (“UBS TPF”) – This is an investment in an actively managed core portfolio of equity real estate that seeks to provide attractive returns while limiting downside risk and has both relative and real return objectives. Its relative performance objective is to outperform the NFI-ODCE index over any given three to five-year period. The fund’s real return performance objective is to achieve at least a 5% real rate of return (i.e., inflation-adjusted return), before advisory fees, over any given three to five-year period.

Fixed income mutual funds – This category includes the following funds: Columbus Unconstrained Bond Fund, BlackRock US TIPS, and Wellington CTF Opportunistic. These are commingled funds with an investment strategy that invests across the fixed income spectrum, including TIPS, Treasuries, investment grade and high-yield credit, and asset-backed securities. These funds are valued monthly.

Lease payments, as mutually agreed by both parties, are determined at the beginning of each fiscal year. Based on the best information available at this time, the Grand Lodge deems that the future minimum lease payments cannot be accurately determined and disclosed. Grand Lodge made lease payments of $66,279 and $64,980 for the years ended October 31, 2022 and 2021, respectively.

The Retirement Plan provides for both an employer contribution and an employer match of employee contributions. The total employer contributions and matches made by Grand Lodge to the Retirement Plan were $475,253 and $485,607 for the years ended October 31, 2022 and 2021, respectively.

Note 8 – Contingencies

In the ordinary course of business, the Grand Lodge is a party to claims and legal actions. After consulting with legal counsel, the Grand Lodge's management is of the opinion that any liability that may ultimately be incurred as a result of claims or legal actions will not have a material effect on the consolidated financial position or consolidated changes in net assets of the Grand Lodge.

Note 9 – Short Term Loan

Note 11 – Endowment Fund – Without Donor Restrictions

Spending policy, investing policy, and strategy

Return objectives and risk parameters – The Grand Lodge has adopted investment and spending policies for endowment assets that attempt to provide a predictable stream of funding to programs supported by its endowment while seeking to maintain the purchasing power of the endowment assets. Endowment assets are comprised of board-designated funds. Under this policy, as approved by the Board of Trustees, the endowment assets are invested in a manner that is intended to produce results that exceed the price and yield results of various market benchmarks appropriate to the investment classes utilized while assuming a moderate level of investment risk. The Grand Lodge expects its endowment funds, over time, to provide an average rate of return of approximately 6.50% to 7.00% annually. Actual returns in any given year may vary from this amount.

Strategies employed for achieving objectives – To satisfy its long-term rate-of-return objectives, the Grand Lodge relies on a total return strategy in which investment returns are achieved through both capital appreciation (realized and unrealized) and current yield (interest and dividends). The Grand Lodge targets a diversified asset allocation that places a greater emphasis on equity-based investments to achieve its long-term return objectives within prudent risk constraints.

Spending policy and how the investment objectives relate to the spending policy – For 2022/2021, the Grand Lodge has a policy of appropriating for distribution 4.50% of its endowment fund's average fair value over the prior 20 quarters through the calendar year end preceding the fiscal year in which the distribution is planned. In establishing this policy, the Grand Lodge considered the long-term expected return on its endowment. Accordingly, over the long term, the Grand Lodge expects the current spending policy to allow its endowment to grow at an average of 2.00% annually. This is consistent with the Grand Lodge's objective to maintain the purchasing power of the endowment assets held in perpetuity or for a specified term as well as to provide additional real growth through new gifts and investment return.

Report of Independent Auditors

The Audit Committee
Masonic Homes of California and Subsidiaries

Report on the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements

We have audited the consolidated financial statements of Masonic Homes of California and Subsidiaries (collectively, the "Organization"), which comprise the consolidated statements of financial position as of October 31, 2022, and the related consolidated statements of activities and changes in net assets, and cash flows for the year then ended, and the related notes to the consolidated financial statements.

In our opinion, the accompanying consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Masonic Homes of California and Subsidiaries as of October 31, 2022, and the results of their operations and their cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAS"). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are required to be independent of the Organization and to meet our other ethical responsibilities, in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements relating to our audit. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Responsibilities of Management for the Consolidated Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, and for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, management is required to evaluate whether there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the Organization's ability to continue as a going concern within one year after the date that the consolidated financial statements are available to be issued.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and therefore is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with GAAS will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Misstatements are considered material if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in the aggregate, they would influence the judgment made by a reasonable user based on the consolidated financial statements.

In performing an audit in accordance with GAAS, we:

- Exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.
- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Masonic Homes of California and Subsidiaries' internal control. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluate the overall presentation of the consolidated financial statements.
- Conclude whether, in our judgment, there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the Masonic Homes of California and Subsidiaries' ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit, significant audit findings, and certain internal control–related matters that we identified during the audit.

Report on Summarized Comparative Information

We have previously audited the Masonic Homes of California and Subsidiaries' 2021 consolidated financial statements and we expressed an unmodified opinion on those audited consolidated financial statements in our report dated February 24, 2022. In our opinion, the summarized comparative information presented herein as of and for the year ended October 31, 2021, is consistent, in all material respects, with the audited consolidated financial statements, from which it has been derived.

Supplementary Information

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the consolidated financial statements that collectively comprise the Organization's basic consolidated financial statements. The financial information as of and for the years ended October 31, 2022 and 2021, included in the accompanying consolidating statements of financial position, consolidating statements of activities and changes in net assets, and consolidating statements of cash flows are presented for purposes of additional analysis and are not a required part of the basic consolidated financial statements. Such information is the responsibility of management and was derived from and relates directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the basic consolidated financial statements. The information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic consolidated financial statements and certain additional procedures, including comparing and reconciling such information directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the basic consolidated financial statements or to the basic consolidated financial statements themselves, and other additional procedures in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. In our opinion, the supplementary information is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the basic consolidated financial statements as a whole.

The summarized information for the years ended October 31, 2022 and 2021, included in the accompanying supplemental schedule of supporting services expenses for the years ended October 31, 2022 and 2021, all presented as supplementary information, is presented for the purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic consolidated financial statements. Masonic Homes is supported by The Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of the State of California (the "Grand Lodge") and members of the Masonic Fraternity in California.

Masonic Homes is the sole member of Acacia Creek, A Masonic Senior Living Community at Union City ("Acacia Creek – UC"). Masonic Homes and Acacia Creek – UC, serve the housing needs of the elderly with independent, assisted living, memory care, and skilled nursing.

Masonic Homes is subject to statutory reserve requirements. As of October 31, 2022, Masonic Homes' reserves, as calculated in accordance with Continuing Care Contract Statutes of the California Health and Safety Code, were in excess of such requirements.

Comparative information – The consolidated financial statements include certain prior year summarized comparative information in total but not by net asset class. Such information does not include sufficient detail to constitute a presentation in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Masonic Homes of California and Subsidiaries

Net asset classifications – The accompanying consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Net assets, revenues, expenses, gains, and losses are classified based on the existence or absence of donor-imposed restrictions. Accordingly, net assets of the Organization and changes therein are classified and reported as follows:

Without donor restriction – without donor restriction net assets represent resources that are not subject to donor-imposed restrictions and are available to support Masonic Homes' activities. The Board of Trustees has designated certain net assets without donor restrictions as operating reserves, capital reserves, uninsured risk reserves, strategic initiative reserves, advance care reserves, and endowment funds. As of October 31, 2022, and 2021, board-designated reserve funds consisted of the following:

	2022 (In Thousands)	2021 (In Thousands)
Operating reserve fund	$ 6,966	$ 6,112
Capital reserve fund	7,232	6,969
Uninsured risk fund	11,076	12,245
Strategic reserve fund	1,366	1,308
Advanced care reserve fund	3,946	3,188
Endowment funds	245,473	335,081
Total board-designated net assets	$ 276,059	$ 364,903

With Donor Restriction – with donor restriction net assets represent contributions to be held in perpetuity as directed by the donor and contributions that are limited as to use in accordance with donor-imposed stipulations. These stipulations may expire with time or may be satisfied by the actions of the Organization according to the intention of the donor. Upon satisfaction of such stipulations, the associated net assets are released and reported as without donor restriction. If a restriction is fulfilled in the same fiscal year in which the contribution was received, the contribution is reported as with donor restriction support and net assets are released from restrictions in that period. Net assets with donor restrictions are expected to be released based on the spending guidelines and on an as-needed basis.

Use of estimates – The preparation of the consolidated financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions. Estimates included in these consolidated financial statements relate to fair market value of investments, liability to beneficiaries of split-interest agreements in various charitable remainder trusts, fair market value of real and personal property assigned by residents at the date they are assigned, the useful lives of property and equipment, and allocations of functional expenses. These estimates and assumptions affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the consolidated financial statements, and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Fair value of financial instruments – The carrying amounts reported in the accompanying consolidated statements of financial position for cash and cash equivalents, accounts receivable, accounts payable, accrued liabilities, and related entities receivables and payables approximate fair value due to their short-term nature. Discussion on the fair value of financial instruments is included in Note 4.

Fair valuation process – The Organization determines fair value measurement policies and procedures for assets and liabilities under the supervision of the Investment Committee. These policies and procedures are reassessed annually to determine if the current valuation techniques are still appropriate. A variety of qualitative factors are used to subjectively determine the most appropriate valuation methodologies. Methodologies are consistent with the market, income, and cost approaches. Unobservable inputs used in fair value measurements are evaluated and adjusted on an annual basis, or as necessary based on current market conditions and other third-party information. In determining the reasonableness of the methodology, Masonic Homes evaluates a variety of factors that include a review of existing agreements, economic conditions, industry, and market developments. Certain unobservable inputs are assessed through review of contract terms while others are substantiated utilizing available market data, including, but not limited to, market comparable, qualified opinions, and discount rates and mortality tables for split-interest agreements.

Cash, cash equivalents, and restricted cash – Cash and cash equivalents consist of highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less at the time of purchase, with the exception of cash and cash equivalents held in the endowment fund as investments, the use of which is restricted.

Funds held for residents and prospective residents include residents' accounts at Union City, Covina, and Acacia Creek – UC, which comprise of (a) deposits made by residents for a unit in Acacia Creek – UC, (b) unexpended portions of monthly allowances made to residents, or (c) other income earned by residents. A corresponding liability related to deposits, and the unexpended portion of monthly allowances is included reported as liability for funds held for residents (Note 2).

Cash and cash equivalents, and restricted cash consisted of the following as of October 31:

	2022 (In Thousands)	2021 (In Thousands)
Cash and cash equivalents - operating cash	$ 4,054	$ 1,883
Cash and cash equivalents - money market	10,963	10,482
Funds held for residents - restricted cash	1,598	1,616
Total cash, cash equivalents, and resident restricted cash	$ 16,615	$ 13,981

Receivables, net – The Organization receives payment for health services from residents, insurance companies, Medicare, Medi-Cal, HMOs, and other third-party payors. As a result, the Organization is exposed to certain credit risks. The Organization manages its risk by regularly reviewing its accounts receivable and, on a periodic basis, evaluates its accounts receivable and establishes an allowance for uncollectible accounts, based on a history of past write-offs and collections. Past-due status is based upon the date of services provided. Uncollectible receivables are charged off when deemed uncollectible. Recoveries from previously charged-off accounts are recorded when received.

Masonic Homes of California and Subsidiaries
Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

Prepaid expenses – Prepaid expenses consist primarily of insurance premium prepayments.

Related-party receivable – As a part of the California Masonic Foundation fundraising campaign, the Organization has a grant receivable for the amounts designated by the grantors for the benefit of the Organization. The total receivable balance was $592,000 and $1,381,000 as of October 31, 2022 and 2021, respectively.

Assets held for sale – Assets held for sale consist primarily of tangible property received from residents, including residential real estate that is held for sale. Assets are recorded at 80% to 90% of estimated fair market value on the date of assignment with the intention of liquidating within 180 days.

Investments – Investments in common stocks, fixed income securities, and equity securities are stated at estimated fair market values based on quoted market prices. Investments received through gifts are recorded at estimated fair market values at the dates of donation. The fair value of alternative investments is recorded at the investment manager's Net Asset Value ("NAV"), as the managers have the greatest insight into the investments of their funds and the related industry, and have the appropriate expertise to determine the NAV. The Organization assesses the NAV and takes into consideration events such as suspended redemptions, restructuring, secondary sales, and investor defaults to determine if an adjustment is necessary. Additionally, asset holdings are reviewed within the investment manager's audited consolidated financial statements as well as interim consolidated financial statements and fund manager communications, for the purposes of assessing valuation. Unrealized gains or losses that result from market fluctuations are recorded in the period in which such fluctuations occur. Realized gains or losses resulting from sales or maturities of securities are calculated on a cost basis.

Property and equipment – Property and equipment are carried at cost. Purchases of property and equipment amounting to $1,000 and above are capitalized and depreciated using the straight-line method over the following estimated useful lives:

Buildings and improvements	5 to 50 years
Equipment	3 to 35 years
Furniture and fixtures	5 to 20 years
Vehicles	3 to 4 years

The Organization evaluates prominent events or changes in circumstances affecting capital assets to determine whether impairment of a capital asset has occurred. Measurement of the amount of impairment may be based on market values of similar assets or estimates of future discounted cash flows resulting from use and ultimate disposition of the assets. No asset impairment was recognized during the years ended October 31, 2022 and 2021.

Assets held in trusts – Assets held in trusts represent the assets used to satisfy the liability to beneficiaries of split-interest agreements. When a donor establishes a split-interest agreement where Masonic Homes is the trustee, the lump sum received by the donor is invested separately (Note 6).

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

Professional liability insurance – Masonic Homes insures for professional liability claims under an "occurrence policy." Masonic Homes primary and excess policies cover all occurrences that happen during the policy term up to $10,000,000, subject to a $500,000 self-insured retention. Acacia Creek policy covers all occurrences that happen during the policy term up to $3,000,000, subject to a $25,000 deductible and excess policy for each loss event up to $4,000,000. Should these policies not be renewed or replaced with equivalent insurance, claims made outside of the policy period may be uninsured. Management's intention is to continue insuring for professional liability exposures at all times. Management is not aware of any pending claims that exceed the coverage limitations provided by the policy. Management is of the opinion that the impact, if any, of unknown claims is immaterial and any settlement would not have a material adverse effect on the Organization's financial position. Management's estimate of the Organization's liability for expected losses is based on historical claims experience. At this time there are no accruals for liability included in accounts payable and accrued liabilities, nor are any insurance receivables recorded in the consolidated financial statements of the Organization.

Workers' compensation insurance – The Organization insures for workers' compensation claims under an "occurrence policy" in compliance with the Workers' Compensation Law of the State of California. The policy covers all occurrences that happen during the policy term up to $1,000,000, subject to a $250,000 deductible per occurrence. Under California Law workers' compensation coverage must be carried by all employers, therefore, if this policy was not renewed, replacement coverage would need to be secured. There are no accruals for unreported claims accounts payable and accrued liabilities in the consolidated financial statements of the Organization. Under the program, the Organization pays its claims and costs falling under the $250,000 deductible as incurred, and no accruals have been made nor reserves established in the consolidated financial statements of the Organization for any open claims that have not reached the $250,000 deductible threshold. The Organization pays for claims and increases in reserves held by the insurance company on a quarterly basis, regardless of the policy year the claim was filed. Management is of the opinion that the impact, if any, of unreported claims or open claims is immaterial and would not have an adverse impact on the Organization's financial position.

Liability to beneficiaries of split-interest agreements

Deferred revenue from pooled income fund – Deferred revenue from pooled income fund represents the discount for future investment earnings on Masonic Homes' remainder interest in the Masonic Homes Pooled Income Fund (the "Pooled Income Fund") (Note 6). Masonic Homes has determined the amount deferred using the tax deduction methodology from Internal Revenue Service ("IRS") Publication 1457 tables, and a discount rate of 3.955% as of October 31, 2022 and 2021. Deferred revenue from the Pooled Income Fund included in liability to beneficiaries of split-interest agreements in the consolidated statements of financial position was $145,000 and $183,000 as of October 31, 2022 and 2021, respectively.

Liability to beneficiaries of charitable remainder trusts – Liability to beneficiaries of charitable remainder trusts represents the income beneficiaries' interest in various charitable remainder trusts of which Masonic Homes is the trustee (Note 6). The liability is calculated as the present value of the estimated future cash flows to be distributed to the income beneficiaries over their expected lives. Masonic Homes has determined the amount of the liability using the tax deduction methodology from IRS Publication 1457, Table S, or IRS Publication 1458, Table D, as applicable, and using a discount rate range from of 0.4% to 5.80% and 0.4% to 6.2% as of October 31, 2022 and 2021, respectively. Liabilities to beneficiaries of charitable remainder trusts included in liabilities to beneficiaries in the consolidated statements of financial position were $1,346,000 and $1,782,000 as of October 31, 2022 and 2021, respectively.

Other liabilities to beneficiaries of split-interest arrangements – Other liabilities to beneficiaries of split-interest agreements include charitable reminder trusts and other gift annuities for which the Organization is obligated. These arrangements included in liabilities to beneficiaries in the consolidated statements of financial position were $475,000 and $556,000 as of October 31, 2022 and 2021, respectively.

Obligation to provide future services to current residents – The Organization is required to accrue a liability in the consolidated financial statements to cover future services to current residents if deferred residency fees and future anticipated income are not sufficient to cover these costs. The interest rate used to estimate this liability was 4% and 3% as of October 31, 2022 and 2021, respectively. Management has determined that no such accrual is required in the accompanying consolidated financial statements.

Revenue recognition

Masonic Homes

Residency fees – The adult residents who enter Masonic Homes are required by a life-care agreement to assign 75% of their assets to Masonic Homes in exchange for continuing care for the remainder of their lives. In the event that a continuing care contract is canceled by the resident through withdrawal within the first 90 days of residency, the resident is entitled to a pro-rata refund of all his or her assigned assets. As of October 31, 2022, and 2021, deferred revenues from assigned assets subject to refund, were $1,391,163 and $167,540, respectively. The life-care agreement creates a performance obligation to be satisfied over the remaining life of the resident at Masonic Homes.

Masonic Homes recognizes the revenue associated with the residency fee using a straight-line method over the actuarially determined estimated life of each resident. Resident life expectancies are reevaluated regularly and any changes in the revenue as a result of that reevaluation will be recognized in the period noted. As of October 31, 2022 and 2021, Masonic Homes had $16,288,000 and $14,691,000, respectively, in deferred revenue from residency fees to be recognized as the performance obligations are satisfied. See Note 7 for changes in the unearned residency fee revenue for the years ended October 31, 2022 and 2021. Any unamortized balance upon death of the individual resident or last survivor is recognized as income.

Health service revenue – Masonic Homes – Health service revenues are recognized in the month in which services are provided and collectability is reasonably assured. Health service revenue on the consolidated statements of activities and changes in net assets for assisted living and memory care was $6,950,000 and $6,711,000, for the years ended October 31, 2022, and 2021, respectively and is presented net of third-party rate adjustments. Other revenue is recognized as the related services are provided and includes guest services income, catering income, and other miscellaneous income.

Revenue for health services performance obligations satisfied over time is recognized on actual charges incurred. Masonic Homes believes this method provides a faithful depiction of the transfer of services over the term of the performance obligation based on the inputs needed to satisfy the obligation. Generally, performance obligations satisfied over time relate to residents in the skilled nursing facility ("SNF"). Masonic Homes measures the performance obligation from admission into the SNF to the point when it is no longer required to provide health care services to the resident, which is typically at the time of discharge.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

The SNF recognizes patient service revenue associated with services provided to patients who have third-party payer coverage on the basis of contractual rates for the services rendered. The SNF has agreements with third-party payers that provide for payments to the hospital facility at amounts different from its established rates. These payment arrangements include:

- Medicare: Inpatient nonacute care services for Medicare program beneficiaries are paid at prospectively determined rates. These rates vary according to patient classification systems that are based on clinical/ rehab, diagnostic, and other factors. The SNF is reimbursed for certain services at tentative rates with final settlement determined after submission of annual cost reports by the SNF and audits thereof by the Medicare administrative contractor.

- Medi-Cal: Beginning July 1, 2013, inpatient non acute care services rendered to Medi-Cal program beneficiaries are reimbursed under a diagnostic related group ("DRG") methodology. Under this methodology, similar to Medicare, services were paid at prospectively determined facility rates less resident share of costs.

- Secondary insurance: The SNF has also entered into payment agreements with certain commercial insurance carriers, health maintenance organizations, and preferred provider organizations. The basis for payment to the SNF under these agreements includes prospectively determined rates per discharge, discounts from established charges, and prospectively determined daily rates.

Masonic Homes provides health care services primarily to residents of its communities. Laws and regulations governing Medicare and Medi-Cal programs are complex and subject to interpretation. Masonic Homes believes that it is in compliance with all applicable laws and regulations and is not aware of any pending or threatened investigations involving allegations of potential wrongdoing. While no such regulatory inquiries have been made, compliance with such laws and regulations can be subject to future government review and interpretation as well as significant regulatory action, including fines, penalties, and exclusion from the Medicare and Medi-Cal programs.

Settlements with third-party payors for retroactive adjustments due to audits, review, or investigations are considered variable consideration and are included in the determination of estimated transaction price for providing patient care. These settlements are estimated based on the terms of the payment agreement with the payor, correspondence from the payor, and Masonic Homes' historic settlement activity, including an assessment to ensure that it is probable that a significant reversal in the amount of cumulative revenue recognized will not occur when the uncertainty associated with the retroactive adjustment is subsequently resolved. Estimated settlements are adjusted in future periods as adjustments become known (that is, new information becomes available), or as years are settled or are no longer subject to such audits, reviews, and investigations. Adjustments arising from a change in the transaction price were not significant in 2022 or 2021.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

Generally, patients who are covered by third-party payors are responsible for related deductibles and coinsurance, which vary in amount. Masonic Homes estimate the transaction price for patients with deductibles and coinsurance based on historical experience and current market conditions. The initial estimate of the transaction price is determined by reducing the standard charge by any contractual adjustments determined on a resident-by-resident basis. Subsequent changes to the estimate of the transaction price are generally recorded as adjustments to nursing center revenue in the period of the change. Subsequent changes that are determined to be the result of an adverse change in the resident's ability to pay are recorded as bad debt expense. Bad debt expense for the years ended October 31, 2022 and 2021, was not significant.

Fee for service revenue – Masonic Homes – Financially qualified adult residents may enter Masonic Homes by paying a monthly rental fee; such amounts vary with an option to pay an entrance fee. In the event of withdrawal, residents are refunded entrance fees ratably over the first 36 or 60 months.

Assigned retirement benefits – Resident retirement benefits that are assigned to Masonic Homes are recognized when received. These amounts are generally received in the form of annuity payments.

Acacia Creek – UC

Entrance fees – Acacia Creek – UC – The adult residents who enter and sign a Residence and Care Agreement are allowed a 90-day trial period during which the resident may leave the community at their discretion and receive, upon written notice, a refund of all fees less a reasonable processing fee and fees for the value of services rendered during occupancy. The majority of the adult resident entrance fees are refundable ranging from 50% to 100% upon the resident's death or termination of the agreement. Acacia Creek – UC is required to refund the entrance fees when the unit is re-sold. As of October 31, 2022 and 2021, entrance fees subject to refund were $45,688,000 and $44,517,000, respectively. The nonrefundable portion is amortized over the life of the resident and is included in deferred revenue.

Fee for service revenue – Acacia Creek – UC – Acacia Creek – UC offers a variety of living accommodations, fine amenities, a comprehensive wellness program, and several types of support and health care. Residents pay 1) a monthly fee, which varies according to the size and type of apartment selected and by the level of care needed, and 2) fees for optional services, if applicable.

Contributions – The Organization records contributions and unconditional promises to give in the period they are received in accordance with Accounting Standards Codification ("ASC") 958-606, Revenue Recognition. All contributions are available for unrestricted use unless specifically restricted by the donor. Conditional promises to give are recognized when the conditions on which they depend are substantially met. Unconditional promises to give due in the next year are recorded at their net realizable value. Unconditional promises to give due in subsequent years are reported at the present value of their net realizable value, using risk-free interest rates applicable to the years in which the promises are to be received.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

In-kind contributions – Contributions of donated assets and services are recorded at fair value at the date they are received. Contributions of donated services that create or enhance nonfinancial assets or that require specialized skills, are provided by individuals possessing those skills, and would typically need to be purchased if not provided by donation, are recorded at fair value on the date received. For the years ended October 31, 2022 and 2021, there was no in-kind contributions received by the Organization.

Recognition of donor-restricted contributions – Donor-restricted support is reported as an increase in net assets with donor restrictions, depending on the nature of the restriction. When a restriction expires, net assets with donor restrictions are reclassified to net assets without donor restrictions.

Performance indicator – "(Deficit) excess of revenues over expenses before other changes in net assets" in net assets without donor restrictions as reflected in the accompanying consolidated statements of activities and changes in net assets is the performance indicator. Changes in net assets without donor restrictions, which are excluded from (deficit) excess of revenues over expenses, consistent with industry practice, includes unrealized gains and losses on investments.

Concentration of credit risk – Financial instruments potentially subjecting the Organization to concentrations of credit risk consist primarily of bank demand deposits in excess of Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation insurance thresholds, cash held in money market accounts in excess of the amounts insured by the U.S. Treasury insurance for money market funds, and various debt and equity investments in excess of Securities Investor Protection Corporation insurance. Demand deposits are placed with a local financial institution, and management has not experienced any loss related to these demand deposits in the past. Investment securities are exposed to various risks, such as interest rate, market, and credit risk. It is at least reasonably possible, given the level of risk associated with investment securities, that changes in the near term could materially affect the amount reported in the consolidated financial statements. The risk associated with the investments is mitigated through diversification.

Tax-exempt status – Masonic Homes and Acacia Creek – UC are not-for-profit corporations as described in Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code and Section 23701(d) of California Revenue and Taxation Code and have been granted tax-exempt status by the IRS and the California Franchise Tax Board. Accordingly, no provision for income taxes is included in the consolidated financial statements.

New accounting pronouncements – During 2022, the Organization adopted the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") issued Accounting Standards Update ("ASU") No. 2020-07, Not-For-Profit Entities (Topic 958): Presentation and Disclosures by Not-For-Profit Entities for Contributed Nonfinancial Assets, which increases the transparency of contributed nonfinancial assets for not-for-profit organizations through enhancements to presentation and disclosure. The update addresses certain stakeholders' concerns about the lack of transparency about the measurement of contributed nonfinancial assets recognized by not-for-profit organizations, as well as the amount of those contributions used in a not-for-profit organization's programs and other activities. This update is effective for fiscal years beginning after June 15, 2021, with early adoption permitted. The adoption did not have a material impact on the Organization's consolidated financial statements.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

In February, the FASB issued ASU No. 2016-02, Leases (Topic 842), which simplifies the presentation of leases by recognizing lease assets and lease liabilities on the balance sheet and disclosing key information about leasing arrangements. This pronouncement is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2021. Management is currently evaluating the impact of adoption on the consolidated financial statements which will be effective for the Organization for fiscal year 2023.

In June 2016, the FASB issued ASU No. 2016-13, Financial Instruments – Credit Losses (Topic 326): Measurement of Credit Losses on Financial Instruments, which requires the measurement of all expected credit losses for financial assets held based on historical experience, current conditions, and reasonable and supportable forecasts. This pronouncement is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2021. Management is currently evaluating the impact of adoption on the consolidated financial statements which will be effective for the Organization for fiscal year 2023.

In March 2020, the FASB issued ASU No. 2020-04, Reference Rate Reform (Topic 848): Facilitation of the Effects of Reference Rate Reform on Financial Reporting, to provide guidance and ease potential burden in accounting for (or recognizing the effects of) reference rate reform on financial report stemming from the cessation of the London Interbank Offered Rate ("LIBOR"). This update is as of March 12, 2020, through December 31, 2022. In December 2022, the FASB issued ASU No. 2022-06, Reference Rate Reform (Topic 848): Deferral of the Sunset Date of Topic 848, deferring ASU No. 2020-04 through December 2024. Management is currently evaluating the impact of the provisions of the pronouncement on the consolidated financial statements.

NOTE 4 – FAIR VALUE OF ASSETS AND LIABILITIES

Fair value is defined as the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. ASC 820 also establishes a fair value hierarchy which requires an entity to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs when measuring fair value. The standard describes three levels of inputs that may be used to measure fair value:

Level 1 – Quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2 – Observable inputs other than Level 1 prices, such as quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities; quoted prices in markets that are not active; or other inputs that are observable or can be corroborated by observable market data for substantially the full term of the assets or liabilities.

Level 3 – Unobservable inputs that are supported by little or no market activity and are significant to the fair value of the assets or liabilities.

Following is a description of the valuation methodologies used for instruments measured at fair value on a recurring basis and recognized in the accompanying consolidated financial statements, as well as the general classification of such instruments pursuant to the valuation hierarchy:

Corporate stocks/mutual funds/assets held in trusts – Where quoted market prices are available in an active market, securities are classified within Level 1 of the valuation hierarchy. Level 1 securities include exchange traded equities. If quoted market prices are not available, then fair values are estimated by using pricing models, quoted prices of securities with identical characteristics or discounted cash flows. In certain cases where Level 1 or Level 2 inputs are not available, securities are classified within Level 3 of the hierarchy and include certain real estate investments, and other less liquid securities using investment appropriate models like the income approach for real estate investments. For those assets held in trusts classified as Level 3, the fair value is based on the fair value of underlying investments and the Organization's percentage of interest in the trusts.

Foreign stocks – This represents an investment in Acadian Non-US All Cap Equity (USD Hedged) Fund. The fund's objective is to seek long-term capital appreciation in investing primarily in common stocks of international issuers. This will include both large and small-cap issuers as well as opportunistic exposure to issuers in the emerging markets. Acadian uses a quantitative model to invest in all cap international value equity.

Domestic equity – These common trust funds are invested and reinvested primarily in a portfolio of equity securities with the objective of approximating as closely as practicable the capitalization weighted total rate of return of the entire United States market for publicly traded equity securities. The criterion for selection of investments is the Dow Jones U.S. Total Stock Market Index.

Foreign equity – This category represents investments in Global Equity Long-Only Fund LP, and the Lindsell Train Global Equity Fund.

The Global Equity Long-Only Fund LP's investment objective is to invest primarily in long-only portfolio of global equities. The Lindsell Train Global Equity Fund's primary objective is to protect the real value of clients' capital and income over time. The aim is to invest only in 'exceptional' companies that have that rare ability to grow the real value of their profits and cash flows over long periods of time. The investments are spread across global markets, and the objective of the underlying funds is to provide investors with capital appreciation and dividend income, while charging a lower expense fee than traditional mutual funds.

Alternative investments

Global Macro ("Caxton Global Investment") – The Fund's objective is capital appreciation. Its principal activity is trading in the international currency, financial, commodities and securities markets. The fund has a broad mandate to trade in all exchange and over-the-counter markets, and to trade in derivative products and other instruments. The fund pursues these activities through the investment of its capital in Caxton International Limited, a BVI business company, through Caxton Intermediate Fund L.P., a BVI international limited partnership, with the exception of certain short-term investments for cash management purposes, strategic investments, and currency hedging transactions with respect to T-Euro Shares, T-GBP Shares, T-AUD Shares, and T-JPY Shares respectively.

Credit Long/Short ("Caspian") – The investment objective of the Fund, the Intermediate fund, and the Master fund is to achieve long-term capital appreciation, on a favorable risk-adjusted basis, by applying a flexible and opportunistic approach to investing which involves evaluating the current attractiveness of various asset classes, including bank loans, bonds, equities, speculative investments, and cash equivalents, and investing its assets accordingly.

PIMCO Bravo II – An opportunistic residential and commercial credit strategy seeking to capitalize on the continued deleveraging and re-regulation of the financial system, with particular focus on bank disposition of assets for noneconomic reasons. The Fund seeks to earn long-term returns by acquiring discounted loans or structured credit tied to residential or commercial real estate markets in the U.S. or Europe, managing assets through restructuring, high-quality specialty servicing, and exerting operational control to extract additional value, purchasing assets with exposure to a potential U.S. housing recovery, and targeting uncrowded areas of global credit markets that fall in between public securities and private real estate markets.

Broad Reach Fund – The Fund will generally focus on seeking an enhanced risk adjusted return through capital appreciation within a macro investment framework, investing primarily in global macro opportunities with a focus on emerging markets securities and related derivatives, across the complete universe of FX, rates, credit and equity as well as commodities. The Fund expects to utilize discretionary macro processes, systematic macro processes and special situation macro processes and aims to deliver returns that are agnostic to the business cycle of emerging markets.

400 Capital Credit Opportunities Fund – The Fund seeks to achieve high absolute returns with low volatility and low correlation to traditional fixed income and equity markets by investing in credit investments across credit sectors and throughout an issuer's capital structure with a primary focus on structured credit, which includes secured and structured commercial, consumer and corporate assets. The Fund may also pursue direct lending opportunities, including joint ventures with third parties and debt and/or equity investments in newly formed lending companies. Further, the Fund may use a variety of instruments to manage credit spread duration, interest rate duration and market volatility. The execution of the Investment Manager's strategy revolves around three core functions: (1) research and quantitative modeling, (2) portfolio and risk management, and (3) surveillance and loss mitigation.

Real Estate ("UBS TPF") – This is an investment in an actively managed core portfolio of equity real estate that seeks to provide attractive returns while limiting downside risk and has both relative and real return objectives. Its relative performance objective is to outperform the NFI-ODCE index over any given three-to-five-year period. The fund's real return performance objective is to achieve at least a 5% real rate of return (i.e., inflation-adjusted return), before advisory fees, over any given three-to-five-year period.

Renaissance Equity Fund – Renaissance Technologies, LLC, uses a quantitatively heavy, systematic process to invest long and short in equities. Renaissance has state-of-the-art infrastructure to collect vast amounts of data, which the team analyzes in order to identify market anomalies. The end goal of the strategy is to produce alpha by applying mathematical insights to the liquid, listed equities markets. The following disclosure is made pursuant to Section 1790 (a) (3) of the California Health and Safety Code. The Organization is in the process of a facility development project on its campuses in Union City and Covina, which would expand its service offering. On October 10, 2017, in accordance with the Internal Revenue Service Code Section 501(c)(3), Masonic Homes of California submitted an abbreviated Certificate of Authority ("COA") application to the California Department of Social Services – Continuing Care Branch ("DSS") in connection with its planned construction of a skilled nursing facility at its Covina, California community. Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements Contributions receivable from split-interest agreements – Contributions receivable from split-interest agreements represent the estimated net present value of Masonic Homes' interest in various irrevocable trusts held by third parties. The net present value of these receivables was determined using the tax deduction methodology from the IRS.

Assets of pooled income fund – Assets of the Pooled Income Fund represent the fair value of assets held in the Pooled Income Fund, which was organized in 1974 as a charitable trust to which donors contribute irrevocable remainder interests in investments while retaining an income interest for life for one or more beneficiaries. All dividend and interest income of the Pooled Income Fund is distributed quarterly to the beneficiaries, based on their proportionate share of the Pooled Income Fund. Upon the death of each donor's last income beneficiary, the remainder interest becomes available for Masonic Homes' use.

Contributions are measured at the fair value of the assets received and discounted for the estimated life expectancy of the donor, which is obtained from life expectancy tables published by the IRS. The amount discounted is reported as discount for future interest and recognized using the straight-line method over the donor's remaining life expectancy. The interest rate used in calculating the discount approximates the average return provided by the fund in the years prior to the applicable contribution. As of October 31, 2022, and 2021, the rate was estimated to be 3.955%.

Assets of charitable remainder trusts – Assets of charitable remainder trusts consist of cash and other assets received under various irrevocable charitable trusts of which Masonic Homes is the trustee. The assets received under these agreements are recorded at estimated fair market value when received. Masonic Homes utilizes an outside fund consultant to value these assets annually.

Assets of charitable gift annuities – Assets of charitable gift annuities consist of cash and other assets received under irrevocable annuity contracts. These contracts guarantee a specified amount for the life of the donor, or beneficiaries designated by the donor. The assets received are not commingled with the general assets of Masonic Homes. A reserve account has been established and invested in accordance with California statutes. The discount rates used range from 0.4% to 6.2%. Upon the death of the donor, the remaining funds revert to Masonic Homes and are taken into income. The change in present value of the gift annuities for the years ended October 31, 2022 and 2021, was $(174,000) and 98,000, respectively.

Beneficial interests in perpetual trusts – Beneficial interests in perpetual trusts represent the net present value of Masonic Homes' irrevocable interest in the income generated from various perpetual trusts held by third-party trustees. The assets of the trusts have been donor restricted for investment in perpetuity.

NOTE 14 – UNIFORM PRUDENT MANAGEMENT OF INSTITUTIONAL FUNDS ACT (UPMIFA) DISCLOSURES

Board interpretation of law

Interpretation of Relevant Law UPMIFA enacted by California, FMV preservation – The Board of Trustees of the Masonic Homes has interpreted the California Prudent Management of Institutional Funds Act ("CPMIFA") as requiring the preservation of the fair value of the original gift as of the gift date of the donor-restricted endowment funds absent explicit donor stipulations to the contrary. As a result of this interpretation, the Masonic Homes classifies as permanently restricted net assets (a) the original value of gifts donated to the permanent endowment, (b) the original value of subsequent gifts to the permanent endowment, and (c) accumulations to the permanent endowment made in accordance with the direction of the applicable donor gift instrument at the time the accumulation is added to the fund. The remaining portion of the donor-restricted endowment fund that is not classified in permanently restricted net assets is classified as unrestricted or temporarily restricted net assets until those amounts are appropriated for expenditure by the Masonic Homes in a manner consistent with the standard of prudence prescribed by CPMIFA. In accordance with CPMIFA, the Masonic Homes considers the following factors in making a determination to appropriate or accumulate donor-restricted endowment funds:

a. The duration and preservation of the fund

b. The purposes of the Masonic Homes and the donor-restricted endowment fund

c. General economic conditions

d. The possible effect of inflation and deflation

e. The expected total return from income and the appreciation of investments

f. Other resources of the Masonic Homes

g. The investment policies of the Masonic Homes

Spending policy, investing policy, and strategy

Return objectives and risk parameters – Masonic Homes has adopted investment and spending policies for endowment assets that attempt to provide a predictable stream of funding to programs supported by its endowment while seeking to maintain the purchasing power of the endowment assets. Endowment assets include those assets of donor-restricted funds that the Masonic Homes must hold in perpetuity or for a donor-specified period(s) as well as board-designated funds. Under this policy, as approved by the Board of Trustees, the endowment assets are invested in a manner that is intended to produce results that exceed the price and yield results of various market benchmarks appropriate to the investment classes utilized while assuming a moderate level of investment risk. The Masonic Homes expects its endowment funds, over time, to provide an average rate of return of approximately 6.5% to 7.0% over the long term. Actual returns in any given year may vary from this amount.

Masonic Homes of California and Subsidiaries
Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

Strategies employed for achieving objectives – To satisfy its long-term rate-of-return objectives, Masonic Homes relies on a total return strategy in which investment returns are achieved through both capital appreciation (realized and unrealized) and current yield (interest and dividends). The Masonic Homes targets a diversified asset allocation that places a greater emphasis on equity-based investments to achieve its long-term return objectives within prudent risk constraints.

Spending policy and how the investment objectives relate to spending policy – For 2022/2021, Masonic Homes had a past policy of appropriating for distribution 4.50% to 5.00% of its endowment fund's average fair value over the prior twenty quarters through the calendar year-end proceeding the fiscal year in which the distribution is planned. In establishing this policy, the Masonic Homes considered the long-term expected return on its endowment. Accordingly, over the long term, the Masonic Homes expects the current spending policy to allow its endowment to grow at an average of 2.00% annually. This is consistent with the Masonic Homes' objective to maintain the purchasing power of the endowment assets held in perpetuity or for a specified term, as well as to provide additional real growth through new gifts and investment return.

Nature and types of restrictions

Endowment – Masonic Homes' endowment consists of approximately 16 individual funds established for a variety of purposes. Its endowment includes both donor-restricted endowment funds and funds designated by the Board of Trustees to function as endowments. As required by generally accepted accounting principles, net assets associated with endowment funds, including funds designated by the Board of Trustees to function as endowments, are classified and reported based on the existence or absence of donor-imposed restrictions.

Aggregate amount of deficiencies for donor-restricted endowments

Funds with deficiencies – From time to time, the fair value of assets associated with individual donor-restricted endowment funds may fall below the level that the donor requires the Masonic Homes to retain as a fund of perpetual duration. In accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, there was no deficiency of this nature that was reported in net assets without donor restrictions as of October 31, 2022 and 2021, respectively.

Report of Independent Auditors

The Audit Committee
California Masonic Foundation

We have audited the consolidated financial statements of California Masonic Foundation and its supporting entity (the "Organization"), which comprise the consolidated statement of financial position as of October 31, 2022, and the related consolidated statements of activities and changes in net assets, and cash flows for the year then ended, and the related notes to the consolidated financial statements.

In our opinion, the accompanying consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of California Masonic Foundation and its supporting entity as of October 31, 2022, and the changes in their net assets and their cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAS"). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are required to be independent of the Organization and to meet our other ethical responsibilities, in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements relating to our audit. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Responsibilities of Management for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, and for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, management is required to evaluate whether there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the California Masonic Foundation and its supporting entity's ability to continue as a going concern within one year after the date that the consolidated financial statements are available to be issued.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and therefore is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with GAAS will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Misstatements are considered material if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in the aggregate, they would influence the judgment made by a reasonable user based on the consolidated financial statements.

In performing an audit in accordance with GAAS, we:

- Exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.
- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the California Masonic Foundation and its supporting entity's internal control. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluate the overall presentation of the consolidated financial statements.
- Conclude whether, in our judgment, there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the California Masonic Foundation and its supporting entity's ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit, significant audit findings, and certain internal control-related matters that we identified during the audit.

Report on Summarized Comparative Information

We have previously audited the California Masonic Foundation and its supporting entity's 2021 consolidated financial statements and we expressed an unmodified opinion on those audited consolidated financial statements in our report dated April 14, 2022. In our opinion, the summarized comparative information presented herein as of and for the year ended October 31, 2021, is consistent, in all material respects, with the audited consolidated financial statements, from which it has been derived.

Supplementary Information

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the consolidated financial statements as a whole. The financial information as of and for the year ended October 31, 2022, included in the accompanying consolidating statement of financial position and consolidating statement of activities and changes in net assets is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic consolidated financial statements. Such information is the responsibility of management and was derived from and relates directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the consolidated financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the consolidated financial statements and certain additional procedures, including comparing and reconciling such information directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the consolidated financial statements or to the consolidated financial statements themselves, and other additional procedures in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. In our opinion, the information is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the consolidated financial statements as a whole.

The financial information as of and for the year ended October 31, 2022, included in the accompanying combining statement of financial position, excluding Temple; combining statements of activities, excluding Temple; and categorizations of financial position based upon donor restrictions is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic consolidated financial statements. This information is the responsibility of the Organization's management. We did not audit or apply limited procedures to such information, and we do not express an opinion or any form of assurance on them.

California Masonic Foundation
Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

Note 1 – Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

History and organization – The California Masonic Foundation (the "Foundation" or "Organization") was established in 1968 by the Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of the State of California (the "Grand Lodge"). The Foundation operates as a public charity under 509(a) of the Internal Revenue Code ("IRC"). The California Masonic Memorial Temple, Inc. (the "Temple"), a public charity, operates as a supporting organization of the Foundation, as defined in Section 509(a)(3) of the IRC. As a result, the Foundation effectively controls and has an economic interest in the Temple.

The Foundation believes that it has appropriate support for any tax positions taken under Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") Accounting Standards Codification ("ASC") 740, Income Taxes, and, as such, does not have any uncertain tax positions that are material to the consolidated financial statements.

The Temple is a California not-for-profit corporation. The Temple is comprised of an auditorium, exhibit hall, a parking garage, and office space located in San Francisco, California. The restated articles of incorporation for the Temple provide that income, less operating expenses and reserves, is to be transferred to the Foundation. The amount and proportions of such distributions are at the sole discretion of the Board of Trustees. For the years ended October 31, 2022 and 2021, no such transfers were made.

On October 30, 2008, the Temple signed a 10-year lease agreement with Live Nation, as amended. Beyond calendar year 2013, the rent was increased incrementally through March 31, 2020, to a maximum annual rent of $875,500. Thereafter through March 31, 2028, rent will increase by 3% per year. Amendment Five also established a minimum annual parking revenue guarantee of $300,000 per year for 2012 and 2013.

In January 2013, Amendment Six was executed whereby the Temple and Live Nation agreed to enter into the Settlement Agreement with the Nob Hill Coalition, the Nob Hill Association, David Harmer, William Terrell, Amy Harmer, Rich Hanson, David Chow, Adria Price, Lee Saylor, Donna Muse, and Elizabeth Pomada to settle all disputes among them to ensure the operation of the Premises as a lawful entertainment and assembly venue and permit the Improvements to the Premises. The settlement agreement includes Contingent Obligations to which Live Nation agreed to: (a) establish and fund a preservation fund managed by the Nob Hill Foundation for the preservation of Huntington Park; (b) establish, fund, and manage a school music program; (c) establish and manage a cultural and community concert promotion program; (d) provide Level 4 box tickets for each Music Concert or Comedy Event; and e) participate in a community liaison group.

In January 2014, Live Nation began the renovation of the Temple Auditorium, Exhibition Hall, California Room, and related areas. The renovation was completed in August 2014. In May 2015, Amendment Seven was executed whereby the Temple agreed to increase its capital contribution requirement by $75,000, to a total of $1,575,000. This requirement was met. The Temple paid $75,000 and $1,500,000 capital contributions in 2015 and 2014, respectively.

California Masonic Foundation
Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

In April 2018, under Amendment Eight, Live Nation and the Temple agreed to establish a portion of the Exhibit Hall that the Temple intended to remodel as an event, social, and supporting space ("Masonic Event Space" or "MES"). If the construction of the MES did not commence prior to December 31, 2020, the MES would become part of the Premises under the lease. The MES construction was completed in early 2020.

The COVID-19 pandemic of 2020 began in March 2020. On April 15, 2020, Amendment Nine was executed that established a Base Rent Deferral for the period commencing April 1, 2020, and ending June 30, 2020 ("Deferral Period"). During this period, Base Rent would be suspended and instead Live Nation would pay Temple $25,800 per month. Commencing July 1, 2020, Base Rent was to be reinstated and Live Nation would pay $12,900 per month for 12 consecutive months in addition to its payment of Base Rent then due. Live Nation would still be responsible for all other payment obligations under the Lease during the Deferral Period.

On September 1, 2020, Amendment Ten was executed by Live Nation and the Temple whereby a second Base Rent Deferral began September 1, 2020, and ending on the day before the Full Reinstatement Date (defined below). During this period, Base Rent was suspended and instead Live Nation would continue to pay the Temple $25,800 per month. The difference between the Base Rent that would have been paid and the $25,800 multiplied by the number of months of the deferral period is the Tenth Amendment Deferred Amount. The Temple agreed that the Tenth Amendment Deferred Amount would be combined with the amount of rent deferred in the Ninth Amendment and not repaid prior to the date of the Tenth Amendment. The combined total owed to the Temple would be paid, commencing on the first day of the month following the date Live Nation is permitted under applicable state, county, and local regulations and orders to operate the Premises at 85% or greater occupancy (such date to be the Full Reinstatement Date). At such time, Base Rent will be reinstated, and Live Nation shall pay the total deferred amount over 24 equal payments over 24 consecutive months in addition to payments of the Base Rent due. Live Nation remains responsible for all other payment obligations under the lease at all times.

Principles of consolidation – The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of California Masonic Foundation and California Masonic Memorial Temple, Inc. (collectively, the "Organization"). All significant intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated.

Comparative information – The consolidated financial statements include certain prior-year summarized comparative information in total, but not by net asset class. Such information does not include sufficient detail to constitute a presentation in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Accordingly, such information should be read in conjunction with the Organization's consolidated financial statements for the year ended October 31, 2021, from which the summarized information was derived.

California Masonic Foundation
Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

Net asset classifications – The accompanying consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with ASC 958-605, Revenue Recognition, ASC 606, Revenue from Contracts with Customers, and ASC 958-205, Presentation of Financial Statements, and the guidelines set forth in the industry audit and accounting guide, Not-for-Profit Organizations, issued by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants ("AICPA"). Under these guidelines, contributions of cash and other assets are classified as one of the following two categories:

Without donor restrictions – Net assets without donor restrictions are not subject to donor-imposed restrictions and are available for support of the Organization's programs and supporting services.

With donor restrictions – Net assets with donor restrictions represent contributions whose use by the Organization is limited by donor-imposed restrictions. The restrictions can be fulfilled by incurring expenses satisfying the restricted purposes and/or expire with the passage of time. Endowed with donor restriction net assets represent contributions restricted by donors for investment in perpetuity. These endowed net assets with donor restriction consist of original corpus.

Use of estimates – The preparation of consolidated financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions. These estimates and assumptions affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the consolidated financial statements, and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Fair value of financial instruments – The carrying amounts reported in the accompanying consolidated statements of financial position for cash and cash equivalents, accounts receivable, accounts payable, accrued liabilities, and related entities receivables/payables approximate fair value due to their short-term nature. Discussion on the fair value of financial instruments is included in Note 3.

Fair valuation process – The Organization determines fair value measurement policies and procedures for assets under the supervision of the Investment Committee. These policies and procedures are reassessed annually to determine if the current valuation techniques are still appropriate. A variety of qualitative factors is used to subjectively determine the most appropriate valuation methodologies. Methodologies are consistent with the market, income, and cost approaches. Unobservable inputs used in fair value measurements are evaluated and adjusted on an annual basis, or as necessary based on current market conditions and other third-party information. In determining the reasonableness of the methodology, the Organization evaluates a variety of factors including a review of existing agreements, economic conditions, industry, and market developments. Certain unobservable inputs are assessed through review of contract terms while others are substantiated utilizing available market data including, but not limited to, market comparable, qualified opinions, and discount rates.

Cash, cash equivalents, and restricted cash – Cash and cash equivalents consist of highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less at the time of purchase.

Accounts receivable – The Temple has contractually granted to Live Nation exclusive use of Temple facilities. Management believes these receivables are fully collectible. The Temple board has put in place a policy limitation for senior management that does not allow receivables to be unpursued after a 30-day period. There were no write-offs of receivables during 2022 and 2021.

California Masonic Foundation
Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

Pledges receivable, net – Pledges receivable, net, are measured at their fair value and reported as an increase in net assets. The Foundation reports gifts of cash and other assets as donor-restricted support if they are received with donor stipulations that limit the use of the donated assets, or if they are designated as support for future periods. When a donor restriction is satisfied, net assets with donor restrictions are reclassified to net assets without donor restrictions and reported in the statements of activities as net assets released from restrictions. Pledges with payment terms in excess of one year are subject to discounting of 3%. Pledges are written off in the period deemed uncollectible.

Prepaid expenses and other assets – Prepaid expenses and other assets consist primarily of insurance premium prepayments.

Investments – Investments in fixed income and equity securities are stated at estimated fair values based on quoted market prices. Investments received through gifts are recorded at estimated fair values at the dates of donation. The fair value of alternative investments are recorded at the investment manager's Net Asset Value ("NAV"), as the managers have the greatest insight into the investments of their funds and the related industries, and have the appropriate expertise to determine the NAV. The Organization assesses the NAV and takes into consideration events, such as suspended redemptions, restructuring, secondary sales, and investor defaults, to determine if an adjustment is necessary. Additionally, asset holdings are reviewed within investment managers' audited financial statements, as are interim financial statements and fund manager communications, for the purposes of assessing valuation. Unrealized gains or losses that result from market fluctuations are recorded in the period in which such fluctuations occur. Realized gains or losses resulting from sales or maturities of securities are calculated on a cost basis.

Property and equipment – Property and equipment are carried at cost. Purchases of property and equipment amounting to $1,000 and above are capitalized and depreciated using the straight-line method over the following estimated useful lives:

Buildings and improvements	5 to 50 years
Equipment	3 to 7 years
Furniture and fixtures	5 to 20 years

The Organization evaluates prominent events or changes in circumstances affecting capital assets to determine whether impairment of a capital asset has occurred. Impairment losses on capital assets are measured using the method that best reflects the diminished service utility of the capital asset.

Advanced deposits – Advanced deposits consist primarily of unearned revenue from various third-party entities.

Grants – Grants expense and payable represent amounts committed by the Foundation and approved by the Board of Trustees to be distributed to nonprofit organizations for their charitable activities. Grant refunds, rejections, and cancellations are recorded as a reduction of grants and awards expense at the time the grant is refunded or canceled. Grants with payment terms in excess of one year are subject to discounting based on the Foundation's internal discount rate of 3%.

California Masonic Foundation
Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

Revenue recognition

Contributions – Unconditional promises to give cash and other assets to the Organization are reported at estimated fair value at the date the promise is received. Contributions with donor-imposed restrictions that are met in the same year as received are reported as releases from net assets with donor restrictions to net assets without donor restrictions. Conditional promises to give and indications to give are reported at fair value at the date the condition is fulfilled, and the gift is received, respectively. When a donor restriction expires – that is, when a stipulated time restriction ends and/or purpose restriction is accomplished – net assets with donor restrictions are released as net assets without donor restrictions.

The Organization records certain revenue from contracts with customers in accordance with ASC Topic 606. Under ASC Topic 606, Revenue Recognition, the Organization must identify the contract with a customer, identify the performance obligations in the contract, determine the transaction price, allocate the transaction price to the performance obligations in the contract, and recognize revenue when (or as) the Organization satisfies a performance obligation. Significant revenue has not been recognized in the current reporting period that results from performance obligations satisfied in previous periods.

Certain sources of revenue are derived from interest and dividends earned on investment securities and other financial instruments that are not within the scope of ASC Topic 606. Revenue from contracts with customers in the scope of ASC Topic 606 is recognized in noninterest income. Sources of revenue from contracts with customers that are in the scope of ASC Topic 606 include the following:

Auditorium and related services – Temple earns revenue from the contract with Live Nation described above. Revenue is earned for services rendered as the contract transaction occurs. Auditorium revenue is charged to Live Nation on a monthly basis and is recognized as the performance obligation is satisfied or at the end of the service period. The performance obligation is met when services are performed and/or when expenses are incurred.

Collection of books and nonvaluable contributions – The Foundation library contains a book collection of approximately 10,000 volumes. The collection includes approximately 8,500 works on Masonic and related philosophic topics and nearly 1,500 non-Masonic volumes, including historical, religious, scientific, political, and biographical works. Fewer than 50 works in the collection could be considered rare. The Foundation Museum collection contains donated items from the membership of The Masonic Fraternity in California and elsewhere. Artifacts in the collection include works of art, Masonic regalia, and numerous historical pieces. The Foundation does not recognize books and nonvaluable contributions in its consolidated financial statements. The Foundation does not recognize these assets as contributions, as they are protected and preserved, held for public exhibition, and subject to an organizational policy that requires proceeds from the sale of collection items to be used to acquire other items for collections. Accessions and deaccessions of books and nonvaluable contributions during 2022 and 2021 were not significant.

California Masonic Foundation
Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

Concentration of credit risk – Financial instruments potentially subjecting the Foundation to concentrations of credit risk consist primarily of bank demand deposits in excess of Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation ("FDIC") insurance thresholds, cash held in money market accounts in excess of the amounts insured by the U.S. Treasury insurance for money market funds, and various debt and equity investments in excess of Securities Investor Protection Corporation ("SIPC") insurance. Demand deposits are placed with a local financial institution, and management has not experienced any loss related to these demand deposits in the past. If any of the financial institutions with whom the Foundation does business were to be placed into receivership with the FDIC, the Foundation may be unable to access the cash they have on deposit with such institutions. If the Foundation was unable to access its cash and cash equivalents as needed, the Foundation's financial position and ability to operate its business could be adversely affected. The Foundation has not experienced any losses in such accounts, and management believes it is not exposed to any significant credit risk on cash and investments. Investment securities are exposed to various risks, such as interest rate, market, and credit risks. It is at least reasonably possible, given the level of risk associated with investment securities, that changes in the near term could materially affect the amount reported in the consolidated financial statements. The risk associated with the investments is mitigated through diversification.

New accounting pronouncements – During 2022, the Organization adopted the FASB issued Accounting Standards Update ("ASU") No. 2020-07, Not-For-Profit Entities (Topic 958): Presentation and Disclosures by Not-For-Profit Entities for Contributed Nonfinancial Assets, which increases the transparency of contributed nonfinancial assets for not-for-profit organizations through enhancements to presentation and disclosure. The update addresses certain stakeholders' concerns about the lack of transparency about the measurement of contributed nonfinancial assets recognized by not-for-profit organizations, as well as the amount of those contributions used in a not-for-profit organization's programs and other activities. This update is effective for fiscal years beginning after June 15, 2021, with early adoption permitted. The adoption did not have a material impact on the Organization's consolidated financial statements.

In 2016, the FASB issued ASU No. 2016-02, Leases (Topic 842), which simplifies the presentation of leases by recognizing lease assets and lease liabilities on the statement of financial position and disclosing key information about leasing arrangements. This pronouncement is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2021. Management is currently evaluating the impact of adoption on the consolidated financial statements, which will be effective for the Organization for fiscal year 2023.

In March 2020, the FASB issued ASU No. 2020-04, Reference Rate Reform (Topic 848): Facilitation of the Effects of Reference Rate Reform on Financial Reporting, to provide guidance and ease potential burden in accounting for (or recognizing the effects of) reference rate reform on financial report stemming from the cessation of the London Interbank Offered Rate ("LIBOR"). This update is as of March 12, 2020, through December 31, 2022. In December 2022, the FASB issued ASU No. 2022-06, Reference Rate Reform (Topic 848): Deferral of the Sunset Date of Topic 848, deferring ASU No. 2020-04 through December 2024. Management is currently evaluating the impact of the provisions of the pronouncement on the consolidated financial statements.

Contingencies and commitments – In March 2020, the World Health Organization declared the novel coronavirus (COVID-19) a global pandemic and recommended containment and mitigation measures worldwide. The Organization's operations are located in California, which has restricted gatherings of people due to the COVID-19 outbreak. masonsThe Organization will continue to monitor the situation closely, but given the uncertainty about the ongoing situation, an estimate of the impact to the consolidated financial statements cannot be made at this time.

In March 2021, conflict between Russia and Ukraine began, which has led to global sanctions being placed against Russian entities. The Organization holds investments with holdings in Russian assets and may experience losses against those assets. Given the dynamic nature and uncertainty of the circumstances, an estimate of the impact on the consolidated financial statements cannot be made at this time.

ASC 820, Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures, defines fair value as the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. ASC 820 also establishes a fair value hierarchy that requires an entity to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs when measuring fair value. The standard describes three levels of inputs that may be used to measure fair value:

Level 1 – Quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities

Level 2 – Observable inputs other than Level 1 prices, such as quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities; quoted prices in markets that are not active; or other inputs that are observable or can be corroborated by observable market data for substantially the full term of the assets or liabilities

Level 3 – Unobservable inputs that are supported by little or no market activity and that are significant to the fair value of the assets or liabilities

Following is a description of the valuation methodologies used for instruments measured at fair value on a recurring basis and recognized in the accompanying consolidated financial statements, as well as the general classification of such instruments pursuant to the valuation hierarchy:

Corporate stocks/mutual funds – Where quoted market prices are available in an active market, securities are classified within Level 1 of the valuation hierarchy. Level 1 securities include exchange traded equities. If quoted market prices are not available, then fair values are estimated by using pricing models, quoted prices of securities with identical characteristics, or discounted cash flows. In certain cases, where Level 1 or Level 2 inputs are not available, securities are classified within Level 3 of the hierarchy.

Foreign stocks – This represents an investment in the Acadian Non-US All Cap Equity (USD Hedged) Fund. The fund's objective is to seek long-term capital appreciation in investing primarily in common stocks of international issuers. This will include both large- and small-cap issuers as well as opportunistic exposure to issuers in the emerging markets. Acadian uses a quantitative model to invest in all cap international value equity.

Domestic equity – These common trust funds are invested and reinvested primarily in a portfolio of equity securities with the objective of approximating as closely as practicable the capitalization-weighted total rate of return of the entire United States market for publicly traded equity securities. The criterion for selection of investments is the Dow Jones U.S. Total Stock Market Index.

Foreign equity – This category represents investments in Global Equity Long-Only Fund LP, and the Lindsell Train Global Equity Fund.

The Global Equity Long-Only Fund LP's investment objective is to invest primarily in a long-only portfolio of global equities. The Lindsell Train Global Equity Fund's primary objective is to protect the real value of clients' capital and income over time. The aim is to invest only in "exceptional" companies that have that rare ability to grow the real value of their profits and cash flows over long periods of time. The investments are spread across global markets, and the objective of the underlying funds is to provide investors with capital appreciation and dividend income, while charging a lower expense fee than traditional mutual funds.

Alternative investments

Global Macro ("Caxton Global Investment") – The Fund's objective is capital appreciation. Its principal activity is trading in the international currency, financial, commodities, and securities markets. The fund has a broad mandate to trade in all exchange and over-the-counter markets, and to trade in derivative products and other instruments. The fund pursues these activities through the investment of its capital in Caxton International Limited, a BVI business company, through Caxton Intermediate Fund L.P., a BVI international limited partnership, with the exception of certain short-term investments for cash management purposes, strategic investments, and currency-hedging transactions with respect to T-Euro Shares, T-GBP Shares, T-AUD Shares, and T-JPY Shares.

Credit Long/Short ("Caspian") – The investment objective of the Fund, the Intermediate fund, and the Master fund is to achieve long-term capital appreciation, on a favorable risk-adjusted basis, by applying a flexible and opportunistic approach to investing that involves evaluating the current attractiveness of various asset classes, including bank loans, bonds, equities, speculative investments, and cash equivalents, and investing its assets accordingly.

Broad Reach Fund – The Fund will generally focus on seeking an enhanced risk adjusted return through capital appreciation within a macro investment framework, investing primarily in global macro-opportunities with a focus on emerging markets securities and related derivatives, across the complete universe of FX, rates, credit and equity, as well as commodities. The Fund expects to utilize discretionary macro processes, systematic macro processes, and special situation macro processes, and aims to deliver returns that are agnostic to the business cycle of emerging markets.

California Masonic Foundation

Engadine Equity Fund – The Fund's primary investment focus will be long and short position in equity securities of issuers from developed markets. The Investment Manager will carry out detailed fundamental analysis and proprietary valuation assessments to construct a portfolio of high-conviction ideas, with gross and net market exposures managed carefully with the aim of generating positive returns in all market environments. The portfolio will be the result of a bottom-up analysis agnostic to sector or to geography. Both long and short positions are targeted to generate positive returns.

400 Capital Credit Opportunities Fund – The Fund seeks to achieve high absolute returns with low volatility and low correlation to traditional fixed income and equity markets by investing in credit investments across credit sectors and throughout an issuer's capital structure with a primary focus on structured credit, which includes secured and structured commercial, consumer, and corporate assets. The Fund may also pursue direct lending opportunities, including joint ventures with third parties and debt and/or equity investments in newly formed lending companies. Further, the Fund may use a variety of instruments to manage credit spread duration, interest rate duration and market volatility. The execution of the Investment Manager's strategy revolves around three core functions: (1) research and quantitative modeling, (2) portfolio and risk management, and (3) surveillance and loss mitigation.

Real Estate ("UBS TPF") – This is an investment in an actively managed core portfolio of equity real estate that seeks to provide attractive returns while limiting downside risk and has both relative and real return objectives. Its relative performance objective is to outperform the NFI-ODCE index over any given three- to five-year period. The fund's real return performance objective is to achieve at least a 5% real rate of return (i.e., inflation-adjusted return), before advisory fees, over any given three- to five-year period.

Fixed income mutual funds – This category includes the following funds: Columbus Unconstrained Bond Fund, BlackRock US TIPS, and Wellington CTF Opportunistic. These are commingled funds with an investment strategy that invests across the fixed income spectrum, including TIPS, Treasuries, investment-grade, and high-yield credit, and asset-backed securities. These funds are valued monthly.

Note 8 – Endowment Disclosures

Board interpretation of law – Interpretation of Relevant Law UPMIFA enacted by California, FMV preservation – The Board of Trustees of the California Masonic Foundation has interpreted the California Prudent Management of Institutional Funds Act ("CPMIFA") as requiring the preservation of the fair value of the original gift as of the gift date of the donor-restricted endowment funds, absent explicit donor stipulations to the contrary. As a result of this interpretation, the Foundation classifies as endowed net assets with donor restrictions: (a) the original value of gifts donated to the endowment in perpetuity, (b) the original value of subsequent gifts to the endowment, and (c) accumulations to the endowment made in accordance with the direction of the applicable donor gift instrument at the time the accumulation is added to the fund. The remaining portion of the donor-restricted endowment fund that is not classified in endowed net assets with donor restrictions is classified as net assets with or without donor restrictions until those amounts are appropriated for expenditure by the Foundation in a manner consistent with the standard of prudence prescribed by CPMIFA. In accordance with CPMIFA, the Foundation considers the following factors in making a determination to appropriate or accumulate donor-restricted endowment funds:

a. The duration and preservation of the fund

b. The purposes of the Foundation and the donor-restricted endowment fund

c. General economic conditions

d. The possible effect of inflation and deflation

e. The expected total return from income and the appreciation of investments

f. Other resources of the Foundation

g. The investment policies of the Foundation

Spending policy, investing policy, and strategy

Return objectives and risk parameters – The Foundation has adopted investment and spending policies for endowment assets that attempt to provide a predictable stream of funding to programs supported by its endowment while seeking to maintain the purchasing power of the endowment assets. Endowment assets include those assets of donor-restricted funds that the Foundation must hold in perpetuity or for a donor-specified period(s) as well as Board-designated funds. Under this policy, as approved by the Board of Trustees, the endowment assets are invested in a manner that is intended to produce results that exceed the price and yield results of various market benchmarks appropriate to the investment classes utilized while assuming a moderate level of investment risk. The Foundation expects its endowment funds, over time, to provide an average rate of return of approximately 6.5% to 7.0% annually. Actual returns in any given year may vary from this amount.

California Masonic Foundation
Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

Strategies employed for achieving objectives – To satisfy its long-term rate-of-return objectives, the Foundation relies on a total return strategy in which investment returns are achieved through both capital appreciation (realized and unrealized) and current yield (interest and dividends). The Foundation targets a diversified asset allocation that places a greater emphasis on equity-based investments to achieve its long-term return objectives within prudent risk constraints.

Spending policy and how the investment objectives relate to spending policy – The Foundation had a past policy of appropriating for distribution 4.50% to 5.00% of its endowment fund's average fair value over the prior 20 quarters through the calendar year-end preceding the fiscal year in which the distribution is planned. In establishing this policy, the Foundation considered the long-term expected return on its endowment. Accordingly, over the long term, the Foundation expects the current spending policy to allow its endowment to grow at an average of 2.00% annually. This is consistent with the Foundation's objective to maintain the purchasing power of the endowment assets held in perpetuity or for a specified term, as well as to provide additional real growth through new gifts and investment return.

Note 11 – Subsequent Events

Subsequent events are events or transactions that occur after the consolidated statement of financial position date but before consolidated financial statements are available to be issued.
